Address of the Grand Orator

(Docket No. 1)

The Grand Master presented James E. Vann, Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, who delivered the following oration:

Most Worshipful Grand Master and Brethren:

Words are inadequate to express to my dear friend and brother, the grand master, Most Worshipful Bill Mathis, my deepest, most heartfelt gratitude for the high honor he has accorded me by selecting me as grand orator for our beloved Grand Lodge of North Carolina. I can imagine no greater privilege than to be invited to come here and be part of these proceedings.

I am doubly honored and humbled by the fact that as grand orator, I am following in the footsteps of such outstanding Masons as: Sam Ervin, PGMs Boyd Hopkins, Bill Simpson, and Bill Bundy, Jesse Helms, Lacy Thornburg, Jim Martin, and Bros Lane Brown, Bob Pugh, Bob Safrit, and many, many others. What a grand and glorious group to join. I am honest and candid, and I will admit that I have long desired to be the Grand Orator, and this is my time. I have heard almost everyone of them since 1960, and each has excited in me a yearning to stand where I am today and speak on what I believe Masons are about, or should be about.

Then, though, when the opportunity became mine, I began to fear it, and I've never been a man to be afraid. When I realized the awesome responsibility of saying to you something to justify your time in listening, I came to the conclusion that it is, indeed, a truly, formidable task.

Speaking of oratory, I want to share a bit of humor with you from our Senator and Brother, Jesse Helms, when he was Grand Orator. It was appropriate then, and it is equally appropos today.

It seems that in his first race for the Senate, in 1972, he was making a speech in the mountains of North Carolina, drumming up votes for himself, an unknown radio and TV fellow from Raleigh. He made a terrible speech, and, afterwards, a little man walked up to Bro. Helms, looked him square in the eyes, and said: "That was the worst speech I ever heard in my life."

That made Bro. Helms uncomfortable, until the next man in line grabbed his hand and said: "Mr. Helms, don't let Elmer bother you — he sort of the town character and a little bit touched in the head. All he does is run around repeating what he hears other people say."

I hope that the Elmers of this world will hear good things only about this speech.

Perhaps all of us, on occasion, tend to take for granted the greatness of Freemasonry. But the longer I live, the more persuaded I become that we are part of something that was divinely inspired not merely a fraternity committed to the principles of morality that deserve to survive the devastation of the ages, not merely a brotherhood that binds us together in times of joy or times of sorrow and adversity (as we find ourselves now), but a spirit — a spirit eternally searching for freedom, truth, justice, right, honor, and dignity.

So I come to you today, not only with gratitude for the joy of being one of you, but also with a prayer of thanksgiving for what we are, for what we do, for what we represent, for the impact that we Masons have upon our state, nation, and world. I come to you to thank you for where you have been and to thank you for where you are going.

I come to you with no pretense that I am an orator, let alone a grand orator. I come to you as your brother and as your friend.

And I come today to invite you to take a trip with me...

And, oh, the places you'll go!

Earlier this year, Brothers Andy Drenkhahn, Roy Whitmire and I went to St. Louis, Missouri to attend a national meeting of Masons who had been or are in one of the uniformed services of the United States or are honorary members.

At the conclusion of the meeting, we had the opportunity to travel downtown to the magnificent arch, the Gateway to the West. It is truly an inspiring, architectural feat, in its beauty and majesty. Under the arch and underground is an equally magnificent museum, depicting the magnificent and inspiring history of the westward movement of our great nation.

Of particular interest is the outstanding exhibit of Brothers Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, twenty-nine and a thirtythree years old, respectively, leading a small cadre of men, an expedition, sent by President Jefferson, to open up the West.

After two years of battling nearly insurmountable problems — Lewis and Clark and their party reached the headwaters of the Missouri River. The advanced scouting reports led them to believe that once they reached the Continental Divide, they would then have only a half-day trip to the waters of the Columbia River, down which they would float safely to the Pacific Ocean. The hard part was behind them or so they thought.

Meriwether Lewis left the rest of the party behind him to climb the bluffs, so that he could see the other side.

He was bursting with enthusiasm. He was sure that when he looked over the bluffs, he would see the waters that would carry them the rest of the way.

Imagine what he felt when, rather than seeing a gentle, sloping valley, he gazed upon the majestic, rugged, and mammoth Rocky Mountains! And in doing so, he became the first non-Native American to see those immense peaks.

What do we do when we think our biggest problems are behind us, only to find out that we have just been warming up? How do we rally the troops?

I envision Meriwether Lewis motioning the rest of his party to stay where they were a while longer, while he tries to figure out how to break the news to them.

"Hang on a minute, men. Don't come up here yet. I have a little surprise for you."

Eventually, the crossing of the Rocky Mountains would become the supreme achievement of the entire trip, for it would bring out from each of them enormous courage and perseverance. It would lead them to spectacular sights and unforgettable memories, and it would develop in each of them tremendous confidence... because when they had conquered the Rocky Mountains, they knew that they could then conquer anything.

But, being on the East side of the Rockies, they could not know any of that yet. All they knew was that when they were hoping for a downstream ride, they had to climb the highest mountains.

And this, my brothers, seems like the perfect story with which to begin this oration on this the 28th day of September, 2001, when, after 214 years of continuous service, this Grand Lodge finds itself embroiled in quarrelsome arguments between brothers, involved in disputes between brothers who have become so caught up in their own positions that they tend to forget their promises to whisper wise counsel in the ear of erring brothers, not to speak evil of their good names, and to aid, support and protect each other.

The great American preacher, Phillips Brooks, the same man who wrote the beloved carol we sing at Christmas, "O Little Town of Bethlehem", also wrote this:

"You who are keeping wretched quarrels alive, you who are letting miserable misunderstandings run on from year to year, you who are passing people in the mall, or in church, (and we could add, in the lodge), not speaking to them out of silly spite, you who are letting parent's or friend's (and, again, we might add, brother's) hearts ache for the want of a word of appreciation... if only you knew that time is short, how it would break the spell, how it would enable you to sacrifice your pride and do the thing which you may never have another chance to do."

Couple this sentiment with the fact that only seventeen days ago, this country suffered the most devastating enemy attack ever upon our native land. These are, indeed, the times that try men's souls!

As I gaze out upon a room full of Masonic brothers, looking at a temple full of men who have solemnly sworn to practice friendship, morality, and brotherly love, I take double pride in the fact that not only am I a Mason, I am also an American, and I stand shoulder to shoulder united with men of every country, sect, and opinion, with all who encourage all that is good, kind, and charitable and reprove all that vicious, cruel, and oppressive.

And so, on this day, with so many opportunities and so many challenges presenting themselves to Masonry, like Meriwether Lewis, I feel a sense of excitement and anticipation as you and I stand one step away from looking over the bluff, and as we take the next step forward, we can see that although we have climbed one mountain, a whole range of mountains looms before us.

I see Lewis and Clark... I see all of us gathered here today at this Grand Lodge Annual Communication... and I see every Mason everywhere... in the same boat this morning... asking the same questions:

Where do we go from here? What do we do from here? How do we go on from here? Why do we go on from here? What is the purpose of our going forward?

Today is a day about journeys... a day about mountains... a day about seeing challenges as opportunities... a day about new beginnings for all of us Masons.

And it is a day about God's place in them all. It is a day...to quote Kurt Vonnegut... about "going with God."

As I worked my way through this oration and pondered what it might mean to "go with God", I found myself reflecting on one of my favorite Dr. Seuss books, entitled, Oh, The Places You'll Go! It is written for adults, and it is certainly applicable to each of us today. It is excellent reading and appropriate teaching, with interspersed reality.

Listen to this excerpt from the middle of the book, which explains the basis for the whole book, as well as its title:

Oh, The Places You'll Go!

You'll be on your way up! You'll be seeing great sights! You'll join the high fliers who soar to high heights. You won't lag behind, because you'll have the speed. You'll pass the whole gang and you'll soon take the lead. Wherever you fly, you'll be best of the best. Wherever you go, you will top all the rest. Except when you don't. Because, sometimes... you won't. I'm sorry to say so, But sadly it's true That bang-ups and Hang-ups can happen to you. You can get all hung up in a prickly perch. And your gang will fly on. You'll be left in the lurch You'll come down from the lurch with an unpleasant bump. And the chances are, then, that you'll be in a slump. And when you're in a slump... you're not in for much fun For un-slumping yourself is not easily done. You will come to a place where the streets are not marked. Some windows are lighted... but mostly they're darked. (It's) a place you could sprain both your elbow and chin! Do you dare stay out? Do you dare to go in? How much can you lose? How much can you win? And IF you go in, should you turn left or right Or right-and-three-quarters? Or maybe, not quite? Or go around hack and sneak in from behind? Simple, it's not, I'm afraid you will find, For a mind-maker-upper to make up his mind.

You can get so confused that you'll start in to race

Down long waffled road at a break-necking pace...

And grind on for miles across weirdish wild space...

Headed, I fear, toward what feels like a most useless place.

The Waiting Place....

For people... waiting.

Waiting for a train to go... or a bus to come... or a plane to go

Or the mail to come... or the rain to go...

Or the phone to ring... or the snow to snow...

Or waiting around for a Yes or a No.

Or waiting for their hair to grow.

Everyone is just waiting.

Waiting for the fish to bite... or waiting for the wind to fly a kite...

Or waiting around for Friday night...

Or waiting, perhaps, for their Uncle Jake, or a pot to boil... or a better break

Or a string of pearls, or a pair of paints, or a wig with curls, or Another Chance.

Everyone is just... waiting.

My Brothers, it is that Waiting Place that this Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons finds itself today.

We are waiting to see how we deal with the fundamental issues of real brotherhood.

We are waiting to see how we will deal with the whole notion of sovereignty.

We are waiting to see if Masonry will adjust it's long-held precepts in order to accommodate today's ethics and morality.

We are waiting to see if every moral and social virtue will cement us into one sacred band, or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention should ever exist.

We are waiting to see if we truly believe that every human being has a claim upon our kind offices, and that we are to do good unto all.

We are waiting to see if brotherly love will truly prevail among us.

We are waiting to see if we will truly abide by and stand to the obligations taken at the sacred altar of Freemasonry, with our hands upon the Holy Bible, square and compasses.

And so, we wait, and we wait, and we wait.

Oh, the places we Masons will go, and the things we can do, and the problems we can solve and the accomplishments we Masons can make when we are gripped by the power and the presence of the Supreme Architect of the Universe.

My Brothers, it is only with faith in the Divine Creator and obedience to his will that we will ever be able to solve any problem, to meet any disaster, to withstand any calamity, to make any sound decision.

"Our help is in the name of the Lord, who make heaven and earth"

And that power, that help that comes in the form of Lewis and Clark's undaunted courage conquering mountains that they did not know were there, is the same power of God, my brothers, that I ask us to open ourselves to on this 28th Day of September, 2001.

It is that power of the Great Artificer that enables Masons... twenty-one year olds... and four-score and-ten year-olds... and two hundred year old lodges to stand with faith and courage... Understanding that we are not protected from all harm or even death... but rather we are given the power to face every situation in our lives with the knowledge that God walks with us and works through us as members of this great brotherhood.

Do you know how difficult it would be for me to stand here before you if I didn't believe in this power of Deity?

Most Lodge meetings appear (and I underscore appear... because appearances can be deceiving) that all of us leave there in the same condition as we came in. Occasionally, though... I see glimpses of the power of real Masonry at work

- ... in brothers who are taken hold of by a power not of their own and face cancer with the quiet confidence that whatever happens, they are at peace
- ... in brothers who are taken hold of by a power not of their own and manage to stay within due bounds
- ... of brothers who are taken hold of by a power not of their own and find a way through heartache and tragedy in their family
- \dots or of brothers who recognize that all men are created equal in the eyes of $\operatorname{God}\nolimits.$

What has occurred to me these past few days... and now as I stand on this stage at the Grand Lodge Annual Communication is the profound reality... and the peace that accompanies it... that I have very little idea specifically where this Grand Lodge is headed ... and that, quite possibly, could be the way God wants it.

And so, as I look out among you this morning... looking at some of you who are newlymade Master Masons... looking at some of you who are facing challenges of life and faith that look and feel like the Rocky Mountains... looking at some of you who say to yourselves... "What is my purpose in life? Where do I fit in?"

Looking at some of you who feel as though your best days have passed; today, I have but one prayer for you:

... That the Supreme Architect of the Universe might take hold of your life... That something outside yourselves... a power not of your own... will change you forever... A power that will disrupt you ... comfort you... and empower you... as you travel the path towards the One Who Reigns Supreme.

It is time for us to seek the face of Almighty God in prayer about where he wants us involved in the work of His kingdom through this beloved and revered fraternity.

Every day of my life, I struggle with the ideals of our fraternity and our practice of the same. And, I would have left the fraternity long ago were it not for the unfaltering belief that eventually good will triumph over evil. Throughout history, it has always been so, because the Grand Architect has always been on the side of goodness.

I believe that after the struggle, the pieces that are left will be more perfect than before, and we will be able to build a temple of friendship, morality, and brotherly love that will truly be the universal foundation of our beloved fraternity.

And so, my brothers, I present to you, and to each of you, these words by Longfellow, which I fervently hope you will listen to carefully and take them unto yourselves:

A Psalm of Life

Tell me not, in mournful numbers, Life is but an empty dream! For the soul is dead that slumbers And things are not what they seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest! And the grave is not its goal; Dust thou art, to dust returnest, Was not spoken of the soul.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow, Is our destined end or way; But to act that each tomorrow Fins us farther than today.

Art is long, and Time is fleeting, And our hearts, though stout and brave, Still, like muffled drums, are beating Funeral marches to the grave.

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of Life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle!
Be a hero in the strife!

Trust no Future, howe'er pleasant! Let the dead Past bury its dead! Act, — act in the living Present! Heart within, and God o'erhead!

Lives of all great men remind us We can make our lives sublime, And, departing, leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time: Footprints, that perhaps another, Sailing o'er life's solemn main, A forlorn and shipwrecked brother, Seeing, shall take heart again.

Let us, then, be up and doing, With a heart for any fate; Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait.

Again, we find ourselves at The Waiting Place, and my prayer for you and for every Mason wherever he might be... is that we might be gripped by the power, the presence, and the purpose of Freemasonry in its truest form... so that wherever we go and whatever we do... we will change the world for better and for God.

God Bless You and God Bless America!

James E. Vann, Grand Orator

Report of the Auditor

(Docket No. 4)

The following report of David Scobie, Certified Public Accountant, Auditor, was received, entered on the record, and referred to the Committee on Finance. To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of The Grand Lodge of AF & AM of North Carolina (Grand Lodge) as of December 31, 2000 and 1999, and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position, of the Grand Lodge as of December 31, 2000 and 1999, and the activities and changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Respectfully submitted, David E. Scobie, Grand Lodge Accountant

Report of the Committee on Permanent Building

(Docket No. 6)

The following report of the Committee on Permanent Building was received, entered on the record, and referred to the Committee on Finance:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Our Committee has worked all year to see that the home of your Grand Lodge is maintained well and your asset is enhanced. We have made some minor cosmetic paint and wallpaper refurbishment and continue to review the interior walls, carpet, ceilings and hardfloors.

A major portion on the HVAC system is in need of replacement. We believe that our cooling system will soon fail, due to its age. We are reviewing this situation with local mechanical contractors to obtain the best and most economical solution to this project.

We anticipate that in the spring of 2002, we will begin our plan of replacement of our asphalt parking lot in some areas.

Your Board of General Purposes has authorized us to proceed with a certified appraisal of the value of our Glenwood Avenue property. This will give us a great overview of this excellent asset of your Grand Lodge.

Respectfully submitted, E. John Elmore, Chairman

Report of the Committee on Disaster Relief

(Docket No. 8)

The following report of the Committee on Disaster Relief was received and entered on the record:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Your Committee on Disaster Relief has met numerous times since the floods of Hurricane Floyd devastated eastern North Carolina. The Grand Master reappointed this committee which consist of PGM Clifton W. Everett Jr., grand treasurer; Leonard Y. Safrit Jr., junior grand warden; Gene T. Jernigan, grand marshal; Dan Rice, grand steward; and T. Walton Clapp III, grand secretary. The work of the committee has diminished greatly since 1999. This committee did consider cases involving Grifton Lodge No. 243 and Enfield Scottish Rite building.

Grifton Lodge No. 243 was totally devastated from the flood. The building shell was the only part to be recovered. The lodge, assisted by Masons from across the state, rebuilt their facility. They have reconstructed a beautiful lodge room and are proud of the work accomplishments. The committee voted to send a contribution of $2,500.

Enfield Scottish Rite requested assistance due to the floods in Enfield. The committee studied the scope of work required on the building from flood and neglect. It also reviewed their efforts to contact the membership of their valley for soliciting contributions. Since Enfield Lodge No. 447 meets in this building, the committee voted to send a contribution of $5,000.

Respectfully submitted, Clifton W. Everett Jr., PGM

Report of the Administrator Masonic and Eastern Star Home of North Carolina, Inc.

(Docket No. 13)

The following report of John A. Rose, Administrator of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, Inc. was received, entered on the record, and referred to the Board of Directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Thank you for receiving this, my eighth report to the Grand Lodge of North Carolina. This report will concentrate on what has happened during this current year and the last full Masonic Year. Fiscal Year 2001 follows an abbreviated Masonic year. This new Masonic Year will allow us to report valid and audited results rather than projections.

Fiscal Year 2001 marked the beginning of a new millennium The Masonic and Eastern Star Home of North Carolina (MESH) and the Masonic Home for Children in Oxford, with permission of the Board of Directors, sponsored the 71st annual conference of the Masonic Homes Executives' Association of North America. The conference was held in Greensboro, North Carolina, from June 22 through June 27, 2001. The theme of the conference was "Old Dreams-New Visions" and the curriculum centered on the concept of "Home" versus "Institution". The 230 registrants included 90 executives and staff, 56 members of boards of directors, and 84 spouses and guests who attended nine seminar sessions. From 24 grand jurisdictions between California and North Carolina, Florida and Connecticut, came thirty-five Masonic and Eastern Star Homes, including four homes for children. North Carolina clearly is a leader in true charitable care among Masonic homes in America. Many of our leaders in North Carolina were instructors in this conference. William Mathis, grand master, and Marge Hudson, newly installed worthy grand matron, gave the keynote address for the opening ceremonies of this event. Charles A. Lewis, senior grand warden, and William L. Mills III were speakers for the event. A highlight of the conference was the welcome address by Lucile Hunt, a 100-year-old resident of MESH, who had just celebrated her birthday.

The MESH business plan includes a program where the bar is raised for all residents of the Home. This is done, in part, through alternate admission systems for which residents can apply for modern accommodations. Through this system, applicants are given incentive to apply earlier before assets are consumed and at a time when they can most enjoy their retirement years. To be a retirement option for many people, the Home must improve the services it offers to all residents, thus "raising the bar".

This fiscal year marked the beginning of a new era in resident living at MESH. Although MESH began construction on ten new patio homes, the 23rd house is under construction, with a change order being issued for at least two more. Based upon a study of aging in our fraternity, we believe there are clearly three waves or groups who will be interested in these houses. Although MESH is underwriting nearly $800,000 for this first phase, those funds are returned upon admission of the second occupants of each house. In the third occupancy, much of the entrance fees go to the bottom line of MESH. In sum, this project not only pays for itself, but also brings important future revenues to MESH.

The MESH Care and Wellness Center, has been approved for Medicare certification. This, too, has brought important new revenues to the Home to help us keep up with the rising costs of nursing services. For a variety of reasons ranging from a continuing deficit to protecting the Home's tax-exempt status, MESH has entered into an agreement with the Greensboro Health Network (GHN) where, within a fixed vacancy, GHN patients can receive temporary nursing services in our nursing home. This has done much to "uncircle the wagons" of MESH and bring a very favorable opinion among those who would have remained at a perpetual distance.

MESH, at one time in its history, was located in the country. Today, the city of Greensboro has engulfed our retirement home. It is a prudent action to improve our perimeter security and add a security kiosk at the entrance to our Home. The brethren should understand that a Masonic dues card not only assures admission to your charity in Greensboro, it is the best form of long-term care assurance. At this writing, an attractive and homey security kiosk is under construction, and consideration is being given to new fencing and alternatives to fencing.

Years ago, it was a simple thing to apply to MESH for admission. A few signatures on a few pages, together with a handshake, was all it took. Today, because of regulations to control those who would take advantage of the elderly, applying for a continuing care retirement community has become a tedious and confusing process. For this reason MESH has promoted Mrs. Donna Loman to a new position of Fraternal Assistance Coordinator [FAC]. The FAC actually travels to the applicants for charitable services, visits them in their homes, assists them with the application, and coordinates with the sponsoring lodges. This process also helps identify and resolve, if necessary, potential problems before they arise.

MESH is an active participant with the Masonic Home for Children and the Jones Masonic Campus (JMC) in Swansboro, NC. I serve as a Board member and treasurer of JMC, along with David Grissom, who is a Board member and secretary. There is much to be done in this joint venture. A recent marketing survey suggests a healthy market and need for a retirement community in both eastern and in western North Carolina. With respect to JMC, we have the property thanks to Brother and Mrs. John R. Jones. We have a rough plan. We have employed an administrator and constructed a house for him. Brother Bryan Lassiter will begin his duties on August 1, 2001.

MESH is more than just a retirement community, it is, in large measure, a tangible part of our obligation. The following are more than numbers, but a measurable part of our commitment to aid and assist our distressed brethren and their wives, mothers, sisters, daughters, and widows.

By year-end, 2001, the population of MESH is anticipated to increase to 230 residents. As predicted, the numbers of eligible beneficiaries (those eligible persons over the age of 65) will have a direct correlation to the population of MESH.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS:

I would like to commend Brother Walt Clapp and the wonderful staffing the Grand Lodge Office. These people do much to help MESH with its need for order and organization, as well as, our liaison with the fraternity. I would also like to thank Ric Carter, Editor of the North Carolina Mason. Ric has been an efficient and effective resource to uncircle the MESH wagons and connect with the fraternal members who love this Home.

I would be remiss not to mention the chairman of the MESH Board of Directors, William G. Mathis. This Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina has brought a soft and gentle morality to the table, along with an admirable firmness and resolve. Brother Mathis loves the Masonic Charities of North Carolina. He is not content to have our charities sup at a public trough. He wants the Homes to have access to the support to which it is entitled while the fraternity continues to serve from a warm heart.

Lastly, I wish to thank those who love and serve this Masonic Home. You are the rare people who understand that we are all children of God, just some older than others.

Fraternally and respectfully submitted, John A. Rose, Administrator Masonic and Eastern Star Home

Report of the Board of Directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home of North Carolina, Inc.

(Docket No. 14)

The following report of the Board of Directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home was received and entered on the record:

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

During this Masonic year, the Board of Directors convened regular quarterly meetings in February, May, August, and is scheduled to meet in November.

The Board of Directors is comprised of 20 qualified members of whom 12 are Masons and 8 are members of the Eastern Star. The Grand Master serves as chairman. The deputy grand master and senior grand warden are members by virtue of their position. The other Masonic members are appointed by the grand master and elected by the voting members of Grand Lodge at the annual communication.

The many important responsibilities of the Board are directed through committees and, when necessary, ad hoc committees. Standing committees are instrumental in maintaining efficient and effective operations of your Masonic and Eastern Star Home. These committees include Admissions, Personnel, Finance, Buildings and Grounds, Real Estate, Long Range Planning, and the Investment Committee.

One ad-hoc Construction Committee continues its important work of directing and overseeing the current Independent Living expansion project.

The Board of Directors receives regular reports from the administrator that relate to the daily operations of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home.

We are pleased with the Home's activities during 2001. As reported last year, the rising costs inherent with labor and health care make it imperative that we continue to study economies, efficiencies, and revenue sources in order to keep the operating budget under control. MESH has plowed realized savings back into the Home's resident care program to achieve an improvement in our residents' quality of care and life. We have reached a point where these efficiencies are more difficult to realize and our keen attention must be on existing and new revenue sources.

One pressure point has been the stock market. The market has been unkind to the MESH portfolio during the last year. Nevertheless, the North Carolina Masonic Foundation has done an admirable job of investing the small MESH funds.

When one takes a "macro-view" of MESH and its small portfolio, it is impressive to see that seven years ago the MESH had approximately $9.5 million. Today, after construction of a $6.0 million Care and Wellness Center, after necessary staff increases and becoming competitive with our wages and salaries, and after a $3.4 million expansion of our independent living village, we still have a $9.5 million fund. This is so even after a sharp downturn in the market. We are anxious to see the market improve.

This is the first year of the newly defined Grand Lodge fiscal year. Being based upon the calendar year allows a more accurate financial report based upon data that has been audited. The following information reports and compares financial information between FY 1999 and 2000. The fiscal year 2001 audit report may be available in time for inclusion in the 2001 Proceedings of the Grand Lodge.

The Board of Directors of MESH were proud and pleased to act as host of the 71* Annual Conference of the Masonic Homes Executives' Association of North America. The conference was held in Greensboro, North Carolina from June 22 through June 27, 2001. More than 200 registrants came from 35 Masonic Homes and 24 grand jurisdictions. North Carolina clearly is a leader in true charitable care among Masonic Homes in America. Many of our leaders in North Carolina functions as instructors in this conference. The Board was pleased that William Mathis, grand master, and Marge Hudson, newly installed worthy grand matron gave the keynote address.

The MESH Board of Directors is also pleased to watch its business plan develop as hoped. We are watching the bar of services being raised for all residents of the Home. The business plan included alternate admission systems that give applicants incentive to apply earlier before assets are consumed and when they can better enjoy their retirement.

The Board is pleased to report the exciting acceptance of the new patio homes, the 23rd of which is under construction. In the future, this program will repay the early investments and bring additional revenue to MESH. The question now before the Board is whether we can reliably predict the extent of that future revenue and use it immediately and bring our remaining older housing accommodations closer to those needed and desired by today's elderly.

The business plan also unfolded as anticipated in the approval of our Care and Wellness Center for Medicare certification. This bold action will bring long awaited entitlement revenue to the Home.

The Long Range Plan for MESH includes razing the old Care Center and replacing it with a modern residential and assisted living accommodation that includes studios and apartment with private bathroom and bathing rather than rooms with shared bathing. In the interim, MESH has made good use of the old Care Center by leasing it temporarily to the Blumenthal Jewish Home while that Home follows our example with a new Center in Greensboro. This one single act has done much to give MESH very favorable public opinion in our communities.

The Board of Directors has entered into an agreement with the Greensboro Health Network (GHN) and is allowing GHN patients to receive temporary nursing services in our nursing home. As our administrator, Brother Rose says, "This has done much to 'uncircle the wagons' of MESH and bring a very favorable opinion among those who would have remained at a perpetual distance." The Board of Directors also takes note that this will help protect the tax-exempt status of our Home.

There being less emphasis on the new Care and Wellness Center, market influences, less support from wills, estates and legacies, and there being no distribution from the Ruck Endowment Fund as anticipated resulted in revenue being down by 5.72% over the previous year.

Expenses increased by 22%. This is due to increased health care costs of caring for more frail nursing home patients, and preparations for the serving a new group of residents in an expanded Independent Living village.

These additional costs in FY 2000 may be viewed as an investment. Additional revenue will result from the new accommodations in fiscal year 2001. At this writing, the population of MESH is 223. This is well on the way to an increase of as much as 30% in fiscal year 2001, indicating an improved efficiency.

Conclusion:

Each resident served in your Masonic and Eastern Star Home represents more than a name. Each contribution and dollar spent represents more than money. Your Home is tangible evidence of the extent to which Masons and Eastern Star members accept their obligation. Charity is love and your continued love is needed.

On behalf of your Board of Directors, thank you for your continued attention to this, one of the purest forms of charity that can be found. The Bible reminds us to plead the widow's cause and to visit the fatherless in their affliction. What better example is there than our Masonic Charities.

The Board of Directors Masonic and Eastern Star Home of NC, Inc.

Report of the Committee on The Masonic and Eastern Star Home

(Docket No. 15)

The following report of the Committee on the Masonic and Eastern Star Home was received, entered on the record, and referred to the Board of Directors of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home:

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Pursuant to Regulation 34-17 of The Code of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, the committee personally visited the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, herein MESH, on July 18, 2001. During our visit to MESH, we toured and inspected the campus, examined management reports and performed an overall evaluation of the operation of our Home. Committee members present were Cleo Haase, Tony L. Grigg, J. Bradley Teague, and Gene T. Jernigan, junior grand deacon, chairman.

The committee arrived on campus prior to lunch and met in the conference room of our new Care and Wellness Center, herein CWC, with Brother John A. Rose, administrator of MESH. Brother David R. Cash, junior grand steward, was visiting MESH. He was invited to sit-in with the committee and asked to open the meeting with prayer. After a discussion of our mission by the chairman, Brother Rose was asked to give a brief orientation and update on happenings at MESH.

The committee reviewed and discussed the operating budget of MESH which is now in excess of $6.3 million, and examined the revenue sources that fund the operation of our home. Special notice was given to the improved financial condition of our home both in terms of total assets with the construction of the CWC and the efficiencies realized from its operation and the growth of our endowment, as the Masonic Foundation has continued to do an excellent job, even in view of the downturn in market conditions. The favorable effects on the operating budget of MESH caused by the lease of the unoccupied Bass Care Center to the Blumenthal Jewish Home was noted by the committee. Additionally, our home has received very favorable goodwill the community as we have reached out to help a sister facility while their new home is under construction.

The committee reviewed the most recent report of the Long Range Planning Committee and applauds the Board of Directors of MESH for its foresight in adopting the "non-assigned asset admission system" (NAAS). The campus is still abuzz with construction crews as work continues on the 25 independent living homes (maximum of 50 to be constructed) that are either occupied or presently under construction. These beautiful homes have greatly enhanced the attractiveness of our campus and will greatly reshape the financial structure of MESH in the years to come as the residents of these houses are contributing more toward their cost of care under the NAAS, whereas, under the old assigned asset admission system, residents contribute approximately half these costs.

The committee noted the need for continued study and planning relative to renovations needed in Linville and Setzer Buildings as well as the Bass Care Center. It is very apparent that the "Age in Place" program being utilized at MESH has generated additional operating efficiencies and we should continue to strive to improve our facilities with the goal of providing the very best accommodations and the finest health care possible.

The committee reviewed an eleven-year comparison of Masonic philanthropy to our North Carolina Masonic Charities. Even as total gift support to our charities has grown nearly two fold, there remains a continued need for increased giving. The Development Director of the North Carolina Masonic Foundation has done and continues to do an outstanding job in promoting our charities; however, additional gifts are needed. Brethren, we have such gifts to give. We can do this without much effort. Study of this MESH report revealed that an additional gift of only $10.00 per Mason in North Carolina would eliminate the budgeted operating deficit of MESH.

The committee enjoyed a delicious lunch in the main dining room with our residents. During lunch, Chef Ronald Leroux talked with us about his goals for enhancing dining service to our residents and the many improvements that had been made in food service during his tenure at MESH. There will be increased and varying demands on the food service operation as our campus continues to grow with the addition of the independent living residents.

As financial demands upon food service increase, such as the need for waiter/waitress meal service for the residents, the administration and board are encouraged to review the cost of providing full meals to employees as an employee benefit.

During the course of our visit and tour of MESH, the committee was very impressed with the quality and friendliness of all the staff, from senior administrative personnel, nursing staff, maintenance and food service personnel — every where we went, we were greeted with a smile and a pleasant word. It was very apparent that the employees of our care facility, "truly care" and that we as Masons can truly be proud of the loving and caring environment which is embodied at MESH. Our North Carolina Masonic Charities (MESH and The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford) recently hosted the annual conference of the Masonic Homes Executives' Association of North America in Greensboro. In attending this conference and meeting executives and board members of other Masonic Homes, it is quite apparent that the Masons of North Carolina can take great pride in our charities. It was quite evident that our home is certainly the envy of many homes across the country.

Grand Lodge is to be commended for its progressive insight and vision as it has made it possible for MESH to be on the cutting edge in providing exemplary care in state-of-the-art facilities.

The committee is appreciative of the opportunity to visit the home and to learn more about its operations. We are anxious to see our home continue to be a leader and to excel in the area of caring for our older brothers and sisters.

We are pleased to offer the following recommendations for consideration.

- 1. Our Board of Directors and administration of MESH should continue to actively market the availability of underutilized beds at the home: i.e. Interim Service Plan, Greensboro Health Care Network; and mutual aid service to sojourning Masons as our home would benefit financially as well as furthering our mission of charity in the form of brotherly love and affection.
- 2. A continuing and re-doubled effort to market our home to the Masons of North Carolina to seek increased gift support to help eliminate the operating deficits.
- 3. The Board should consider combining of operational functions with the MHCO where feasible and where financial efficiencies may be realized.
- 4. A review of the results of the marketing surveys conducted regarding the interest of North Carolina Masons for additional independent living facilities in Greensboro, Jones Masonic Campus at Swansboro, Oxford, and in the western part of our state points to a strong need for our Masonic Charities to look to the future with an increased vision to seek ways and means to serve the needs of our aging Masonic population.
- 5. The dining room at MESH is an outstanding facility and with an increasing population there are physical modifications that would enhance the enjoyment of our residents. One such renovation would be the addition of a sandwich bar or short order service window that could be constructed in the staff dining area to include utilization of the enclosed garden area outside of the staff dining area.
- 6. Brother John Rose made our committee aware of a pending gift to MESH for the construction of an open air picnic shelter and assembly area. We reviewed rough drawings for the construction and looked at potential site location and we feel strongly that such an activity area would be very beneficial for the residents and that this project should be pursued.

Our committee realizes that our overview of activities of MESH were limited; however, we are confident that our home is well-managed. We feel that all the Masons of North Carolina should be very proud of this outstanding facility. We want to thank Brother John Rose and the members of his fine staff who were so very kind, courteous, and helpful during our visit to MESH.

More especially, we want to thank the staff and all of those responsible for the love and compassion that is shown daily in caring for our beloved brothers and sisters.

Finally, we want to thank each of you, the Masons of North Carolina for your generosity and financial support of our home and for your prayers daily in seeking God's continued blessings upon our Masonic charities.

Respectfully, Gene T. Jernigan, Chairman

Report of the Administrator The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

(Docket No. 16)

The following report of David R. Grissom, Administrator of The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford was received, entered on the record, and referred to the Board of Directors of The Masonic Home for Children:

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The year of 2000 presented our Masonic Home for Children with the challenges of a new century and the possibilities for a bright and progressive future Our Board of Directors has maintained that "every child is important" and if we are to grow as a "Home for Children," we must encourage our Masonic lodges and communities to recommend children in need from their area as potential students who can receive quality care from our Home. Fortunately over 8500 children from all over North Carolina have received care, love, and hope since 1873 and many of these former students have become outstanding success stories in our society. In addition, many of these same alumni joined our Masonic fraternity and Eastern Star and are still active in their Masonic lodges.

The overall operation of our Masonic Home for Children has been very productive for the year 2000. The computer project with the installation of underground cable and a T1 line for all the computers on campus has been completed. Due to the successful 2000 calendar program, we were able to supply all the 11 cottages on campus with four or five computers each and purchase additional programs for the various age levels of children.

Our Educational Program continues to be a vital part of the overall program on campus. With the assistance of tutors, volunteers, and the educational staff, the 1999-2000 school year concluded with the students on campus having a GPA (Grade Point Average) of 83 throughout the student body.

The Independent Living Program for college students continues to be very supportive and attractive to students who wish to continue their post-secondary education. The students in this program attend Vance-Granville Community College in a vocational program or college transfer program, work a part-time job and maintain an average overall C average. We are very proud of these students and for their determination to advance in their educational endeavors and learn to be independent while in this program.

The MSAP (Masonic Student Assistance Program) continues to grow and is gaining more attention and publicity throughout a number of the state's school systems. During the year 2000, five three-day sessions were held on the campus of The Masonic Home for Children with approximately 50 teachers and school administrators participating. During the year 2001, MSAP will travel to the coast and the mountains, plus we anticipate having four sessions on our campus. If any of our readers are interested in learning more about the MSAP Program for your area, please contact Mrs. Linda Atkinson, coordinator at (919) 693-5111 and she will be delighted to assist you with information or material.

The Campus Tracks Newspaper currently goes to every Masonic Lodge in our state. Some of our Masonic Lodges or individuals have chosen to join the Campus Trackers Club, and these subscribers should receive 6 or more issues of the student newspaper throughout the year. We appreciate all of those subscribers who joined the Campus Trackers Club but we especially appreciate your interest and involvement in our children as this paper is designed, compiled, and printed by the students. If anyone is interested in receiving the Campus Tracks Newspaper. please call the School of Graphic Arts on campus at (919) 693-5111 and the staff in the Printing area will be delighted to assist you.

During the year 2000, we had another outstanding St. John's Day. The attendance was excellent and our Shriners from Amran, Oasis and Sudan Temples did an excellent job for the parade and preparing the food for all participants to enjoy absolutely free. Our sincere thanks is extended to Brother Lloyd Young and the St. John's Day Committee for another great celebration and already we are looking forward to St. John's Day on June 23, 2001.

In conclusion, our Masonic Home for Children appreciates all that our Masons, alumni and friends have done for our Home during the year 2000. It is through your continued support and dedication that has enabled our Home to move forward and assist every child who is admitted to our Home.

We are grateful to Grand Master and Charles E. Cathey for your loving spirit and outstanding leadership during your period of time as chairman of our Board of Directors. We are also grateful to three of our fine Board Members who rotated off the Board of Directors at the conclusion of their three-year term of service. To Brothers Curtis Hipps. Douglas Caudle, and William Lowden, many thanks for your input and guidance and we look forward to your continued involvement in the future.

If you have questions, concerns, or comments at any time, do not hesitate to contact the Masonic Home for Children at our toll free number at 1-888-505-4357 and our staff will be delighted to assist you.

Take care, and may God bless you now and always.

Respectfully submitted, Rev. David R. Grissom, Administrator

Report of the Board of Directors of the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

(Docket No. 17)

The following report of the Board of Directors of the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford was received, and entered on the record:

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Board of Directors for the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford met according to the policy of the By-Laws, which was four times during the year 2000. One of the meetings combined the Boards from the Masonic and Eastern Star Home and The Masonic Home for Children, which was held in November in Raleigh. A special thank you is extended to our Board of Directors for The Masonic Home for Children as your guidance and input helps in maintaining quality care for all the children living on our beautiful campus.

In addition to quality care, we also stress that every child receive a quality education. Our Masonic Home maintains a strong relationship with the Granville County School System and appreciates the time and extra effort the teachers give to many of our students. To maintain open and positive communication, roundtable meetings are held quarterly to meet with school officials and Masonic Home staff to share any concerns or information that would assist our students. Our Home also continues to receive many book donations for our Watson Resource Center, which is located on the lower level of the York Rite Memorial Chapel. The extra books have given our educational staff a chance to make the library a functioning and well-used part of our campus. In fact, due to the response from our students, we have hired a part-time librarian who helps the students select books and provide a story time approximately 12 hours per week.

The college Independent Living Program on our campus continues to be a major focal point for students who wish to attend college. The majority of our students who graduate from high school and want to attend college remain on our campus and attend the local Vance-Granville Community College. If their grades are acceptable, several of the students will transfer to a four-year university or college and continue their educational endeavors after graduation from Vance-Granville.

The census on our campus is an area our Board constantly reviews. Although the population will fluctuate, we still encourage our local Masonic lodges to be sensitive to the needs of the children in their communities. If any of our Masonic lodges need material, admission applications or information about the Masonic Home and how to get a child admitted, do not hesitate to call Brother Donald Sizemore, director of admissions, at our toll-free number, 1-888-505-4357 and he will be glad to assist you or come to your lodge for a Masonic Education Program.

The Computer Project is assisting many of our students on campus. In fact, to enhance our programs, Windows 2000 and Office 2000 will be installed during the year 2000 and early 2001.

The MSAP (Masonic Student Assistance Program) has been very successful during the year 2000. A total of 53 schools were represented during the extensive three-day classes but we anticipate even more schools participating in 2001. Our Board would like to congratulate Mrs. Linda Atkinson, coordinator for MSAP, for being selected to serve on a national committee for the Student Assistance Program.

St. John's Day during June 2000 was another outstanding success. It was estimated that over 8,000 wonderful Masons, their families, alumni, and friends enjoyed a beautiful day on the campus of the Masonic Home for Children. We continue to be very grateful to all three of our active Shrine Temples, Amran, Oasis and Sudan for another tremendous parade and assisting in feeding all those participants who visited with us on this special day. A big thank you is extended to Brother Lloyd Young and the St. John's Day Committee for providing another day that will be in our memories for many years to come. Brother Lloyd has been chairman of this committee for over fifteen years and we appreciate his continued participation in this, the largest annual Masonic event in our state each year. As a reminder, the annual St. John's Day Celebration will be held on June 23, 2001 and on Saturday, June 29, 2002. Please mark your calendars as we will look forward to seeing each of you.

Throughout the year 2000, our Board of Directors carefully studied the income and expenses of each department on campus. Fortunately, we were able to stay within our budget and maintain quality care for every child on our Masonic Home for Children campus. Brother David Ford, business manager, and Mrs. Mary Helen Parrott, financial secretary, are to be commended for their work in keeping the budget checked on a daily basis. We also extend our appreciation to Mrs. Brenda Wilkins, executive secretary, for responding with letters of thanks to all the Masonic Lodges, individuals and corporations for any donations that were sent to our Home during the year 2000. We also appreciate the time and visits Brother Joey Transou, chairman of finance and his committee have given throughout the year in keeping our records up-to-date and ready for auditing at any time. As a reminder to all of our readers, please be sure to mark all donations from a lodge with the Masonic lodge number so that lodge will receive proper credit for your gifts at the end of the fiscal year.

Brethren, please know all your gifts are utilized to assist the children unless they are restricted funds which are used specifically for a particular designation, scholarship, or project. We continue to work toward increasing the principle in our endowment fund as the interest from this fund is used for the operating expenses for our Home. To those wonderful brethren, alumni and friends who have remembered our Masonic Home for Children in their wills, legacies, or bequests, we are very grateful for your kindness and support. If there are interested people who would like to know more about how to include the Masonic Home for Children or any of our Masonic Charities in their wills, please contact Brother Jim Medlin, director of development at the Grand Lodge at (919) 787-2021 for Brother Chris Richardson, assistant director of development at the Masonic Home for Children at the toll-free number, 1-888-505-4357.

In conclusion, we are deeply grateful to our Grand Master Charles E. Cathey for your leadership and kindness as chairman of our Board of Directors during the year 2000. We also express our appreciation to three of our fine Board members as they conclude their three-year terms as active members of our Board. To Brothers Curtis Hipps, Douglas Caudle, and William Lowden, many thanks for your time, input and guidance and we look forward to your continued support in the future.

Finally, at the end of this Board of Directors Report, you, the readers, will find a copy of the comparative statement of income for the year 2000 and a comparative statement of expenses for the year 2000.

If you have any questions or comments, please contact administration at the Masonic Home for Children and we will be more than willing to assist you.

Respectfully submitted, The Board of Directors The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

Report of the Committee on the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

(Docket No. 18)

The following report of the Committee on the Masonic Home for Children was received, entered on the record and referred to the Board of Directors of The Masonic Home for Children:

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Committee on the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford met at the Home on July 31, 20001. The Committee heard personal reports from the Directors of Education, the Print Shop and the School of Graphic Arts; Development; Food Service; Nursing; Admissions; Human Resources; Maintenance; the Assistant Administrator/Business Manager; and Administrator Rev. David Grissom.

The Committee also had available for review the By-Laws of the Home, the Employee Handbook, the Student Handbook, the Information Guide and other materials.

Members of the Committee are also familiar with the Home because of their past and/or present involvement with the Home through volunteer work and other Grand Lodge responsibilities. Some observations that we would like to share with the craft are:

- 1. The Education Department has a new person to work with children who may be suspended from school.
- 2. The Print Shop does not compete inappropriately with commercial printers, but the Print Shop is open for business! Send the some business and ask about their catalog.
- 3. The Development Department will be putting together some meetings around the State to let Masons and others know about the major new enhancements to programs and facilities. Please take the time to learn about what's going on at the Home.
- 4. Remember that the Food Service Department will be glad to help your lodge or group with special events at the Home.
- 5. Most of the medical care for our children at the Home is covered by Medicaid. For several years, all of the orthodontic care for our children has been donated.
- 6. If you have questions about admissions, please don't let them go unanswered. The Director of Admissions will come to meet with your lodge, if necessary.
- 7. The new Human Resources Director is updating all of the Home's application forms, records and background check procedures, confidentiality policies and staff training, including CPR/First Aid
- 8. The Maintenance Department handles 1,200 service calls a year on the campus. The residential cottages are inspected once a week by Maintenance. A new central fire system is being installed on the campus.

The Committee encourages all Masons to learn about the new enhancements to programs and facilities at the home. These include:

- 1. ENHANCED STAFFING to allow us to better help our children develop education tracks, better life skills, and improve our counseling.
- 2. NEW SINGLE-STORY RESIDENTIAL COTTAGES for our children.
- 3. LICENSING BY THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA. The purpose of licensing is to validate for everyone that our facilities meet standards for the safety and care, and that our staff has the appropriate training to administer our programs and give care to our children. Licensure is not about State "takeover" or dependency on State for funding. It is about holding ourselves to standards that allow us to receive referrals from Social Services Departments and others, and to fully utilize the capacity that we have for serving additional children.
- 4. Partnership with other agencies will be undertaken to be sure that families or guardians are prepared for a child departure from the Home.

These changes are intended to increase and improve the care at the Home. They increase the chances that children will continue to thrive when they leave the Home.

The Committee encourages any Mason who has not visited the Home to do so. You will be welcome and receive courteous attention to your questions. Next St. John's Day would be a great opportunity to visit!

Finally, we recommend that the Committee on the Masonic Home for Children be continued, and perhaps, expanded. Service on the Committee is an opportunity for leaders and future leaders of the fraternity to learn about our wonderful facility.

> Respectfully submitted, Graham Pervier, Chairman David Booth David Crisp Clayton Rawn

Report of the Representative to the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association

(Docket No. 22)

The following report was received and entered on the record. The recommendation that the Grand Lodge continue its membership was adopted, and the matter of finances was referred to the Committee on Finance:

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The annual meeting of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association was held in Phoenix, Arizona on February 19, 2001 in conjunction with the Conference of Grand Masters.

It was announced that on Saturday, June 9, 2001, Grand Master of Masons in Virginia James D. Cole and officers of the Grand Lodge of Virginia will unveil and dedicate a granite marker acknowledging the contributors to the square and compasses which was dedicated June 26, 1909. The marker will list those grand lodges, Aappendant bodies, lodges, individuals and organizations that were major contributors.

During a conversation with Brother George D. Seghers, executive secretary-treasurer of the Association, Grand Master William G. Mathis and I learned that the Grand Lodge of North Carolina had not contributed to the cost of erecting the square and compasses therefore our Grand Lodge would not be listed on the marker. With the approval of the Grand Master we were able to raise $1,175.00 from Grand Lodge committee members, Grand Lodge officers and past grand masters, which was forwarded to Brother Seghers so we could be assured that the Grand Lodge of North Carolina was recognized as a contributor to this beautiful project.

The George Washington Masonic National Memorial is a magnificent edifice which is visited regularly by thousands of Masons and the public, that the Masons of this Grand Lodge have supported generously since being encouraged to do so by Brother Jerry G. Tart.

I make the following recommendations:

- 1. The Grand Lodge of North Carolina continue its membership in the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association.
- 2. The Grand Lodge of North Carolina keep its lodges and members informed about the memorial through appropriate articles in The North Carolina Mason.
- 3. We increase our contributions to the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association as funds become available.

Respectfully submitted, Richard G. Moore, PGM, Representative

Report of the Representative to the Masonic Service Association

(Docket No. 23)

The following report was received and entered on the record. The recommendation that the Grand Lodge continue its membership was adopted, and the matter of finances was referred to the Committee on Finance:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina

The $82^{\rm nd}$ Annual meeting of the Masonic Service Association of North America was held in Phoenix, Arizona on February 19, 2001, at the Conference of Grand Masters.

In keeping with the Masonic tradition of service to mankind, the Association continues to put out appeals for disaster relief throughout our nation and other countries as needed. Not enough can be said for the outstanding relief work being performed by the Association on behalf of our grand lodges.

The Hospital Visitation Program continues to render valuable service to Masonic and other patients at Veterans Administration Medical Centers. This wonderful service is being rendered at the VA Medical Centers in Asheville, Fayetteville, Salisbury, and Durham. The Masons who so unselfishly give of their time to provide services at these centers are to be commended.

Under the direction of Brother Richard Fletcher, The Masonic Service Association continues to print and distribute the "Short Talk Bulletins", digests and other factual, valuable and informative publications concerning our great fraternity.

It is recommended that The Grand Lodge of North Carolina continue its membership in MSA and continue the tradition of visitation to the VA Medical Centers in North Carolina.

Respectfully submitted, Richard G. Moore, PGM, Representative

Report of the Grand Historian

(Docket No. 26)

The following report of the Grand Historian was received, and entered on the record:

To The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Several years ago, past Grand Master Charles M. Ingram of Kenansville encouraged me to research the role Masons have played in development of the North Carolina unified court system, a system which is widely respected — and often emulated — throughout the United States. I have now begun that task by gathering the biographies of those Master Masons who have served on the North Carolina Supreme Court. Due to limitations of space and time, however, this initial report will be limited to those Justices who have so gained the respect of their fellow attorneys and the confidence of the citizens of the State that they have been chosen to serve as chief justices of that Court. Of the twenty-six individuals who have occupied the office of chief justice, ten have been Masons. A brief biographical sketch is found below. However, some of the early biographies and tributes do not include the civic and fraternal connections of the chief justices who are their subjects, and research to document any additional Masonic connections continues. The writer will be grateful to readers who have information about other Masonic justices who have occupied the office of chief justice.

During the post-Revolutionary period in North Carolina, the legislature appointed four judges of the Superior Court to ride the judicial circuits in the State and preside over the trial of important criminal and civil cases. Until 1799 no appellate court existed to review the work of those judges. In that year, the legislature authorized two of the four judges to meet at Raleigh twice each year to decide disputed questions of law which had arisen on the circuits. That early Court of Conference was renamed the Supreme Court in 1805, and became a court of public record in 1810 when the judges were directed to issue their opinions in writing. John Louis Taylor, who had served as a judge of the Superior Court since 1798, was named chief justice by his colleagues, and served in that capacity until the Supreme Court was organized in its present form in 1818. Judge Taylor, Leonard Henderson, and John Hall were elected as the original members of the Court. Henderson and Hall then selected senior member John Louis Taylor as the Court's first chief justice.

All three justices on that distinguished first bench were active Masons. It is believed that John Louis Taylor was made a Mason in Phoenix Lodge at Fayetteville. After serving as Junior Grand Warden, Senior Grand Warden, and Deputy Grand Master, Taylor was elected grand master of North Carolina Masons in December 1802. He served for three years, and was succeeded as grand master by fellow Justice John Hall. In 1814, Taylor was again elected grand master and served another three-year term. As grand master, Taylor worked to promote the Craft, proposing constitutional revision and the appointment of district deputy grand masters. He frequently addressed the lodges on the Masonic degrees and rituals. Chief Justice Taylor served with distinction on the Supreme Court bench until his death in Raleigh on January 29, 1829.

After the death of his friend and fellow Mason, John Lewis Taylor, Justice Leonard Henderson followed him as chief justice. Henderson, who served until his death on August 13, 1833, was an outstanding lawyer, judge, and a pioneer in the field of judicial education. The young men he taught in his Williamsboro law school became some of the outstanding advocates of their day. His law school is considered the forerunner of the law schools at Richmond Hill and the University of North Carolina. Although we do not have all the details of Henderson Masonic service, we know that he was a senior warden of Hiram Lodge No. 24 in 1797. Justice Henderson was so widely respected in North Carolina that the county of Henderson and the cities of Henderson and Hendersonville were all named in his honor.

The eighth chief justice, James Edward Shepherd, was an Episcopalian and a Freemason. Shepherd was born in Virginia in 1847, but was educated in Murfreesboro, North Carolina. Despite his youth, Shepherd served in the Civil War, then studied law at the University of North Carolina. After serving as a Superior Court Judge from 1882 to 1888, he was elected to the Supreme Court in 1888. Following the death of Chief Justice Merrimon in 1892, Justice Shepherd was appointed chief justice and served in that office until 1895. He died in Raleigh on February 7, 1910.

Walter McKenzie Clark, called by his biographer the "Fighting Judge," was born in 1846 and reared on a plantation in Halifax County. During his enormously productive life, he made great contributions to his native state in the era of upheaval and growth between Reconstruction and the Roaring '20s. Young Clark participated in some of the bloodiest battles in the Civil War, obtained his degree from the University of North Carolina in 1864, then returned to the conflict. At the end of the war, Walter Clark was serving as a Lieutenant Colonel of the Seventieth Regiment. After the war, Walter Clark began a lifelong mission to bring economic and social reforms in his beloved South. He received his law license in 1867 and returned briefly to Halifax County to practice law, before moving to Raleigh in 1873. During that time, he developed a lifelong interest in historical and legal research and writing. He was in the forefront of the effort to adopt "Esse Quam Videri" as the state motto, and to place 20 May, 1775, the date of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, on the state flag.

In 1885, Walter Clark was appointed to the Superior Court and served with great distinction until his appointment to the North Carolina Supreme Court in 1889. During his tenure on the Supreme Court, Justice Clark continued to advocate social reforms such as woman's suffrage and the eight-hour work day, and attacked powerful economic interests, such as banks and railroads. Although he made influential enemies who opposed his candidacy for chief justice in 1902, he won a bitterly-contested election and served as chief justice until his death in 1924. Chief Justice Clark was credited with organizing the work of the Court so that it was proceeded in a prompt, orderly fashion. He also strongly advocated the construction of a suitable building in which to house the Supreme Court and its Library. An active Mason, Justice Clark served for years as the chairman of the Judicial Committee of the Grand Lodge.

A triumvirate of outstanding Masonic justices provide leadership for the Court during the middle years of the twentieth century. Our fifteenth chief justice, Maurice V. Barnhill, was also a product of the farm lands of Halifax County. Judge Barnhill graduated with distinction from the University of North Carolina Law School in 1909 and practiced law in Rocky Mount. Much sought after as an attorney, Barnhill was also active in local government, served in the State Legislature, worked in his church and participated in professional organizations and committees. He was active in Masonic affairs, and was a member of the York Rite and the Shrine.

From 1924 through 1937, Judge Barnhill served on the Superior Court, where he was assigned to preside over several difficult and highly-charged cases, including the trial of several alleged Communists charged with the death of Gastonia Policeman O.F. Aderholt during the 1929 textile strike. Judge Barnhill gained such public acclaim and respect that his appointment to the State Supreme Court in 1937 was met with wide approval. He served as an associate justice until 1954, when he was named chief justice by Governor Umstead. Following Senator Hoey's death in 1954, Chief Justice Barnhill's friend and fellow Mason on the Court, Justice Sam J. Ervin Jr., was appointed to the United States Senate. Justice Barnhill also served on the Supreme Court with Justices John W. Winborne and Emery B. Denny, each of whom later served as chief justice.

Justice Winborne, a native of Chowan County, graduated from the University of North Carolina Law School in 1906, and developed a flourishing law practice in McDowell County during the next thirty years. When the membership of the Supreme Court was increased from five to seven members in 1937. John Winborne and fellow Mason Maurice Barnhill were appointed to fill the new positions. When Chief Justice Barnhill retired in 1954, Justice Winborne was appointed chief justice and served until he retired due to bad health in 1962. Justice Winborne was active in Masonry, serving as master of his lodge in Marion in 1920-1921. He was elected grand master of North Carolina Masons in 1931, and served on the Board of Directors of Oxford Orphanage from 1930 through 1962. Upon the presentation of his portrait to the Supreme Court, Justice Emery Denny aptly described his friend as "a good man, an active and valuable citizen of his State, a kind and devoted husband and father, a successful and highly respected lawyer, a distinguished and dedicated jurist and, above all, a Christian gentleman."

Upon the retirement of Chief Justice Winborne, Justice Denny was appointed the Court's seventeenth Chief Justice by Governor Sanford and served until his retirement in 1966. In addition to his long and valuable service on the Supreme Court, Justice Denny was active in civic and church affairs throughout his life. He was a member and served as master of Holland Memorial Lodge No.668 in Gastonia; was also a member of, and served as high priest of,

Gastonia Chapter No.66 Royal Arch Masons; a member of Gastonia Commander, No.28, Knights Templar; and a member of St. Titus Conclave No. 72, Red Cross of Constantine. After his appointment to the high Court, Justice Denny served as grand historian, grand steward, grand deacon, and judge advocate of the Grand Lodge, and a member of the Board of General Purposes. He was also chief adept of the North Carolina College Societas Rosicruciana. In honoring Chief Justice Denny with an award of Distinguished Citizenship, the North Carolina Citizens Association characterized him as "a faithful servant to his community, a highly esteemed member of the judiciary, a wise counselor in the affairs of local and State government."

The twenty-third Chief Justice, James G. Exum Jr., was born in Snow Hill, North Carolina. He attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill as a Morehead Scholar and the New York University School of Law as a Root Tilden Scholar. After graduating in 1960, Exum served as law clerk to Chief Justice Emery Denny prior to beginning the practice of law in Greensboro. He also served as Guilford County legislator before his appointment to the Superior Court bench in 1967. In 1974, Judge Exum was elected to fill the Supreme Court vacancy created by Justice Higgins' retirement; in 1986, he was elected chief justice. An active Mason, Justice Exum is presently serving on the Commission on Fraternal Relations.

During Justice Exum's service on the Supreme Court, Governor Hunt appointed Henry E. Frye of Greensboro to the Supreme Court bench to replace J. Phil Carlton. Justice Frye, a native of Ellerbe in Richmond County, became the first African-American to serve on the State's highest court. He brought to the Court wide experience in the practice of law and in the business community, being a founder and president of Greensboro National Bank for many years. Prior to his appointment, Justice Frye also served as a law professor at N.C. Central University Law School and as assistant United States attorney. In 1999, Frye was chosen to replace retiring Chief Justice Burley B. Mitchell Jr., and became the twenty-fifth person to occupy that office. Still involved in church, civic and legal affairs, the former chief justice now practices law in Greensboro. Frye is an active Prince Hall Mason, and serves on the Commission on Fraternal Relations with his friend and former colleague, James G. Exum Jr.

In the November 2000 elections, I. Beverly Lake Jr., was elected to serve as North Carolina's twenty-sixth chief justice. His background includes a successful law practice, legislative experience, service as an assistant and deputy attorney general, a Special Superior Court judge and as associate justice of the Supreme Court. He was his party's nominee for governor in 1980. A veteran, Chief Justice Lake is a member of the Scabbard and Bade, a national honorary military association. A devout Baptist and family man, he is active in professional and civic organizations, particularly the Boy Scouts of America and his beloved Wake Forest University School of Law, where his distinguished father taught for many years.

Chief Justice Lake is a member of Raleigh Lodge No. 500, where he was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason on 20 May 1981. During his passage through the degrees, Justice Lake was coached by Past Deputy Grand Master and long-time friend Hiram Casebolt. Justice Lake took the York Rite degrees in Raleigh and was made a Noble of Amran Shrine Temple on May 30, 1981. For over 20 years, Brother Lake has offered legal advise to the Blue Lodge and Shrine Temple whenever asked to assist and has attended many activities. He remains active today in Masonic and Shrine conventions and ceremonies when invited to do so, and has volunteered to assist in activities and events held for the benefit of Oxford Masonic Children's Home. In the past, as a private attorney in Raleigh, Lake has provided adoption papers and legal services free to several Oxford children.

Like the Master Masons who have preceded him in the office of chief justice, Justice Lake brings to his task a life-long commitment to public service; a resolve that the Courts continue to carry out their important functions fairly, impartially, and expeditiously; and an awareness of the significant role the Supreme Court has played in the history of North Carolina and her people. A living record of the great social and economic changes which has shaped the history of the State and which continue to affect the daily lives of her people is found in the pages of its decisions. It is to the Supreme Court that North Carolinians look for the landmark rulings which secure the liberties and opportunities which are guaranteed to a free people. The public acceptance of the Court's role as the final interpreter of State law may be directly traced to the public confidence in the men and women who have directed the activities of the North Carolina Supreme Court as the chief among its justices.

We are proud that of the twenty-six individuals who have served their State as its chief justice, at least ten brought to the task their Masonic backgrounds and values. Three are still among us: Chief Justice Lake continues to lead the Judicial Branch into the wilderness of a new century, with its demands for new technology and new approaches; former Chief Justices Frye and Exum continue to serve Masonry and their State in important capacities. Seven of their number have forever slipped the bond of time and passed into eternity; it is only now, after the passage of generations, that we recognize how great the debt we owe them. Let us honor their memories by honoring the great institution they led so faithfully and well. So mote it be.

Respectfully submitted, Clarence E. Horton Jr., Grand Historian

Report of the Board of Publication The North Carolina Mason

(Docket No. 27)

The following report of the Board of Publication of The North Carolina Mason was received and entered on the record:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Our North Carolina Mason is, and continues to be, one of the outstanding Masonic papers in the country, reaching over 53,000 Masons in North Carolina and many Masons in other jurisdictions. It has always been the goal of our editor, Ric Carter, and The Board of Publication, to present the views of our members in an unbiased manner, whether they be the popular or minority viewpoint. We are grateful for contributing members for their enthusiasm, interest, and cooperation in the submission of pictures and articles for printing which helps make our paper the high quality publication that you, as members, deserve.

Have you noticed that your North Carolina Mason does not have an address label and is now bar coded; that the name and address are printed directly on the paper; and that there are tabs to hold the paper together? This operation which began with the December issue, has enabled us to underspend our Postage Budget Item by approximately $5.00; and this includes the Postage increases made effective in 2001. Bar coding the paper has improved its delivery. The Post Office has to do minimum handling; the size of The North Carolina Mason is the maximum size of a first class letter; and it can thereby be sorted with the first class mail for delivery. This makes for timely delivery to the Brethren.

Mailing of The North Carolina Mason has a side advantage in that it keeps up with our members when they relocate and forget to notify their lodge. Changes of addresses are given to the Post Office and often to no one else. Remember, bulk mail cannot be forwarded, but senders can be notified. This information is fed back to the MHCO for updating. Currently this operation is being changed from hard copy return of papers to electronic returns for further cost reductions and internal labor savings.

It is a continuing concern of your Board of Publications to exercise good stewardship in keeping cost down without sacrificing information flow or quality. The content of The North Carolina Mason has improved again this year, and each Brother is receiving his paper more timely and at a cheaper price than in 2000. We would like to say that we could reduce the postage budget for 2002, but there is another postage increase scheduled for 2002. The budget will not reflect potential savings until they become real.

We wish to thank our Grand Lodge officers for their help and support. The Graphic Arts and Printing Department of the Masonic Home for Children in Oxford deserves special recognition for their outstanding service. Do you need to read an article in The North Carolina Mason, but your copy has been misplaced? The website http://www.grandlodge-nc.org will have a copy on file that you can access through the Internet. The Board of Publication supports the website — electronic publication.

We hope that you get as much joy out of The North Carolina Mason as we do in keeping the means working so that you can be kept well informed. We have had a great year! Everything is working as it should, and more efficiently, and with only a 0.8 percent budget increase for 2002.

Respectfully Submitted, Eddie H. Moody Jr., Chairman

Report of the Committee on Subordinate Lodge Special Activities

(Docket No. 29)

The following report of the Committee on Subordinate Lodge Special Activities was received and entered on the record, and adopted:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina

The Commission on Subordinate Lodge Special Activities is again happy to report that fund-raising efforts among many of our lodges have been very successful. Funds have been raised for all our Masonic charities. At the same time, much has been done for local charities; needy families, major lodge repairs, community efforts, etc.

Since our last report, printed in the Special Communication Report dated September 16, 2000, the following contributions have been reported:

$83,527.44 to the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

$40,302.46 to the Masonic and Eastern Star Home

$12.829.70 to the MESH Care Center

$18,858.33 to the Masonic Foundation

$60,645.76 to Local charities

We continue to remind lodges that we MUST always be in compliance with Reg. 43-12 and Reg. 77-1 of The Code. If the masters of the lodges will see that their fund-raising chairmen are well versed in these regulations and are using the proper forms in a timely manner, we will continue to see good fundraising results.

Report of the Committee on Masonic Education

(Docket No. 30)

The following report of the Committee on Masonic Education was received, and entered on the record: To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

In response to the positive feedback and comments from the craft, the apparently successful Lodge Night Program which was begun under Grand Master Ingram, and continued under Grand Master Cathey was continued at the request of Grand Master Mathis. This program which furnishes the lodges in North Carolina a ten to twenty minute Masonic education topic at each stated communication was an effort to make the meetings more interesting by stimulating discussion between the brethren. We thank the Craft for their comments and input.

At the close of the 2000 Grand Lodge session it was obvious that the proposed amendments to be voted upon at the 2001 session were not only lengthier than usual, but also potentially complex. For this reason, this year much of the efforts of the Committee have been directed toward analyzing the proposed revisions, attempting to put them in an easier to understand format, and disseminating this information among the brethren. In an effort to do this the second quarter Lodge Night Program was devoted to a nuts-and-bolts explanation of how a proposed resolution is introduced, who may introduce one, and what happens to that resolution on its way to a vote on the Grand Lodge floor and the third quarter program was devoted to explaining some of the proposed amendments.

Realizing the potential impact of some of the proposals and their importance to the craft, forty-one Summer Masonic Education Seminars were scheduled throughout the state. Almost thirty brothers with extensive experience in these matters came forth to assist the Committee in making these presentations. We thank every one of these brothers for their assistance which was well beyond anyone's expectation of the normal call of duty.

We also thank Grand Master Mathis, Walt Clapp, Ric Carter, Cornelia Doherty, Frankie Harles, and Paula Strother for their unyielding encouragement and support. Yes, we did have a good year this year and maybe we accomplished some things, but "we" did it together.

> Respectfully submitted, Dan Weatherington, Chairman

Report of the Grand Master's Committee on Masonic Youth Organizations

(Docket No. 32)

The following report of the Grand Master's Committee on Masonic Youth Organizations was received and entered on the record and the portion pertaining to finance was referred to the Committee on Finance:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

This has been a wonderful year of milestones, cooperation, and leadership within your Masonic youth organizations in North Carolina this year. Perhaps the greatest accomplishment has been the election of Miss Irene Birbeck of Raleigh's Jobs Daughter Bethel No. 2 as Miss International Congeniality. In that capacity, she has traveled the country as a leader for Jobs Daughters and an example of the leadership skills she gleaned from membership in North Carolina's Masonic youth organizations.

Another milestone in 2001 has been the establishment and award of the first Grand Lodge Foundation Scholarships for our Masonic vouths. A subcommittee of this Grand Lodge committee was established, chaired by Brother Frank Silber from Raleigh, to develop the program, review candidates and award scholarships to deserving members of our groups. Four scholarships of $1,000 each were awarded this spring. Alex Elium, a DeMolay from Greensboro will use his award to attend Georgia Tech in the fall. Ashley Bashioum, past Rainbow grand worthy advisor from Gastonia will continue her studies at North Carolina State. Amanda Hatfield, Miss Jobs Daughters of the Carolinas from Raleigh, will use her scholarship to pursue an education at Meredith College, and Tyler McCormick, a DeMolay from Greensboro will become a Duke Blue Devil thanks to the assistance provided by this scholarship program. Our committee is proud of these young people and is looking forward to the continuation of this program in 2002 and future years.

The Masonic Youth Day was held in Rockingham in February at the Busch Grand National (NASCAR) race. Approximately 180 Rainbows, Jobs Daughters, DeMolays, and residents from the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford were treated to lunch courtesy of several lodges and shrine clubs in the Rockingham area, and attended the race — free of charge — thanks to the Grand Lodge and several private donations and volunteer efforts. The North Carolina Masonic youths and area lodges received quite favorable press on this event, and an article and photo appeared in both The North Carolina Mason and DeMolay International publications. Plans will soon be underway for the activity in 2002.

DeMolay activity this year has been highlighted by the reestablishment of chapters in Gastonia and Charlotte. Both areas are showing renewed enthusiasm for DeMolay and with the support of the association and local lodges and advisors will hopefully soon be successful. Initiates in 2000 were ahead of the year of 1999, which qualified North Carolina DeMolay for membership awards from DeMolay International. Past State Master Councilor Matt Hunt from Asheboro and his deputy, Dan Critcher from Durham should be commended for a fine job in 2000.

North Carolina DeMolay has a new deputy of the International Supreme Council. Brother Frank Silber a past state master councilor from Raleigh was elected to membership in June. Although the year 2001 has shown some challenges from several areas, under the leadership of Brother Wes Taylor, the state master councilor from Raleigh and Executive Officer Tim Shermer of Knightdale, the pieces of the puzzle are in place to continue the successes from the previous year.

Jobs Daughters are still looking at interested areas such as Greensboro, and possibly Charlotte. They need help badly in New Bern to salvage that Bethel. As mentioned above, Miss Irene Birbeck of Raleigh was elected by her peers as Miss International Congeniality and has represented the youth of North Carolina quite well in her year of service. The Raleigh Bethel of Jobs Daughters ia as strong as ever, recruiting not only new members, but strong and dedicated advisors as well. Very few dinners, banquets or receptions are held in the Raleigh area without some assistance from that group. In addition, they continue to support the HIKE fund for deaf children, raising money for that cause all throughout the year.

Rainbow continues to look for new sponsors for the establishment of assemblies. Charlotte is still on the wish list of areas, but support is languishing. New Bern has lately shown some strong interest and their executive board will be working with local volunteers to try and re-establish an assembly in that area.

Grand Worthy Advisor Miss Kathryn Collins from Jacksonville had a wonderful Grand Assembly Session in Raleigh in June. The number and scope of charitable efforts they worked on this year was impressive. One was providing school supplies for the children at the Shrine Hospital in Greenville. Another, and one of note, was adopting the "Lids for Kids" program which collects hats for kids to wear that have been stricken with cancer and are suffering through the side effects of chemotherapy. The Rainbows in North Carolina are the first organization of any type to adopt this program. The presentation of that charity alone was a moving experience and one of the reasons that our Grand Lodge should be proud to sponsor these girls.

The grand worthy advisor in 2001-2002, Miss Joanna Greene from Albemarle will be working with her associate grand worthy advisor, Miss Amy Harp from Raleigh and their supreme deputy, Mrs. Kay Letterman to make Rainbow membership both memorable and beneficial to the young ladies of North Carolina.

An important and vital part of the success of these groups is the recruitment, training, and service of the adult volunteers. It is difficult, sometimes, for these organizations to find and train these volunteers on a regular and consistent basis. Some of the difficulties in establishing new groups in some areas of the state, such as Oxford, Charlotte, Greensboro, and many places in the western and eastern parts have been the result of a lack of adult volunteers and commitments to these groups.

From my own experience in Raleigh, I became an advisor in 1991 as merely a senior DeMolay, and not a member of a Masonic lodge. In fact, much of the time, I was the ONLY advisor at most of the functions for the chapter — and this in the second largest city in North Carolina! It was soon after, in 1993, that I decided to join the Fraternity and have since tried my best to serve Hiram Lodge No. 40, to serve on this committee, to be a representative to my temple board, and an active member of the Scottish Rite. All that, in addition to serving as an advisor to the Raleigh DeMolay, working with the youth leaders at the state and international level, and trying to be an effective advocate for all the youth organizations in North Carolina. Between all this and my employment, I'm busier than a one armed paper hanger and many times I am gone from my home sometimes five nights a week to a meeting, function, or having to travel on the weekend in some capacity. Does that sound like a familiar problem to a lot of you?

I mention this not to gloat or brag, but to bring to the attention of the Grand Lodge the difficulty we are all facing in finding, training, and relying on volunteers to serve our fraternity. Each and every lodge in this state, with a few exceptions, find it difficult to recruit and find qualified and dedicated members willing to serve as officers in their lodge. Our youth groups are pulling from an even shallower pool, because we are relying on those already committed in one form or another to the Fraternity to fill our ranks as advisors. Many of these volunteers are overworked, and some do not possess the experience or training necessary to be an effective youth advisor. From this even shallower pool are those that are appointed to be the advocates of our Masonic youth at the Grand Lodge level. As a member of this committee I see this as an awesome responsibility, and not just a name on a list. I am glad that Grand Masters have seen fit to appoint worker bees to this committee over the last several years, and for it to be streamlined in order to be effective.

What we do not need at this time is a watering down of the committee on Masonic Youth Organizations as proposed by Amendment Group 20k by expanding it to 15 members. It is difficult enough to find five or six knowledgeable and dedicated people to serve this committee now, and to expand it to 15 would dilute the experience and effectiveness of this committee and make it a nightmare to coordinate. In addition, the "life span," if you would, of an advisor in any of these groups is about the amount of time his or her child is active within the body. To ask someone, who has likely already served on the local level, to serve another five-year term when they are otherwise not involved with an active chapter is a commitment that many will not accept. Lodges are already having difficulty within their ranks to fill holes in their own lines. The Grand Master would have a much more difficult time in trying to fill the three slots on this committee each year as well as find replacements for those that are ineffective on the Committee or unwilling to serve out their terms. These groups are not suffering from a lack of administration; it is a lack of participation. The solution to it is promotion of our youth at the grassroots level, not an expansion of the Grand Lodge Committee.

Therefore, we urge the delegates of this Grand Lodge to oppose Amendment Group 20k.

In addition, it has been suggested by a past grand master in several forums that the Grand Lodge seek out a full time director for Masonic youth activities, someone that would travel the state, promoting our youths and coordinating activities between the groups. Several other states have such an individual; some have paid executive directors for their youth organization (New York DeMolay is one such example). From our standpoint and given the financial constraints of this Grand Lodge, we find it would be difficult to be able to find such an individual that we would be able to afford that would be effective in this position. We have neither the size nor economic capacity to support such a position to the extent that the job would warrant. Unlike the paid position of Foundation director, this staff person would be in a non-revenue generating position — additional overhead that either the Grand Lodge or the Foundation would have to fund. At this time we cannot recommend such expenditure, nor do we desire to explore the potential

For now, our tired but dedicated volunteers will do the trick, just like they always have. What we need is your support, in time, by your positive promotion in your lodges and districts, and through the recruitment of young people from your families and communities. We can't do it alone, but with your help we can _nd upon the wonderful youth achievements I mentioned about a dozen or so paragraphs ago.

Everybody knows the old saying, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." Well, my Brothers, the youth organizations of this state are going through some ups and downs like we all are, but we ain't broke yet!

Respectfully Submitted, Charles V. Rouse Jr., Chairman

Report of the North Carolina Masonic Development Program

(Docket No. 33)

The following report of the North Carolina Masonic Development Program was received, entered on the record, and referred to the Board of General Purposes: To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

This is the seventh year of development programs and activities for our North Carolina Masonic Charities. As your development officer, I am honored and proud to report that our development programs have been the basis for increases in all areas, across the board in development and advancement of charitable efforts within our great state.

The year 2000 reported over $2.4 million in donations to the Annual Fund from all sources. Over $2.0 million came from lodges and Masons across the state and $400,000 came from friends and others who also hold our charities dearly. Again, the year 2000 reflects the fourth consecutive year of over $2.0 million going to our charities for annual operations support.

The Grand Master's Five Star Program has given a tremendous boost to annual giving in our jurisdiction. In 1996 we began the Five Star Program with 21 lodges. The year 2000 reported 119 lodges participating. These lodges produced over $950,000 for our children and elder brothers and sisters. Further, these 119 lodges have grown their fund raising efforts and annual contributions by over 12% per year since 1996.

In summary, our North Carolina Masonic Charities received in 2000: in the NC Masonic Foundation, $137,853, the Masonic and Eastern Star Home $1,056,214; and, the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford, $1,096,009, for a total annual contribution to the Annual Fund from all sources of $2,470,076.

But our greatest treasure has been our legacy gifts, those planned gifts from our beloved deceased brethren. These legacy gifts, along with a solid annual fund, have caused our endowments to grow and offer more support for our children and elder brothers and sisters. Over the past seven years our legacy gifts have been in excess of $13 million. Our endowments have more than doubled during the same time period; and the winners are our wonderful Homes and Foundation—our children and elderly.

But I would be remiss not to offer a word of grateful thanks to the North Carolina Masonic Foundation, Inc. The Foundation has helped, supported and assisted our NC Masonic Charities by being good stewards of our portfolios of assets that they manage. The Board of Directors of the Foundation has accomplished yeoman's duty in managing the stocks/bonds/securities of all our charities. We truly owe the Board a debt of gratitude for their wonderful unselfish, and dedicated service. Our hats are off to Chairman Charlie Scott and directors John N. Belk; James R. Goodman Jr., James G. Martin, and David B. Wilson.

The last seven years have seen good growth. We are truly blessed due to the Masons of North Carolina and all that they do for the under-privileged, the less fortunate. This new millennium will be one of challenge. It will write in the book of history how the Masons of North Carolina built new skilled facilities for retirement living and offered more life, health and extended care services for the elderly. It will write how North Carolina built new, more modern facilities for children who came from distressed family life-styles and who needed long-term child care facilities to accommodate their special needs. And just as important, it will write in the annals of history how the Masons of North Carolina offered their local communities scholarship funds for deserving young students who wanted to continue their education in four-year college/university institutions. The new history of North Carolina will show the citizenry that Masonic good works is alive and well and how "it encourages all that ia good, kind, and charitable offering more benevolence than ever before.

Thank you my Brothers for all that you do for Freemasonry in our great and grand jurisdiction!

Respectfully submitted, James L. Medlin, Director of Development

Report of the Board of Custodians

(Docket No. 34)

The following report of the Board of Custodians was received, and entered on the record:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Board of Custodians for the year 2001 is comprised of the following members: William L. Dill, grand lecturer; James Earl Vann, Chairman; J. Luigi Ammons, Secretary; Howard M. Overcash; Dalton W. Mayo; John V. Evans Jr.; and Dewey Misenheimer. Worshipful Brother Douglas S. Moore serves as a liaison between the Board of Custodians and the Board of General Purposes.

The Board of Custodians has held five meetings thus far in this Masonic calendar year. The priority item of this year's agenda has been the OSW revisions and the reprinting of the current OSW. The OSW revisions began in 1994 and is now complete and ready to be voted on by the delegates at the 2001 Annual Communication. This year the Board conducted several seminars in various locations across the state pertaining to these revisions. They were thoroughly discussed and explained in full detail. The revisions were well received among those attending the seminars, and the Board of Custodians has unanimously endorsed the approval of these proposed revisions. At the beginning of the 2001 Masonic calendar year, the Grand Lodge supply of OSWs was exhausted. This year the book was typeset at the Oxford Printing Department and reprinted in a temporary version. The copies became available in late April and are almost exhausted again now. The temporary version was printed in a budget format to give Grand Lodge sufficient books to last until the delegates could vote on the new revisions at the 2001 Annual Communication. If the revisions are approved, work will immediately begin to reprint the OSW with the new changes in the same format that is currently in use.

The Board of Custodians has designed and approved a new format to be used for schools of instruction. The old format, which has been in use for several years, has been in need of updating to increase attendance and bring our instructional methods into a more interesting way to educate our lodge in the Masonic ritual. These newly designed methods will be presented to the DDGLs during the Annual Communication and its use encouraged in our lodges.

This year the certified lecture examinations were held again in August. The new dates from September to August appear to be working well among those attending the examinations. The dates for this year's examinations were set for August 20-24 in the areas of Greenville, Clinton, Greensboro, Charlotte, and Asheville. A new roster will be brought up-to-date immediately following the examinations and distributed to the certified lecturers and subordinate lodges. The Board of Custodians would like to extend their sincerest appreciation to Brother William G. Mathis for his support to the Board during his year as grand master, to Brother William L. Dill for his tireless efforts as grand lecturer, and to Walt Clapp, grand secretary, for his valuable assistance and guidance during the year. The Board of Custodians would also like to express their appreciation to the 41 district deputy grand lecturers of this grand jurisdiction who have served Masonry well and supported the decisions of the Board.

> Respectfully submitted, J. Luigi Ammons, Secretary

Report of the Committee on Masonic Ceremonies and Miscellaneous Publications

(Docket No. 36)

The following report of the Committee on Masonic Ceremonies and Miscellaneous Publications was received and entered on the record:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Committee on Masonic Ceremonies and Miscellaneous Publications met and discussed the necessary processes to accomplish the task of revitalizing the old Lodge System of Masonic Education system and incorporating it with the lofty ideals of Program for Progress. It is inclusive to establish a guide that will incorporate the ideology of the Claudy books previously given the candidates of the degrees. It is the hope of the committee that it will be accomplished through the publication of a book or guide given to each candidate. This is within the framework established as a guideline for us.

Respectfully submitted, A. Ed Lawing, Chairman

Report of the Code Commission

(Docket No. 37)

The following report of the Code Commission was received, and entered on the record:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Code of Commission has continued its cooperative efforts with the Jurisprudence Committee this year in an effort to increase the Grand Lodge's efficiency in dealing with proposed amendments to The Code.

In an effort to be more available to the total membership of the Craft, the Code Commission has maintained and kept current the link on the Grand Lodge's web page that connects all interested persons to a list of the Code Commission's members along with their E-mail addresses. The Code Commission is pleased that the general membership has started using this avenue of communication.

The Code Commission has worked on several proposed amendments in an effort to improve their clarity, completeness, and correctness for submission to the Grand Lodge for its action.

Respectfully submitted, Edwin L. Becton, Chairman

Final Report of Past Grand Master Charles E. Cathey

(Docket No. 38)

Most Worshipful Brother Charles E. Cathey, past grand master of Masons in North Carolina delivered the following report, of which portions were referred to the Board of General Purposes. (See Docket No. 46 of these Proceedings for distribution of this report.)

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina:

Brethren on September 16, 2000, I welcomed you to the the Grand Lodge of North Carolina at the AL-6000 Special Session. I presented my report of activities to that date and told you my full report would be presented in December.

The following is my full report to this Most Worshipful Grand Lodge:

Brethren, you bestowed upon me the highest honor that a Grand Lodge can accord one of it's members, when on April 29, 2000, you elected and installed me your grand master. You also placed on my shoulders the most awesome responsibility that I have ever borne. I have tried to rely on advice from wise council and a great deal of prayerful consultation with the Supreme Grand Master. But most things eventually come down to the point where the final decision is the Grand Master's. As our Brother Harry S. Truman said, "The buck stops here!"

The final reckoning will eventually come when this Grand Lodge either approves or disapproves my actions. Some of those actions will also be reflected in the future effectiveness or deficiencies of our two homes. I pledge to you that I took the charge and obligation at my installation very seriously and have tried to act for the good of Masonry.

Necrology

Our last memorial service was conducted on April 29, 2000 during Grand Master Ingram's Grand Lodge Session. The AL-6000 Session did not include one. Our fraternal chain has been shortened by the falling away of several links. Our hearts are saddened by the loss of these brethren. However we are comforted by the fact that we have left them in the hands of One who does all things well, and that he has welcomed them home to that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. I am thankful to our Father in Heaven that the "Scythe of Time" has not moved through the Grand Lodge officers this year and that my term will end with the grand line chain unbroken.

DDGM/DDGL Meeting

At noon on April 29, 2000, while the Grand Lodge was called from labor to refreshment I met with the deputies. At this time I explained to them my program for the ensuing year. I ask them to comply with The Code by making at least one official visit to each lodge during the year. I also asked them to hold a district meeting and make it a leadership development training session. I asked for the district deputy grand lecturer to have a part in this program. I told them that I would like for them to help me promote the following five programs this year.

- (1) Location of children to be placed at Oxford
- (2) The lodges to continue to work on Grand Masters Five Star Program
- (3) The Masonic Model Student Assistance Training Program
- (4) Program for Progress.
- (5) Local involvement of lodges.

Finally I told them that UNITY, beginning with U 'n' I in AL-6000 would be my theme for the year. I asked them to join me in helping to promote this program.

Area Meetings

From June 6 until August 17 I conducted 23 area meetings. I know that there were lodges who had no one in attendance and others who had a small representation. Although this is disappointing, I have tried to look on the bright side and be thankful for the many brothers who put forth an effort to attend the meetings. I believe that I would be amiss if I did not mention Brother Doug Moore who attended so many of my area meetings. At my last meeting I said that I thought he had attended more of them than I had. Thanks Doug!

I was extremely pleased with the reception of me and those who traveled with me and more especially the acceptance of my program this year.

I know that the brethren had heard of my back problems and they went out of their way to accommodate my needs. Sometimes I was a little embarrassed with all the attention, but I was made to feel that it was given in brotherly love.

Board of Custodians

The ritual for the Lodge of Sorrow was approved at the June meeting of the Board and forwarded to the Board of General Purposes for their approval.

The Board has been asked to specify new guidelines and duties for District Deputy Grand Lecturers for a proposed redistricting plan. There will now be 41 districts instead 65. The redistricting will increase the number of lodges in most districts and require more duties of the DDGLs in visiting the lodges and observing the proficiency of each lodge.

At the present time, there are approximately 440 certified lecturers in this grand jurisdiction.

There have been a few cases where lodges have been requested to hold a Lecture Service. We are encouraging these lodges to comply with the request and are asking the district deputy grand lecturers to enforce these rules in their respective districts

The Grand Lodge supply of OSWs are exhausted. The Oxford Printing Department is presently setting the type from the current OSW for the purpose of reprinting copies of the book. No changes are being incorporated into this volume. The supplement is being included for the purpose of consolidating the two books into one. This book will be reprinted in a temporary volume for the purpose of fulfilling the supply that Grand Lodge needs to assign to the various officers and members of Grand Lodge and membership.

Masonic Education Committee

I have been concerned for some time about the amount of time and effort which goes into leadership programs that are not used. The story is always the same; a good program will be developed, for a while it will be promoted and used. But two years later if the program can even be found in a lodge, it is at the bottom of a stack of papers in the back of the storage room. This is sad, and somewhat disheartening.

Masonic critics are always saying that lack of leadership is one of our fraternity's worst problems. These same critics say we don't train our officers. Yet, we have these magnificent programs, developed by some of the most dedicated Masons in the Craft, and we don't use them. Why? This year I asked the Committee on Masonic Education to look at this problem. I didn't ask them to reinvent the wheel, or develop a new program. I asked them to look at what we have available and devise a way of using it. It is that Committee's thought that we already have some excellent leadership training materials but just need to find a way to use it. Program for Progress is an outstanding work. Some of the material that was introduced last year is good. Even the old standard Lodge System of Masonic Education that so many of us used and learned from has a place in North Carolina Freemasonry. We don't need new programs, we need a better way to encourage our people to use what we already have available. This was my assignment to Masonic Education and I feel confident it will be done.

I have been amazed this year in my travels how many of our brethren know nothing about AL $(Anno\ Lucis)$ and how it relates to Freemasonry. I see this as an indication that we need to work on some of the basic points about our fraternity. I am also surprised each year at Annual Communication at the number of lodges that get into trouble because of how they handle petitions, affiliations, elections and the conferring of degrees. All of these things are an evidence that we need to continue the education of our members in the basics of our fraternity. I am most pleased with the work of our Education Committee.

North Carolina Masonic Development Program

The North Carolina Masonic Development Program has been a highlight, a shining star, for our jurisdiction. Since its inception it has been one of the more positive elements of all the programs in our Grand Lodge. The Grand Master's Five Star Program for the lodges, the legacy gift initiatives, the lapel pins, and calendar programs have all added dollars to our charities and have given them successes that will go on for years to come. Worshipful Brother Jim Medlin is doing a great job with these development programs for our North Carolina Masonic Charities and our Grand Lodge. Brother Jim is available to help lodges with their fund-raising efforts and to help individual brothers with the estate planning needs please call him at the Grand Lodge.

As we near the end of my term as grand master we are in the middle of the AL-6000 Scholarship pin program. I am extremely thankful for the response thus far to this program. I am delighted to know that this fund will be providing scholarships to the youth of our lodge communities long after we are all gone.

Joseph Montfort Medals

Joseph Montfort was a man that was a Mason's Mason of his day. To be awarded the Montfort Medal a man should be a Mason's Mason of this day. It is my firm belief that the following men indeed exemplify that quality.

On July 22 I presented a Joseph Montfort Medal to Brother David Lee Hargett, past master of Monroe Lodge No. 244 and Truth Lodge No. 749. On October 6 I presented Joseph Montfort Medals to Brother Carl McCracken Jr., past master, Waynesville Lodge No. 259; and Brother Ray Norris, past grand master of Masons in North Carolina. Freemasonry in North Carolina has been promoted and perpetuated through the efforts of the many years of service of these brethren.

Grand Representatives

I was pleased to make the following recommendations for Grand Representatives of other Grand Jurisdictions near North Carolina:

Illinois	Jerry Tillett
Kentucky	Leonard Y. Safrit
New Jersey	Gene Jernigan
Virginia	Berry Rigdon
New Zealand	Hugh K. Terrell Jr.

Also I had the privilege of approving the recommendations of other grand masters for the appointment of grand representatives of North Carolina near other grand jurisdictions.

Physical Disabilities

I have had the responsibility of ruling on the disabilities of several petitioners for the degrees this year. I want to thank the district deputies that did investigations where asked. I am pleased to say that I was able to approve all that I was asked to rule on. If the internal qualifications of a man are right we can work around the external.

Dispensations Granted

At the time this report was being prepared, I had granted thirteen dispensations. These dispensations have been granted to accomplish the following purposes: Eleven dispensations were granted to permit lodges to hold meetings other than at the regular meeting place. One dispensation was granted to elect officers created by resignation. One dispensation was granted to allow the lodge to have their charter refurbished.

Honorary Title of Past District Deputy Grand Master

I recommend that the honorary title of past district deputy grand master be granted to the following brethren, each of whom is both qualified and eligible under the provisions of Regulation 11-4.2 of The Code.

The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford

The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford admissions has been one of my main points during the area meetings this year. We need to stress to our Masons, alumni, and friends to be sensitive to the needs of children in their communities. The Masonic Home for Children can admit up to 60 more children and if every Masonic district within our state saw a child in need and recommended that child to our Masonic Home, we could be at full capacity. Every child must be recommended to the Masonic Home for Children by a local Masonic lodge and once they are admitted, the staff at the Home will provide total care to that child.

Since education is a vital part of helping every child at our Home, we also want to help teachers across our state to develop skills to recognize students in their classes who are at risk. The MSAP (Masonic Student Assistance Program) was introduced during 1999 to invite teachers and school officials to our campus to participate in a three-day workshop. Food, lodging, guest speakers and materials are offered at no expense to the educators as it is the goal of our fraternity to "Help Teachers Help Kids."

Finally, it is important that our fraternity know that the programs, projects and fund drives our Masonic lodges have to support our Masonic Home for Children are vital and deeply appreciated. Since the Masonic Home for Children receives no State or Federal monies, our Home in Oxford is purely charitable and the support and kindness of our brethren, alumni, and friends are paramount to the ongoing quality care provided to every child living on our campus now and in the future.

Masonic and Eastern Star Home

As you know the MESH Care and Wellness Center has opened The residents and staff have transferred to this new state-of-the-art center from the old Care Center which will either be renovated for a useful purpose or demolished. The MESH Board of Directors, while studying its potential use, has leased two floors of this facility to a local nursing home while that home is building a new facility in Greensboro. MESH will, in addition to receiving lease income from an otherwise vacant building provide maintenance, dietary, laundry, and housekeeping services to the residents of this Home within a Home. MESH will NOT be responsible for the resident and patient services, administration, admission/discharge, or personnel in our lessee's program. I compliment the MESH Board of Directors in this win win relationship. We not only help a sister non-profit nursing home, we convert an unused resource into a productive asset.

The MESH Board of Directors recently addressed a long-standing issue surrounding admission eligibility. An eligible Master Mason's wife, mother, sister, daughter, and widow are eligible for admission to MESH. This year, ironically on the day following Mother's Day, the admission policy was expanded to include the mother of an eligible Eastern Star member.

MESH is engaged in an Independent Living expansion. At this writing, site development work is in progress on sixteen, of what may be as many as fifty, two-bedroom houses at the Greensboro campus.

On October 26, 2000 the last hurtle to our MESH Care and Wellness Center being certified to participate in the Medicare program was met. This will bring added funds from Medicare for patients who are eligible for Medicare. There is a possibility of receiving retroactive reimbursements. It is misinformation about this certification that prompted some of our brethren to go to the news media as well as send unfounded allegations to lodges across this state.

Jones Masonic Campus, Inc.

Brother John R. and Lois Jones have donated 60 acres of property in Swansboro, North Carolina for the purpose of building a combined retirement community, conference center, and children's summer camp. This campus has been incorporated as the Jones Masonic Campus, Inc. and is co-owned and Administered by MESH and the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford. Preliminary site development work is underway as is the surveying for and promotion of this new program. We owe a great debt of gratitude not only to Brother Jones but to Brother William Mills III, who donated many hours of his time and a great deal of effort, in providing the legal expertise setting up the Jones Masonic Campus, Inc. and Brother Leonard Safrit who had donated untold hours to see this project come to fruition. I would be remiss if I did not mention the other members of the Board and their contribution. Thank you, from the Masons of this grand jurisdiction.

VA Hospitals

I'm sorry to say that I did not get to visit but one of our VA Hospitals in this state during my term as grand master. However I would like to thank all our Masonic volunteers who give so many hours to provide a helping hand at these hospitals. We are honored to be able to do a little for those who gave so much to preserve our freedom, not only here in America but elsewhere in the world.

Special Visitations

On June 19, 2000, I attended the informal opening of the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star at Fayetteville. It was an honor for me to speak before this body and bring greetings from the Grand Lodge. I also recited a poem for the outgoing Worthy Grand Matron Helen Collie.

On June 24, 2000, I attended the Saint John's Day celebration at the Masonic Home For Children at Oxford. Ava Jean and I were accompanied by one of our grandsons, Joshua, as we rode in a horse drawn carriage in the parade.

On June 26, 2000, I attended the Rainbow Grand Assembly at Raleigh. It was a special pleasure for me to speak to this Assembly since I had worked with the Rainbow Girls for many years during the 1980s. It was also a special treat to attend the Grand Cross of Color Banquet on the morning of the 27th.

On June 27, 2000, I attended a reception for the Masonic legislators at the William Thomas House in Raleigh. Several of our Masonic brothers from our Legislature were in attendance. I was pleased to receive a cast plaque of the great seal of our state, presented by Representative Mitchell Setzer.

On July 8, 2000, I attended the DeMolay Honors Day in Greensboro, and was honored to receive their highest award the Legion of Honor. This definitely will be one of highlights of my year as grand master.

On July 9-11, 2000 I attended The York Rite Summer Assembly in Maggie Valley and was the keynote speaker.

This was a special treat for me since I have been involved with this annual meeting all of my Masonic career.

On July 22, 2000 I attended the York Rite Sovereign College Banquet in Charlotte. There was a very large group of Masons from all across this country. After my remarks I was privileged to present one of my Joseph Montfort Medals to Brother David Lee Hargett.

Special Presentations

As I traveled across this state I have been presented with many gifts and special items. All of these will be treasured. I especially prize the marble clock presented to me by Snow Lodge.

I also treasure the honorary memberships presented by several lodges, the life memberships from Oasis Shrine Temple and Haywood Shrine Club, the Order of the Long Leaf Pine from Governor Jim Hunt (which was presented to me by State Representative Mitchell Setzer).

I was presented No. 443 of the 750 limited edition of The Lodge Room Over Simpkins Store, (inside view) by the Masons of Western North Carolina, and I was presented No. 325 of the 750 limited edition of The Lodge Room Over Simpkins Store, (outside view) by the Asheville Scottish Rite Bodies. These pictures will always be treasured by me and will always have a prominent place in my home.

I am grateful to the city of Monroe for presenting me a key to the city and the mayor for proclaiming November 18 Charles Cathey Day in Monroe. I thank the Monroe York Rite Bodies for making me an honorary member and an honorary godfather of the Monroe Mafia. A job that I took to very quickly giving Doug Moore the symbolic kiss of death (in jest of course).

Grand Lodge Office

There is no way that I can adequately express my feelings for all those who work in the Grand Lodge Office. I am deeply indebted for all the help this year as I served this great jurisdiction. I would have expected no less, having filled the office of secretary of my lodge for many years and receiving nothing but courteous, efficient and prompt service from the Grand Lodge Office. The three ladies have been like sisters trying to help a brother get his homework, and get it right. Walt, Ric and Jim have been brothers trying to see that a brother succeeded in his endeavors. Each one of you will forever have a special place in my heart. THANK YOU!

State of the Craft

We continue to loose members from attrition and NPDs. There is no need for me to rehash these two problem our fraternity has, we have heard them discussed many times over the last several years. It has been my contention this year that we will not be able to solve any problems until we are able to function in UNITY. Some have criticized this approach, saying we were trying to avoid our problems in hope that they would go away. I say that until we can approach our problems in a Masonic manner with respect and consideration for each other, our problems will not go away and new ones will arise.

I believe that our two Homes are in the best shape they have ever been. The leadership of John Rose and David Grissom are the driving forces we need to help move us from the twentieth to the twenty-first century. I see great things happening at both of these campuses in the future. The Jones Campus is also a great opportunity, but will require a great deal of work. Our foundation continues to grow, and with the AL-6000 Scholarship Endowment, is expanding.

I believe that overall the vast majority of the Masons of this state want to be what a mason is supposed to be as proclaimed in the teachings of our gentle craft.

Recommendations

I recommend a continuation of our support of the charities. The Masonic Home for Children at Oxford, the Masonic and Eastern Star Home in Greensboro, the North Carolina Masonic Foundation, and now the Jones Masonic Campus Inc. The Masons of North Carolina have long been associated with giving and helping those in need, and through these outlets we have the best means possible to accomplish this task.

I recommend that we continue our support of the youth programs in our grand jurisdiction. That we continue and increase our financial support and our personal support to these organizations.

I recommend that a secretaries handbook be developed that will have: 1) A time line of actions that he must perform throughout the year. 2) A condensed form of The Code pertaining to the handling of petitions, affiliations, elections, and the conferring of degrees. I further recommend that the committee on Masonic Ceremonies and Miscellaneous Publications investigate and include any other subject that they may deem appropriate. That a copy of this handbook be provided each secretary.

Acknowledgements and Special Appreciation

I would like to thank my family Ava Jean, Chuck, Machelle, Tom, and Amy, and my three grandsons Joshua, Seth and Jared, who each in their special way have helped me along this path. Their support has not only been this year but all through my Masonic career (at least those who were born then).

I thank Sonoma Lodge who had the foresight to start the AL-6000 fund to help defray the expenses this year. And all the members of Sonoma Lodge and Sonoma Chapter as well as the 63rd Masonic District and the members who reside in the Valley of Asheville Scottish Rite, who helped make this year possible. Mark McClure, thanks for doing the work of Secretary-Recorder of the York Rite in Waynesville.

Again to the Grand Lodge Office, with inadequate words and a full heart and through clouded eyes I simply say, thank you. You have all been great to work with and have become extremely close friends.

I would like to extend a special thanks to William B. Brunk, William L. Mills III, William G. Mathis and Graham W. Pervier for representing me at meetings during the year that I was unable to attend. In my heart it is reminiscent of the "Friend to Friend" idea. Thanks guys!

To my brothers across this state, there's a thought from one of my favorite poems that says: "Tve lots of good friends so kind and so sweet; And still many more that I'll never meet". I've been blessed this year by getting to meet so many of my brothers across this state. This is probably the best part of the job of grand master. But as the line from the poem says and still many more that I'll never meet, I count it my loss that there are many of you that I'll never be blessed to meet in person. But I want to thank you for the opportunity to serve as your grand master.

Respectfully submitted: Charles E. Cathey, Past Grand Master

Joseph Montfort The Man and The Medal Named For Him By Past Grand Master Charles E. Cathey

(Docket No. 39)

Who is Joseph Montfort and why do we present a medal with his name on it? Our grand master has asked me to briefly tell a little bit about this man and the medal we have named for him.

Joseph Montfort was born in England in 1724. It is believed that he received his Masonic degrees in England prior to coming to America.

He came to Halifax, North Carolina sometime in the mid 1700s. Halifax was an important settlement at that time since it was the upper limit of navigation on the Roanoke River. Halifax was where the Provincial Congress was held and where the Colonial money was printed. Joseph Montfort was active in Provincial affairs, serving as clerk of the court of Halifax County, Treasurer of the Province of North Carolina, a colonel of Colonial Troops and a delegate to the Provincial Congress. He was a highly respected man through his public service.

The first record of his attending Royal White Hart Lodge was on April 20, 1764. Three years later in he was named master of Royal White Hart Lodge, and remained active in that position until he was appointed provincial grand master. In 1768 Montfort presented Royal White Hart Lodge a charter that he was instrumental in obtaining from the Duke of Beaufort, Grand Master of England.

On January 14, 1771 The Duke of Beaufort, Grand Master of England, signed the famous Montfort Commission, naming Joseph Montfort "Grand Master of and for America." Since that time there has been much discussion about whether his jurisdiction was intended to be only North Carolina or if it extended further. If you are a student of Masonic history there is a great deal of information available for research on this subject. I might add that he did two things that may have indicated that he considered his authority to cover more than just North Carolina. In 1775 Joseph Montfort chartered Cabin Point Lodge No. 7, in Virginia, and also every warrant he issued from Halifax always bore the initials G.M.A. (Grand Master America) at the top of the page.

Joseph Montfort did not serve in the Revolutionary War as he died in 1776 near the beginning of the war. He was 52 years old when he died. He was buried in an unmarked grave near the church that he attended. However in 1911 his body was exhumed and buried on the grounds of Royal White Hart Lodge No. 2 and a monument was erected over the grave.

When the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina was formed the four lodges that Joseph Montfort had chartered here in North Carolina were a part of that organization.

Although North Carolina had men who served as deputy grand masters before and after Montfort, he was the only man to serve North Carolina as grand master during the Colonial period.

How appropriate it was that the Grand Lodge by resolution ordered that a medal be struck commemorating Joseph Montfort, in recognition of the life and character of this great Mason and of his place in American Freemasonry. And that it would be given to masons who had shown the same dedication and devotion that Joseph Montfort had shown.

We read the following in The Code:

REG. 80-1 JOSEPH MONTFORT MEDAL.

The Grand Lodge has established a medal or emblem to be known as the 'Joseph Montfort Medal ' to be presented by the Grand Master to any Master Mason in good standing and recognized by this Grand Lodge, who in the opinion of the Grand Master is deserving thereof because of distinguished Masonic service or achievement.

- 1. Not more than three Joseph Montfort Medals shall be presented in any one term of a Grand Master.
- 2. The cost of the medal shall be borne by the Grand Lodge, and no duplicate shall be provided at the expense of the Grand Lodge.
- 3. It shall be made of silver or a metal of like color. The design shall be as shown in Regulation 89-11.

The design consists of a metal bar, in the center of which appears the square and compass. Suspended from this bar by two chains of three links each is a circular metal piece approximately one and one-half inches in diameter. On the outer rim of this disc,on the front aide, are the words, "Joseph Montfort, Provincial Grand Master." In the center of the square and compass is the letter, "G", in the customary place. The letters "N. C." are placed one on each side of the upper portion of the compass. Under the point of the square is the date, 1771. On the reverse side of the metal disc are the words, "The Grand Lodge of North Carolina, A. F. & A. M." and in the center the words, "Presented to (Recipient's name) for meritorious service." These words are followed by a blank space, for inscribing the appropriate date.

The first Joseph Montfort Medals were presented by J. Edward Allen in 1940. In 1961 a resolution was passed by the delegates at Grand Lodge increasing the number of Montfort medals from three to five that could be presented each year. And for six years the grand master presented five Montfort medals. However in 1967 the number was reduced back to three and has remained at that number ever since.

Some interesting facts about the medal are: There have been 194 presented since the inception. For some reason in 1959 Grand Master James G. Johnson only presented two Montfort Medals, and in 1982 there were none presented because of the death of Grand Master Nelson B. Banks. There have been 20 Medals awarded to Masons from other grand jurisdictions. Perhaps the most noteworthy was presented by Jimmy Brewer in 1962, when he presented the Joseph Montfort Medal to Brother Harry S. Truman Past Grand Master of Missouri and former President of the United States.

Most of my information has come from four sources. The Code, The Proceedings of The Grand Lodge, Launching the Craft (Published 1975), and NOCALORE [North Carolina Lodge of Research] (Vol. 1938).

Those of you who have the book published by The Grand Lodge of North Carolina in 1975, Launching The Craft, notice that it has "Notes" at the end of the book stating that much of the information had been obtained from NOCALORE. The Vol VIII 1938 issue has an especially informative article about Joseph Montfort by J. Ray Shute, the editor of NOCALORE and the founder of The North Carolina Lodge of Research, the first Lodge of Research in the Western Hemisphere. A final interesting fact that in 1948 Grand Master Luther T. Hartsell Jr. presented a Montfort medal to J. Ray Shute, for these and many other contributions to Freemasonry.

And so in closing, Recipients of this prestigious award we, your brothers salute you.

Presentation of Masonic Youth Organizations' Representatives

Grand Master William G. Mathis introduced the speakers from the youth organizations.

Miss Joanna Elizabeth Greene, grand worthy advisor International Order of Rainbow for Girls in North Carolina delivered the following address:

What a tremendous honor it is, to be able to bring greetings from the International Order of the Rainbow for Girls in North Carolina, to such fine group of gentlemen. I would like to extend greetings from the supreme deputy in North Carolina, Mrs. Kay Letterman, and the grand worthy associate advisor in North Carolina, Miss Amy Harp, who are both truly sorry that they were not able to attend.

The title of my session this year is "Peace, Unity, and Purity." Most importantly of all, this year I am striving to promote Unity in all Masonic Organizations. We need to come together unify to build back all of our great fraternal organizations. It is my belief that all of this starts at home with the family. Remember a Rainbow girl now could someday be a Mason's wife, Rainbow girl's mother. All Mason's need to encourage their family to become involved with all the branches of the Masonic organization. My Dad, a past master of his lodge gave my Mom encouragement to join Eastern Star, he urged my sister and myself to join Rainbow and get involved. It so inspired my brother that as soon as he turned 21, he petitioned the lodge and is now a Master Mason. We need to be good Masonic Heads of the Household. Without the Masonic support and encouragement all of our organizations are going to fail. Rainbow in North Carolina is in its final years unless something is done. I personally invite each and everyone of you to attend our Grand Session- next June 24th and 25th, 2001 at the North Raleigh Hilton in Raleigh.

Miss Amanda Hatfield, Miss Carolina's Job's Daughter delivered the following address:

Most Worshipful Grand Master Mathis, Deputy Grand Master Tillet, distinguished officers and East, and Master Masons of North Carolina:

Good Afternoon.

It is an honor for me to be asked to address this assembly. For many years now the principles of Masonry have been one of my strongest guiding lights, and I believe it is very important for you to be reminded of what a large impact your teachings and actions have upon the members of all the Masonic youth orders.

Job's Daughters sprang from the mind of Mrs. Ethel T. Wead Mick, a lady of the Eastern Star and the wife of a Master Mason. The Ritual was based on the Biblical book of Job, in the hope that the Order's members would find inspiration for dealing with their own trials in the timeless story of the man who would not be shaken from his faith.

To this primary lesson were added others straight from the blue lodge floor. Job's Daughters strives to teach reverence for God, respect for parents and guardians, and most importantly, the firm, unshakable moral convictions that are befitting of all people. In keeping with other Masonic orders, Job's Daughters also places a high emphasis on charity and philanthropy. We strive to feel the love of all people that gives a sincere desire to defend the helpless and relieve the suffering. Job's Daughters has its own philanthropic project, which we call HIKE, or the Hearing Impaired Kids Endowment Fund. Through this project, Bethels around the world raise money to purchase hearing aids and other equipment for needy deaf children.

As Masonic youth, we are ever looking forward to the day when we put childhood behind us and move on to the adult world of Masonry. Someday, it will be our duty to carry on the work that was started when we were young. As the children of Masonry, it is our duty and our privilege.

The legacy of Masonry is one of the deepest inspirations a person can have. Masonry means so many different things. It means never doubting the wisdom and goodness of God, no matter what trials we face. It means acting in accordance with the loftiest moral principles, even when we scale the heights alone. It means accepting the good and bad in every person with grace and charity, and never failing to come to the aid of someone in need. Yes, these are the things Masonry means.

But Masonry is not perfect, and neither is Masonic youth. Everyone here has seen some trouble. We have all seen membership numbers fall, charters revoked, and friendships and alliances torn apart by disasters that came from nowhere. At some point or another, we all arrive at the same place, wondering if we have what it takes to make this work. I think we do. When we commit ourselves to what Masonry is meant to be, instead of Masonry as we find it, we cannot grow but stronger. And I promise you, that as long as you do not give up then neither will your youth orders. We are all in this together. As you prepare to go forth into the world, mindful of the level and square and looking for light, may it be with the knowledge that your Masonic youth members are right behind you, watching and reaming. And when you can go no farther, we will take up your burdens, and make our own square comers, and do our best to achieve the visions you have labored over for generations. And for that thrilling, terrifying opportunity, you have our deepest, most heartfelt thanks.

Thank You.

Mr. Allen Spain Jr., State Master Councilor, Order of DeMolay delivered the following address:

I would like to thank all of you for inviting DeMolay to come down once again and giving us the opportunity to speak to you. I take it as a great honor that I was the one chosen to speak this year.

When I was only fourteen years old, a young man came to me and talked to me about a fraternity called the Order of DeMolay. He took me out for dinner and spoke of all the wonderful things that DeMolay teaches the young man. It sounded great, but how little did I know. When I went through my degrees, I never imagined that I would be the DeMolay to come down and speak to The Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons in North Carolina, but the further I got in the Order the more it meant to me.

Recently a tragedy fell upon our great nation. A tragedy that got a lot of people thinking about their future and where their lives were headed. A tragedy that also brought out the virtues which DeMolay teaches:

 $\it Filial\ Love\ -$ Families are spending more time with one another and they are talking more. They are becoming stronger.

Reverence for Sacred Things — Faiths are becoming deeper as people are praying all across our nation. As they are putting all their trust in God.

Courtesy — People are being nicer, not only to their friends, but they are reaching out to aid strangers in need.

Comradeship — Brothers, sisters, friends, and all Americans have come together to do the impossible, to put our differences aside and stand as one.

Fidelity — People have filled empty promises. They have made up for their mistakes and they have set things right in their own lives.

Cleanliness — People are having more thoughts of what they can do to help others, and not what they can do to help themselves. They have given proof of their thoughts through their actions and their words

Patriotism — Americans have come together as one behind their country. Have you ever seen so many flags flying? How long has it been since you've seen our entire country stand behind our leader and behind those great documents which make our country what it is today?

The events of September 11, will help remind us all to stand together as upright citizens. I know I will never forget where I was when planes crashed into the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. Or what I was doing when the President of the United States declared our country in the highest state of defense possible.

Many young men were called to the relief of suffering and to the defense of our country. Many more young men will go and fight so that we may feel safe when we lay down to go to sleep at night.

Today's youth is tomorrow's future. Today's DeMolay is tomorrow's Mason.

DeMolay is at a low right now. We are hurting when it comes to active membership. We not only need to get new members, but we need to get our inactive members back.

With this great tragedy falling upon our nation, the good is bursting out of people as their lives are changing for the better. Now is the time to find new members. Now is the time to reach out and make good men better. So please if you know any young man between the ages of twelve and twenty-one, please get them an application.

Help the Order of DeMolay shape today's young man into tomorrow's Mason!

Thank you.

Report of The Committee On Necrology

(Docket No. 43)

Nuggets in the Sand

Henry Ward Beecher shares the illustration that "if one should give me a dish of sand and tell me there were particles of iron in it, I might look for them with my clumsy fingers and be unable to detect them; but let me take a magnet and sweep through it and now would it draw to itself the almost invisible particles by the mere power of affection.

The unthankful heart, like my finger in the sand, discovers no mercies; but let the thankful heart sweep through the day as the magnet finds the iron, so it will find, in every hour, some heavenly blessings, only the iron in God's sand is gold!"

I use this illustration to stress to all of us that God moves His mighty hands through our lives and fortunately He finds those people who are strong in their faith and willing to open their hearts to be of service to humanity. Today we remember faithful Masons who knelt at the sacred after and through their obligations committed to God that they would serve to the best of their abilities. Some of these men may have had many talents while others may have had only a few talents, but to us, all of these men were our brothers and to God they were nuggets of gold and we will surely miss them. These men touched our lives in special ways, maybe through coaching us, helping with projects, attending our lodge meetings, or through their involvement in our communities. In some way, each of these brethren stood out in a unique way and we are grateful they were a part of our lives.

When our day arrives to separate from this earthly life, and only God knows when that moment will come, hopefully we can be as these brothers we remember today, who have stood before God and heard those beautiful words, "well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Remember brethren, God is moving His hands across our lives every day, and as He moves His hands, hopefully He will find nuggets of gold in the way we act, speak, and live our lives.

> Respectfully submitted, David R. Grissom, Chairman

Joseph Montfort Medals:

During this Annual Communication I shall present three Joseph Montfort Medals to worthy and deserving brothers.

Acknowledgments

To Brother Charles A. Lewis Jr., senior grand warden and Brother Ronnie D. Graves, grand tyler, my sincere gratitude for all the love and support that you have shown to me as traveling companions this year. I recognize and appreciate the efforts on your part and the inconvenience you have had to endure.

To Brother E. J. Highsmith, grand chaplain, my gratitude to you for your prayers for me. I have felt their affect.

To all the Grand Lodge officers, boards, commissions and committees, thank you for your unequaled dedication. I hope that the unfounded criticism that we have endured this year by a vocal few has not tarnished the many good accomplishments we have made.

To the Craft, may God richly bless you all as we practice this "Beautiful System of Morality."

To the officers and members of my lodge, King Solomon Lodge 138, thank you for all your fraternal love and support this year. Many past grand masters have said that after becoming a Grand Lodge officer they feel as if they are no longer accepted in their lodges as they once were. I have not felt this, in fact, quite the opposite.

To Brother William B. Brunk, past grand master, thank you for affording me this great opportunity to serve our gentle Craft. It is my sincere hope and prayer that I have given you no cause to regret your appointment.

To Brothers H. Lloyd Wilkerson, Joseph Montfort Medal recipient, James Earl Vann, George F. Jones, Ralph V. Shipton and Brother William L. Mills III and Brothers William H. Simpson, Charles M. Ingram, Walter F. McCall, Thomas W. Gregory, Lester P. Martin Jr., Richard G. Moore, and Charles E. Cathey, I am eternally in your debt. You were always there with good council, an attentive ear and willing hands when I needed you.

To all the staff at all our Masonic facilities, thank you for your dedication to our united efforts to aid love and ease pain for our residents.

To the clerical staff at the Grand Lodge Executive Offices, Cornelia Doherty, Frankie Harles, and Paula Strother, I fear that often your efforts for the most part go unacknowledged, but I assure you they do not go unnoticed nor unappreciated. Thank you. Also, I hope I will always be worthy to be remembered by you as "Po."

To Brother T. Walton Clapp III, Joseph Montfort Medal recipient, and grand secretary; Brother Richard E. Carter, Joseph Montfort Medal recipient, and editor of The North Carolina Mason; Brother James L. Medlin, director of development; Brother David R. Grissom, Joseph Montfort Medal recipient, and administrator of the Masonic Home for Children; and Brother John A. Rose, administrator of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, thank you from all the Masons in our grand jurisdiction for what you do for Masonry. Also thank you for your companionship, council, encouragement and support during our many miles of travel this year. You brethren have left me with a renewed sense of the spirit of Freemasonry. Were it not for our gentle Craft it is highly probable that our paths would have never crossed. Yet we are brothers in all the good meaning of the word.

To my wife of 33 plus years, DeVonna Ann King Mathis, who is truly in the best sense of the words my love. You have been my strongest supporter, best advocate, harshest critic, uncallused conscience, sounding board, and devils advocate for all of which I am eternally grateful. I pray that it is the will of God that we have many more years together in quieter surroundings of the rural life style we so much enjoy. There is no way to account for or compensate for the sacrifices you have made for me during my Masonic career. I am sure there have been times when you would have preferred to do other things, yet did not, and assisted where you could.

Recommendations:

- 1. That the North Carolina Grand Lodge continue to support and participate in the World Conference of Grand Lodges and the Grand Masters Conference of North America.
- 2. That the North Carolina Grand Lodge withdraw from the Southeastern Masonic Conference and seek membership in another conference
- 3. That the ad hoc Commissions on Fraternal Relations and Strategic Planning become permanent commissions.
- 4. That a concerted effort be made by all Masons within this grand jurisdiction to distance themselves from the efforts of some to paralyze and cripple Freemasonry due to panic over loss of membership.
- 5. That the practice of Craft Masonry become paramount to each Mason in this grand jurisdiction and not the accumulation of numbers.
- 6. That the Grand Lodge continue its efforts to secure recognition of Prince Hall Masonry in North Carolina.
- 7. That the Grand Lodge pursue possibilities for divesting itself of its executive offices in Raleigh.
- 8. That the overall operation of the business office of the Grand Lodge be scrutinized for consideration of restructuring.

Accomplishments

It is my belief that there have been two accomplishments this year; one tangible and one intangible.

The tangible accomplishment is that after several months of adjustment and tweeking, the grandfather clock in the Grand Master's Office in Raleigh is regulated and keeping good time.

The intangible accomplishment is that I believe in some small way many of us have begun to think and, more particularly, rethink Freemasonry. To rethink its deeper meaning and its timeless role in society as "a beautiful system of morality." By so doing I trust that we will resolve to cease trying to make that which is uncommon, common. To resist the trend of promoting the vulgar, the plebeian and the base and truly promote the refined, the enlightened, and the cultured and persist in our efforts to "make good men better."

Conclusion

Brethren in my travels this year, and they have been extensive, I have repeatedly offered the following quote; "Nothing is so firmly believed as what is least known." It is a statement I believe to be as appropriate today as it was four centuries ago when de Montaign first pinned it. We, and I mean all of us, from the grand master to the youngest entered apprentice must educate ourselves to the deeper meaning of Freemasonry. We must get beyond the idea of fraternity and seek true brotherhood. If not we will only grow further and further apart. Freemasonry is a house divided, but it does not have to be so.

Rev. Billy Graham tells of his experience of being injected with cholera serum for a trip to India. He said by injecting a small amount of the bacteria into the blood stream, the body is able to build up an immunity to the disease thus warding off illness if greater amounts of the bacteria is contacted. He went on to say that religion is like that. If you are exposed to just a little, you will never get alot. What a dramatic parallel to Freemasonry. If exposed to only a little, one can be immune to receiving a lot.

It has not been my intention to fix blame, believe me, there is plenty of blame to go around, but to try to identify the problem. I thought for a while that the problem stemmed from race. However, I have, after much reflection concluded that I was wrong. The real underlying problem, as I see it; the reason for the divisiveness we are experiencing, is lack of understanding of certain basic principles. In other words Masonic ignorance. Race was and is just the catalyst that brought all the controversy to a head. Thus giving greater credence to the quote from de Montaign. "Nothing is so firmly believed as what is least known."

Thomas Jefferson reminded us over two centuries ago that "we can differ in opinion without differing in principle". Quite true, but we must first understand the principle. We have on the one hand heard arguments for "no change" by comparisons made of Freemasonry and the decline of Coca-Cola when it got away from Classic Coke and its need to return to what made it great. On the other end of the spectrum, "the need for change", is the argument that the United States Revenue Code and the North Carolina Tax Code and the threat they carry, could revoke our tax status, and the myriad of arguments in between.

Clearly brethren, we must return to basics, we must agree on principle. But what basics — and what principle? Did Coca-Cola return to its "original recipe"? I think most of us know the answer to that. If we embrace the analogy of Coca Cola then what do we return to. If we think that racial segregation is the answer then we have confused history with heritage as we so often do. Clearly our history is one of racial segregation. But equally clear is that our heritage is not that of racial segregation at all if the "internal qualifications that recommend a man to be made a Mason" are truly a Masonic principle and not some unattainable myth.

As for being under the heel of the Departments of Revenue, that is always with us. But we can never allow it to force us into thinking that our efforts are material only. Modern Freemasonry has always had for its building material the hearts and minds of good men and not that of bricks and mortar. If we allow ourselves to be coerced by fear of loss of property or loss of tax status, then we will never find that spiritual property that allows us to transition from being a fraternity to that of a true brotherhood. One of our principles is that of "friendship, morality and brotherly love" and not "tax exempt, status."

These issues have been and are fraught with emotion and the victim in all this has been one of our greatest qualities — tolerance. When emotion rules and we attack each other personally rather than the issues, then we are no longer differing in opinion but that of principle. When we stoop to refusing to speak to a brother or shake his hand because of his opinions, we are no longer differing in opinion, but that of principle. When we feel justified to introduce legislation that ignores order, logic, and justice and merely reflects personal whims, selfish motives, or private agendas, then we are no longer differing in opinion, but that of principle, all the while tolerance being trampled under the heel of bigotry.

The religion of Freemasonry never has been one of faith—but of doubt. Doubt in that it has always encouraged the question, "why," often not without trepidation, I might add. Yet ever mindful of doing the right things for the right reasons in search of that illusive right answer; "because it is right when good prevails over evil".

If it is so illusive, how do we know when we have succeeded? Ralph Waldo Emerson tells us that "Success is to laugh often and love much, to win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children, to earn the approbation of honest citizens and endure the betrayal of false friends, to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others, to give of oneself, to leave the world a bit better whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition, to have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived — THIS IS TO HAVE SUCCEEDED."

Amos 5:24.

Respectfully submitted, Grand Master William G. Mathis

Grand Master's Five-Star Lodge Awards

(Docket No. 49)

The following report of the North Carolina Masonic development officer on the Grand Master's Five-Star Program was read, entered on the record, and referred to the Board of General Purposes:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Most Worshipful Grand Master, Most Worshipful Past Grand Masters, Distinguished East, Brethren: The Year 2000 was another great year for our North Carolina Masonic Charities. Our lodges and friends sent over $2.4 million dollars to our children and elder brothers and sisters for support last year. Our average growth in annual donations has been over 12% per year for the last five years—or since the inception of the Grand Master's Five-Star Program.

Today, due to time restraints, I cannot call all of the lodges to the front as we have done in the past; we have 119 Grand Master Five-Star Lodges. We will properly recognize all Five Star Lodges at another time, in another way; However, I would like to recognize the Five-Star Lodges who have been in the program the longest since it very beginning in 1996—the Platinum Awards.

There are 16 Lodges in this category; I am going to call these lodges, their master or his designee, to come to the East and ask them to come upon the stage to be greeted by Grand Master Mathis.

The Grand Master's Five-Star Platinum Award: these are the lodges that performed with dedicated service over the past five years to our North Carolina Masonic Charities. As I call the Lodge, The Master or his designee, please get up from your chair and come forward as quickly as possible. Come to the stage, be greeted by the Grand Master, and wait for full recognition by this Grand Annual Communications Assembly.

The Lodges are:

St. John's Lodge No. 4, Kinston
Millbrook Lodge No. 97, Raleigh
Cary Lodge No. 198, Cary
Long Creek Lodge No. 205, Huntersville
Hickory Lodge No. 343, Hickory
Snow Lodge No. 363, Boone
University Lodge No. 408, Chapel Hill
Bula Lodge No. 409, Burlington
Lexington Lodge No. 473, Lexington
Revolution Lodge No. 552, Greensboro
Riverside Lodge No. 606, Catawba

Round Peak Lodge No. 616, Mt. Airy Elberta Lodge No. 654, West End Creasy Proctor Lodge No. 679, Fayetteville West Gate Lodge No. 738, Charlotte James K. Polk Lodge No. 759, Pineville

Brethren, these lodges sent over $1,200,000 to our children and elder brothers and sisters over the past five years. The average lodge in this category sent over $15,000 each year in annual contributions to our charities! Truly, great performance and wonderful gifts.

Thank you Brothers, let's give these lodges a big hand for wonderful performance!

Brethren, in the back of the auditorium are the Grand Master's Five-Star Awards on display. Go by and look at these lodges,... carry back to your Lodge the message to "work in 2001 and 2002 to become a Five-Star Lodge." For those recipient lodges please don't forget to pick up your plaques and certificates before your leave!

Finally Brethren, I belong to two national organizations the Association of Fundraising Professionals and the National Society of Planned Giving. Recently, I received this message:

"The events of last Tuesday, September 11, have touched us all. The shocking images of airplanes crashing into the World Trade Center, the unimaginable sadness of thousands of family and friends still missing; the unsettling feeling that our sense of security has been badly shaken... and the uncertainty of what happens next. These are the thoughts and images that keep coming back to remind us that, as much as we try, it isn't quite business as usual, at least not yet.

"So what does this mean for all of us who work on behalf of non-profit (charitable) institutions, who work in the field of philanthropy?... These institutions that you, our colleagues, our friends, our Brothers, so dearly love and graciously support, (these special places that you annually support as safe havens for our children and elder brothers and sisters) are the institutions that are the very foundation of a free and democratic society, the hallmarks of a civilized nation... and it is essential that they continue to be strong."!!!

Thank you Brethren, as always, it has been my pleasure and honor to serve as the development officer for our North Carolina Masonic Charities!

May God bless our Masonic Homes and God bless America!

Report of the Committee on Finance

(Docket No. 51)

The following report of the Committee on Finance was presented by Dan C. Rice, adopted by sections, and then adopted as a whole.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

We recommend the North Carolina Masonic Foundation, Inc. divide the earnings between the Masonic Home for Children at Oxford and the Masonic and Eastern Star Home.

We recommend the Charity Fund transfer $10,000 to the NC Masonic Foundation, Inc.

We recommend that $10,000 of General Fund "Reserve Fund" be transferred to the Building and Office Reserve Fund.

Clarification: In the past the Finance Committee has permitted the grand master the authority to take actions necessary to provide changes in committee allotments, etc. that appeared needed for the best interest of the Grand Lodge. Since the grand master and the Masonic Foundation have authority under The Code already, the Finance Committee sees no reason to pass any further motions in this area.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMITTEE ON MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Your Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence respectfully submits the following report. For convenient reference, we use the same subjects, titles and subdivisions of the Address of the Grand Master, as used by him or the Docket Number used in any report, or other documents submitted for our consideration and action in all of our references to those matters and subjects. To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Orders of Grand Master Charles E. Cathey Order No. 1

It has been brought to my attention by the Grand Secretary's Office that Roman Eagle Lodge No. 550 elected W.M.C. to receive the degrees on May 18, 2000, without the Petition for the Degrees having been laid over the required 28 days. The ballot taken on May 18, 2000 is clearly illegal under the positive language of Regulation 73-13 of The Code, and is, therefore, NULL and VOID.

Since the grand master is empowered to order another ballot in cases of this kind, I hereby order a reballot to Roman Eagle Lodge No. 550 at the stated communication to be held on June 15, 2000.

This order shall be read to the lodge at the next stated communication entered on the minutes of that communication and a proper notation made on the margin of the minutes for June 15, 2000, referring to this Order and the date it was recorded in the minutes.

Given under my hand and seal at Canton, North Carolina, this $14^{\rm th}$ day of June, 2000.

The Committee recommended that the grand master's order be affirmed.

The Grand Lodge affirmed the grand masters' order.

Order No. 2

Whereas, for the past several years, members of Dunn's Rock Lodge No. 267 have promulgated controversy with grand masters, past grand masters and committees of the Grand Lodge and,

Whereas, numerous attempts to settle the issues pertaining to this situation have gone unheeded, and

Whereas, a commission has been appointed to fully investigate this matter, and

Whereas, the conclusions of the completed investigation have been presented to and studied by me,

I hereby find as follows:

- 1. The lodge has had disagreements with the Eastern Star Chapter using its facility for many years. From this disagreement, a conflict surfaced between Dunn's Rock Lodge No. 267, T.J.C., secretary and then Grand Master William H. Simpson.
- 2. The Eastern Star Chapter vacated the facilities after negotiations with the lodge failed.
- 3. The grand secretary attempted to settle the issue with Brothers T.J.C. and PGM Simpson on various occasions.
- 4. Brother T.J.C. stated in a 1997 letter that since he has not received an apology from PGM Simpson, that he would proceed with his threat to cause problems for the Grand Lodge.
- 5. In 1998, Grand Master Gerry Smith attempted to settle the issue with an order to cease and desist. His investigation deemed that the charges made by Brother T.J.C. were unfounded. On consultation, it was decided that an order was too strong for the situation and then GM Smith wrote a letter formally requesting the principals place all issues behind them and the lodge.
- 6. Brother G.H. mailed a letter to all lodges in this jurisdiction under the letterhead of the lodge and without the knowledge or approval of the Master or the lodge, this being, in the opinion of the Commission, an act of un-Masonic conduct.
- 7. Much of the information in Brother H.'s letter was obtained by Brother B.B. according to phone log in the Grand Lodge and Oasis Temple.
- 8. Despite Brother H.'s testimony that he was the sole author of the letter to all lodges, the Commission believes that others were involved.
- 9. Brother B., proclaiming himself assistant secretary in his conversations with the grand Ssecretary, endeavored to gain information purportedly demanded by the members of his lodge. The master of the lodge indicated that the lodge had not requested any information.
 - 10. The Commission feels that Bros. C., H., and B., have carried on a continuous and un-Masonic criticism of the administration of the Grand Lodge through the terms of three grand masters.

IT IS THEREFORE MY ORDER THAT:

- 11. All claims against Brother William Simpson, PGM be dropped and no more references to this issue be made at any Masonic gatherings.
- 12. Brother T.J.C. is hereby removed from the office of secretary immediately and is prohibited from holding any office (pro-tem or otherwise) or serving on any committee in any subordinate lodge in North Carolina for a period of seven years from this date.
- 13. Brother G.H. is hereby removed from the office of senior warden immediately and is prohibited from holding any office (protem or otherwise) or serving on any committee in any subordinate lodge in North Carolina for a period of seven years from this date.
- 14. Brother B.H.B. is hereby removed from the office of steward immediately and is prohibited from holding any office (pro-tem or otherwise) or serving on any committee in any subordinate lodge in North Carolina for a period of seven years from this date.
- 15. I direct that Past Grand Master Ray Norris, the 60 District deputy grand master, and/or their authorized representatives attend all stated communications of the lodge for a one year period and after review make recommendations to succeeding grand masters.
- 16. A copy of the minutes of each communication shall be forwarded to the grand secretary for three years.

Failure to comply with any stipulations of this ORDER shall be considered just and immediate cause to direct the judge advocate to prefer charges of un-Masonic conduct.

This Order shall be read to the lodge at the stated communication to be held on August 24, 2000, and entered on the minutes of that communication.

Given under my hand and seal at Canton, North Carolina this $16^{\rm th}$ day of August AD 2000; AL 6000

The Committee recommended that the grand master's order be affirmed.

The Grand Lodge affirmed the grand masters' order.

Order No. 3

It has been brought to my attention by the Grand Secretary's Office that West Asheville Lodge No. 665 received the Application for Affiliation of W.R.S. on June 5, 2000. On June 19, 2000 we received information that Brother S. was elected to membership before the twenty-eight (28) days required by The Code as described below.

The ballot taken on June 19, 2000, to elect Brother W.R.S. is clearly illegal under the positive language of Regulation 75-11 of

The Code, and is, therefore, NULL and VOID.

Since the grand master is empowered to order another ballot in cases of this kind, I hereby order a reballot for West Asheville Lodge No. 665 at the next stated communication to be held on the November 6, 2000.

This Order shall be read to the lodge at the stated communication on November 6, 2000, entered on the minutes of that communication and a proper notation made on the margin of the minutes for June 19, 2000, referring to the Order and the date it was recorded in the minutes.

Given under my hand and seal at Canton, North Carolina, this 19th day of October, 2000.

The Committee recommended that the grand master's order be affirmed.

The Grand Lodge affirmed the grand masters' order.

Order No. 4

Earlier this year, a small group of Masons caused a letter, signed by the masters of Revolution Lodge No. 552 and P. P. Turner Lodge No. 746, to be mailed to each lodge in our grand jurisdiction. Lodges were urged to question the competency of the Board and administrator of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home. It urged the lodges to ask questions themselves. The letter contained false statements and had an improper tone.

I appointed a special commission to investigate the matter. I have had a conference with that commission and others to make a determination of fact and opinion.

The Findings

A small group of Masons in Revolution and P. P. Turner have exhibited a history of complaining and spreading charges regarding the Home. That history includes the circulation of an audio tape to other lodges around the state as well as circulating materials written by others. Some of those participating in the ongoing complaining and the spreading of innuendo did so out of personal malice toward the Home's administrator.

The letter sent to lodges around the state was inflammatory. It was part of a whispering campaign that spread innuendo of wrong doing with no proof or basis in fact. It was aimed at disturbing the Craft rather than curing any problem. Such behavior, in the end, serves only to damage the fraternity. It disrupts and does a disservice to us all. Not just the administrator of the Home, but all Masons in North Carolina, had their motives and competency put into question.

By innuendo, the letter impugns the good name of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home by inferring that the Home suffers from poor management by its Board of Directors, its administrator, and the grand master. It questions the integrity of each MESH Board member, every worthy grand matron who has co-chaired, and every Grand Master who has chaired the Board in the last four years.

Assailing the good name of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home threatens to reduce the contributions to the Home. This is, in fact, the chief threat used here by this group to exert undue influence on the business of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home. Such threats are un-Masonic. Further, such threats to Home income are a direct threat to the welfare of those brothers and sisters dependent upon the care of the Home.

Those involved knew the chain of command to handle such complaints, but, according to testimony, avoided using them due to a distrust of the Grand Lodge. Distrust is not a justification for inflammatory rhetoric. Their overt disrespect for Masonic authorities in communicating such charges to all lodges further infers improper behavior by those officers. In testimony, it was said that the lodges in question intentionally avoided the grand master and MESH Board of Directors due to lack of faith that it would be taken care of.

Several witnesses defended the circulated letter by saying that it made no accusations, but only asked questions. This is not a viable defense. The technicality of their defense has no place in Masonic Law. The whispering and innuendo of the letter is perhaps an even more devious and destructive form of attack. It allows the imagination of the recipient to expand the charges without the opportunity of the accused to make a response.

The Orders

It is my order that Revolution Lodge No. 552 and P. P. Turner Lodge No. 746 are hereby reprimanded for their action in the distribution of this letter. They are admonished to better consider the motivations and actions of those who might encourage their lodge to take up their personal campaigns.

It is further my order that H.G.W., master of Revolution 552; W.D.M., secretary of Revolution 552; W.A.H., master of P. P. Turner 746; C.A.P. of P.P. Turner 746; and C.M.R. be hereby immediately removed from all lodge offices, boards, commissions, and committees including temple boards for malfeasance and dereliction of their duties in allowing their lodges to be used for ill-considered un-Masonic purposes. They have allowed their lodges to be used in an attempt to improperly incite the Craft statewide. They may not hold any such office for a period of five years.

I further order that, due to questions arising from conflicting testimony as to fact during my Commission's hearings, those involved are hereby bound over to the judge advocate for his further investigation and for such action as the judge advocate may deem appropriate. Nothing in this order should be considered as requiring or forbidding further action by the judge advocate including filing charges against individuals who may not be previously mentioned in this investigation.

I direct that this order shall be delivered to each lodge in our grand jurisdiction, and that it be read at their next stated communication

Given under my hand and seal at Raleigh, North Carolina this tenth day of November, AD 2000; AL 6000.

The Committee recommended that the grand master's order be affirmed.

Order No. 2

The Grand Secretary has forwarded to me the file on Brother K.S.C., Entered Apprentice in your lodge. From the information supplied, Brother C. was initiated in your lodge on August 2, 1999 and subsequently passed his proficiency August 23, 1999. He then moved to Brownsville, Texas without continuing his degree work. In April 2001, Brother Cross requested to complete his degrees and was informed that he would need to fill out a form titled Application for Advancement after six months. The lodge read the application and after the required waiting period, it was rejected.

The ballot taken on June 11, 2001 is clearly illegal under the positive language of Regulation 73-8 of The Code, and is, therefore, NULL and VOID.

The candidate is not in default but he cannot be advanced until he again shows proficiency by examination in open lodge. No application or ballot shall be required in such a case, and he shall be entitled to the privileges of the highest degree he has attained.

Order No. 3

Edict

Whereas, it has been brought to the attention of The Grand Lodge of North Carolina that attempts have been made to revive the Rite of Memphis in North Carolina; and

Whereas, several Masons have asked if it were proper for them to involve themselves in such a revival; and

Whereas, we have made inquiries of various national appendant Masonic bodies; and

Whereas, we have investigated the Rite of Memphis and its current controlling body;

It is therefore my finding:

That the Grand College of Rites of the United States of America is the controlling body of the Rite of Memphis in North America; and,

That Grand College of Rites of the United States of America has expressly forbidden that the Rite of Memphis be conducted for any purpose other that educational exemplification; and

That any other use of the degrees and titles of the Rite of Memphis in our state without the express permission and blessing of the Grand College of Rites of the United States of America is improper and un-Masonic; and

That the revival attempt in question is clearly clandestine.

All Freemasons of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina are hereby ordered to cease and desist any such activities in connection with Rite of Memphis except as authorized by this Grand Lodge and the Grand College of Rites of the United States of America.

Amendment Group 6

This amendment would allow a man to petition any lodge in the state regardless of his address. Waivers of jurisdiction would no longer be needed.

Amend the following regulation to read as follows:

CHAPTER 42

Subordinate Lodge Jurisdiction

REG. 42-1 TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION. The territorial jurisdiction of each lodge in this state is limited to the territory lying within the state,

- 1. A Chartered lodge may permanently change its meeting place from one building to another in the same city, town, village or location designated in its charter without procuring the consent of any other lodge or the Grand Master. Such change may be made by amending the by-lawsof the lodge as provided in Regulation 44-7 (Art.24). [13-3.8.G; 38-4.1; 38-4.2; 42-3; 43-5; 44-7 (Art.8); 45-7; 71-141.
- 2. When a contiguous grand jurisdiction has or shall enact a like provision as to this Grand Jurisdiction and shall give its concurrence thereto, a lodge in this Grand Jurisdiction may act upon the petition of a resident of such other grand jurisdiction for the degrees in any case where the petitioner resides nearer to the lodge in this Grand Jurisdiction than to a lodge in the jurisdiction of his residence. In all cases of such reciprocal enactment the same right is extended to such grand jurisdiction as to residents of this Grand Jurisdiction. [39-7.1; 57-1.7].

- REG. 42-2 RESIDENCE. Every regular lodge whether working under a charter or a dispensation, while such authority remains in force, shall have the exclusive right to confer the degrees of Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft, and Master Mason on all qualified petitioners resident in its territorial jurisdiction.
- 1. No lodge shall possess jurisdiction over any petitioner for the degrees in Masonry until he shall have been a resident for six months within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina.
- REG. 42-3 RESIDENCE. Residence required as qualification of a petitioner for the degrees is defined to mean the present location or place where the petitioner himself actually is: where he has his being.
- 1. Intent does not necessarily control unless actions demonstrate and conform to intent. [66-3].
- 2. Residence is not determined solely by the location or place which the petitioner may call home or legal residence, or where his wife and family may live or where he votes or pays his taxes. It may be, but is not necessarily, the same as the foregoing or as the civil term domicile
- 3. The intent and meaning of residence is that the petitioner for the degrees in Masonry in this Grand Jurisdiction shall, himself, actually be continuously within the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge for six months.
- 4. If he takes occasional trips for business or pleasure outside jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge for any length of time but regularly returns to the place from which he sets out, his qualification as to residence will not be affected.
- 5. By way of illustration, but not as conclusive of all questions, the residence of a petitioner is as follows:
- A. If he has established a permanent home or domicile which is unquestioned and if he lives there continuously for the prescribed time, the place or location of such home is his residence.
- B. If he travels the greater part of the time and regularly for the prescribed time returns to one place when his schedule of traveling is completed, his residence is at the place to which he regularly returns
- C. If he has his dwelling place at one place and his business, work, or vocation at another place and for the prescribed time he regularly and continuously returns to his dwelling place after the conclusion of his business, the place of his dwelling is his residence.
- D. If he holds a government or business position that makes it to his interest and convenience, or makes it necessary, that he reside with or without his family at a given place, and such residence has been continuous for the prescribed time, then that place is his residence.

E. If he enters any branch of the armed forces of the United States the place in this state which was his residence, as defined under this regulation at the time of his entry, shall continue to be such until he establishes a proper residence elsewhere. A lodge in this state may receive and act upon petitions for the degrees of members of any branch of the armed forces of the United States who have been stationed within its jurisdiction the prescribed time. This Grand Jurisdiction does not claim exclusive jurisdiction over residents of North Carolina in the armed forces who are stationed outside of this state. Any resident of this state in the armed forces may wherever stationed apply for the degrees to the lodge in North Carolina which had jurisdiction when he entered such armed forces, or he may petition a lodge for the degrees in this, or in another grand jurisdiction, which may have acquired jurisdiction. [66-3]

F. The residence of a student while attending school is that of his parents if he returns to them during vacations. His attendance at school is presumed to be for a temporary purpose only and without intent to establish a new residence. Should he declare his residence to be at the place where he attends school, the lodge having jurisdiction may receive his petition after the time prescribed in that jurisdiction has elapsed following the date of such declaration.

REG. 42-4 COURTESY WORK. Lodges in this Grand Jurisdiction may confer degrees for each other by mutual agreement. A lodge in North Carolina may confer degrees for a lodge in another grand jurisdiction, or it may request a lodge in another grand jurisdiction to confer degrees for it. The performance of courtesy work by a lodge confers no jurisdiction on it. Jurisdiction is retained by the lodge that elected the petitioner. [71-10; 71-10.2; 43-11].

REG. 42-5 PERPETUAL JURISDICTION. The doctrine of perpetual jurisdiction over a rejected profane, either within or without this Grand Jurisdiction, is not recognized by this Grand Lodge. When a rejected petitioner removes from the territorial jurisdiction of the lodge which rejected him, that lodge loses all jurisdiction over him except that no other lodge may receive his petition for six months following the rejection. [42-9].

REG. 42-6 APPLICATION FOR AFFILIATION. Each lodge has jurisdiction to receive and act on the application for affiliation of any Master Mason regardless of whether his residence is within or without the state. [75-1; 75-8; 75-1].

REG. 42-7 UNFINISHED MATERIAL. By electing a qualified petitioner to receive the degrees, a lodge acquires exclusive jurisdiction to initiate and advance him and retains it unless the election is voided by failure of the lodge to initiate the petitioner or failure of the petitioner to present himself for initiation with in one year of his election. [64-4.3; 68-12; 69-2; 71-10; 71-10.2]. By conferring the degree of Entered Apprentice upon its own candidate, a lodge acquires exclusive jurisdiction to advance him and retains it for all time. [73-4.2; 75-18; 101-3]. A lodge retains exclusive and perpetual jurisdiction over all candidates it has rejected for advancement. [73-6].

REG. 42-8 PETITIONER OF A DEFUNCT LODGE. A petitioner for the degrees, rejected by a lodge whose charter has been surrendered or revoked, does not because of the surrender or revocation of charter become the material of another lodge. He may apply for the degrees to any lodge of this Grand Lodge six months after the rejection. [42-16; 42-6; 49-11].

REG. 42-9 LODGE UNDER DISPENSATION. A petitioner for the degrees who has been rejected by a lodge under dispensation remains the material of such lodge after it has been granted a charter.

REG. 42-10 REJECTED PETITIONER. A petitioner for the degrees rejected by a lodge having concurrent jurisdiction cannot petition another lodge within six months following the date of his rejection.

REG. 42-11 NATURALIZATION NOT REQUIRED. A profane need not be a naturalized citizen of the United States to petition and be made a Mason in a North Carolina lodge. [66-5].

REG. 42-12 NO BEARING ON TRIAL PROCEEDINGS. All Masonic charges are preferred before and all trials are conducted by the Grand Lodge. The jurisdiction of subordinate lodges has no bearing on trial proceedings.

Report of the Commission on Fraternal Relations

(Docket No. 54)

The following report of the Commission on Fraternal Relations was presented by former Governor of North Carolina Honorable James G. Martin.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

Most Worshipful Grand Master, Officers of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, Past Grand Masters, Distinguished Masonic Guests, My Brethren:

Once again, I speak to you in Brotherly Love and Respect. It was my honor to address the 206th Annual Communication in Raleigh on April 20, 1993. My subject was the patriotic heritage of Freemasonry, particularly as it flourished in North Carolina.

Today, I appear on behalf of a special commission appointed by our Grand Master William G. Mathis. The purpose of this commission is to examine the prospects for fraternal recognition of another grand lodge operating in North Carolina, and to present to the Grand Lodge in due time such resolutions as we may propose. Let me say that we have organized and begun our study of this matter, and will be ready with a proposal to submit at a later time. I speak to you today because we believe that the great importance of this issue makes it proper to bring an advisory report to you well in advance, so that through you, our Brother Masons will better understand what we are doing, and also what we are not doing.

This COFR consists of four Master Masons. Brother James G. Exum Jr., of Greensboro, is chairman of the Committee. Other members, in addition to myself, are Brother James S. Lofton, of Raleigh, and Brother Lacy H. Thornburg, of Webster. We have met three times, all within the hospitality of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home in Greensboro.

Our immediate focus of attention has been to discern the appropriate relationship for this, the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, with another body, namely the Grand Lodge Prince Hall of Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, also referred to within and without as Prince Hall Masons.

Since the time of the American Revolution, there has been notable growth in numbers and reputation of that separate and distinct Order of Freemasonry, both nationally, and in its jurisdiction comprising the State of North Carolina. As is understood by Brethren subject to this, our Grand Lodge, the membership of Prince Hall Freemasons all are men, almost entirely of African-American descent. In all other respects, they present elements of character, bearing, monotheism, and public distinction not unlike our own membership.

Pursuant to our initial inquiry, the grand master of Prince Hall Masons has appointed a similar committee on recognition, to examine this same question from their side.

So far as we know, there has been no initiative on their part other than this parallel response to our initiative. We know that they have an equally proud fraternal heritage, which they have every intention of preserving and building... as do we.

In recent years, beginning with Connecticut in 1989, there have been similar initiatives for mutual recognition among a number of grand lodges in other states. To date, no less than 33 of 51 US Grand Lodges of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons have duly approved inter-visitation and for full recognition of Prince Hall Freemasons in their own states. Typically, the action has been for mutual, bilateral recognition, and none has proposed or approved any merger or dual membership. It is also fair to note that all of these 33 sister grand lodges are in the northern and western states, with none in the Southern states having taken such action.

For various reasons, we in our Committee believe that some similar manner of mutual recognition is in order here, and should be considered. While there are other Masonic bodies that would not qualify for such recognition, it is important to note that Prince Hall Masons have charters deriving from the United Grand Lodge of England, just as do we. Every evidence we have observed affirms that their standards of conduct and decorum and obligation are exceptionally high, both in their Masonic activities and beyond, just as we expect they will conclude regarding our own. We find no prohibition in Masonic jurisprudence based upon racial or lodges of AF & A Masons in America.

Myth and legend to the contrary, there is nothing inherently "clandestine" about Prince Hall Freemasonry. What that term means is that any grand jurisdiction that has not been granted recognition is for that reason differentiated as clandestine. Once recognition is granted to such a grand lodge, it can no longer be deemed clandestine.

In short, the lineage and heritage, the work and stature of Prince Hall Masons are attributes worthy of respect, and we as a committee have concluded that mutual recognition is the right thing to do. The particulars that will define this relationship will be fully developed at the time that a proposal is submitted for action. We believe, at minimum, that the essential terms of recognition would entail a workable and orderly procedure for visitation of Freemasons vouchsafed by one grand lodge at regular meetings of lodges under the jurisdiction of the other grand lodge. The absolute sovereignty of each grand lodge would be retained and promoted, and each would continue as an autonomous grand jurisdiction.

We, therefore, wish to give due notice of our intention to submit for consideration at the next Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina a Resolution of Mutual Recognition of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina and Jurisdictions, Inc, with the expectation that it will be disposed of according to the regular order.

In anticipation of that matter being placed on the future agenda, the committee will be pleased to receive communication from any Master Mason who wishes to offer guidance and comment on this subject. In the spirit of brotherly love and respect, we invite any expressions of views in that same fraternal spirit. We ask that such communications be addressed to us c/o this, the Grand Lodge of AF & A Masons of North Carolina, so that our correspondence will be maintained within the bounds of fraternal confidentiality.

This issue has been discussed before among some of our Brethren, but may be a new subject for many to consider. For that reason, the committee believes that the fair and honorable thing is to give advance notice of our purpose and intent, so that there will be no surprise or sense of being "railroaded" into abrupt action without due notice and full deliberation.

This issue has been before this Grand Lodge since 1947. With an improvement in race relations and understanding, there has been a growing readiness in some Southern States, including Virginia and North Carolina to begin a more enlightened consideration of the universality of Freemasonry. As a large majority of our sister grand lodges in America have affirmed the legitimacy of Prince Hall Freemasonry, there can be no pretense of any Masonic Principle that would deny granting the same recognition to Prince Hall Masons as we have granted to other grand jurisdictions.

Even more compelling is the need to settle this issue in a way that will advance the future of Freemasonry. America today is a land of equality of opportunity. It is a bastion for religious and philosophical tolerance. Few of our young men hold to views on racial separation such as were more common only decades ago. There is still a propensity for "birds of a feather to flock together," but there is very little acceptance today of rules or organizations that would compel segregation based on race. That is why today there are no statutory social distinctions in Masonry.

Our Committee does not find a basis for merger of these two sovereign grand lodges. We do find a clear basis for "regularizing" relations between them. Our proposal will be ready for your consideration next year. We join with you all in urging all Brethren, of whatever predisposition, to seek the guidance of Almighty God, the Father of us all, and the Grand Architect of all creation, as we deliberate.

Respectfully submitted, James G. Martin

Report of the Committee On Charters and Dispensations

(Docket No. 55)

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

The Committee on Charters and Dispensations has met to consider the following requests:

- 1. We have received a petition from John A. Nichols Lodge No. 650 to change its name and be issued a duplicate charter. John A. Nichols Lodge No. 650 and West Asheville Lodge No. 665 have agreed to merge into a new lodge to be known as Nichols-West Asheville Lodge No. 650. The Grand Master has approved the merger which will be effective January 1, 2002. It is the recommendation of this committee that a duplicate charter be issued under the name of Nichols-West Asheville Lodge No. 650, AF & AM.
- 2. White Stone Lodge No. 155, AF & AM; William T. Bain Lodge No. 231, AF & AM; Fuquay Lodge No. 258, AF & AM; Green Level Lodge No. 277, AF & AM; Wake Forest Lodge No. 282, AF & A.M; Wendell Lodge No. 565, AF & AM; Zebulon Lodge No. 609, AF & AM; Rolesville Lodge No. 683, AF & AM; approved a resolution to join in the concurrent jurisdiction with the other lodge in Wake County. All of the lodges in Wake County having had concurrent jurisdiction have approved the resolution allowing the above mentioned lodges to join the concurrent jurisdiction. One lodge in Wake County that is NOT included in this petition is Holly Springs Lodge No. 115. Holly Springs Lodge rejected the application and will therefor require them to obtain waivers of jurisdiction on anyone petitioning their lodge outside the corporate limits of Holly Springs. Therefore, it is the recommendation of the committee to allow these lodges to join in the concurrent jurisdiction of Wake County.

Respectfully submitted, Guilford W. Bass Bobby J. Kitchen

Amendment Group 5

Group 5 includes two conflicting proposals. Both proposals concern Chapter 50 of The Code which deals with visitation.

Amendment Group 5 A

The amendments under this Group would strip the Master of the Lodge of the power to determine who may sit in Lodge as a visitor.

Amend regulation 50-5.7 to read as follows:

- 7. —If the question of admission arises between a visiting Mason and a member, the Master should regard the wishes of the member in preference to those of the visitor.
- No visitor can be admitted into a lodge if a member of such lodge makes an objection. Such objection shall not extend beyond the communication at which it is made and shall not be recorded.

REG. 59-2 MASTER.

Some, but not all, of the powers of the Master of a lodge which are also duties to be performed by him, or at his direction and under his supervision, are as follows.

7. He may decide who shall be admitted to the lodge and he may deny admission to a visitor.

Submitted by: James B. McLaughlin, PM Mint Hill Lodge No. 742

Amendment Group 5b

The amendments under this Group would remove unnecessary provisions from Chapter 50 on Visitation and would make clear that a member's right to object to a visitor is subject to the power of the Master to determine who may visit the Lodge.

Amend Chapter 50 by repealing Reg. 50-4 and 50-5 and by amending 50-1 through 50-3 to read as follows:

CHAPTER 50. Visitation

REG. 50-1 RIGHT OF VISITATION.

A Master Mason in good standing has the right to visit another lodge, and he should not be deprived of that right without very good cause. The right is subject to the provisions of Chapter 51 concerning avouchment, the authority of the Master, and the right of a member to object. pursuant to Regulation 50 5.

REG. 50-2 APPRENTICES AND FELLOW CRAFT.

An Entered Apprentice or a Fellow Craft in good standing and not in default may be admitted to visit any lodge other than his own when open on the degree he has attained only by courtesy of the presiding officer and provided no member objects. [71-10; 73-6; 74-2].

- An Entered Apprentice or a Fellow Craft has no right to such visitation.
- 2. An Entered Apprentice or a Fellow Craft cannot be examined for avouchment, nor can he visit any lodge other than his own unless the presiding officer of such lodge shall have personal knowledge of his status or a known Master Mason in the presence of such presiding officer shall have knowledge of his status and saw the candidate advanced to the degree he claims to have received, or that he has lawful Masonic knowledge that he has advanced to that degree.

REG. 50-3 CLANDESTINE VISITORS PROHIBITED.

A member of a lodge under the jurisdiction of a Grand Lodge not recognized by this Grand Lodge is not permitted to visit a lodge in this jurisdiction. No visitor shall be admitted to a lodge in this jurisdiction who is not a Master Mason and, at the time of visitation, a member in good standing in a regular lodge recognized by the Grand Lodge. A Mason who is not thus qualified cannot enjoy any of the rights and benefits of Masonry in this jurisdiction.

REG. 50-4 VISITOR MUST BE AVOUCHED.

No brother shall be admitted to any lodge or the Grand Lodge in this jurisdiction unless lawfully vouched for as a Master Mason in good standing. Taking up the Word in a subordinate lodge or the Grand Lodge does not dispense with the necessity for his being properly examined or vouched for.

REC. 50 5 PREROCATIVE OF THE MASTER.

It is the prerogative of the Master to say who shall and who shall not be admitted as a visitor to his lodge, subject to the right of a member to object as provided in this Regulation, and for the abuse thereof the Master shall be accountable only to the Grand Master and the Grand Lodge.

- 1. —Only a member of a lodge has the right to object to the presence or the admission of a visiting Mason.
- 2. It is a personal right and may be communicated privately to the Master.
- 3. —It shall not be exercised by proxy.
- Objection made to the Master by a member to a proposed visitor shall not be valid during the absence of the objector.

- 5. —A member cannot object and the Master cannot exclude a Grand Lodge Officer, the District Deputy Grand Master, or District Deputy Grand Lecturer when making an official visitation.
- 6. A member cannot object to the visitation of a candidate on whom a degree is being conferred for another lodge after the degree has started.
- 7. —If the question of admission arises between a visiting Mason and a member, the Master should regard the wishes of the member in preference to those of the visitor.
- 8. If a member of a lodge objects to sitting with a visiting Mason and the latter is asked to leave, the visitor cannot as a right demand the name of the objector or the grounds of his objection.
- The Master cannot require a member to give his reasons for objecting to the presence of a visiting Mason, nor can the member be disciplined for objecting.

SECTION 2-2. Sovereignty of the Grand Lodge.

The sovereignty of the Grand Lodge touching upon all Masonic matters within, but not outside of, its territorial boundary is full and complete and any of its subordinate lodges has the right to receive the petition of any profane for the degrees or the application of any nonaffiliated Mason for affiliation who possess the physical, mental, moral and residential qualifications that may be required by the Constitution, Regulations, and Laws of the Grand Lodge. al jurisdiction unless by compact (mutual consent) approved by of this Grand Lodge.

Amend 10-1 by adding subsection B, C and renumber present B to D to read as follows:

SECTION. 10-1. Manner of Amendment.

James A. Johnson Lodge 413 A.F. & A. M. Louisburg, NC

Amendment Group 14

The amendments under this Group would reduce the number of voting members of the Grand Lodge. At the September 2001 Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge 961 brothers registered as principal officers of subordinate lodges or their proxies, 28 brothers registered as DDGL's, 34 brothers registered as DDGM's, 45 brothers registered as members of Boards, Committees and Commissions, 16 brothers registered as grand officers, and 16 brothers registered as past elective grand officers. This proposal would have eliminated 135 votes in the 2001 Grand Lodge. At the September 2002 Annual Communication 1143 brothers will be eligible to register as principal officers of subordinate lodges or their proxies, 41 brothers will be eligible to register as DDGL's, 41 brothers will be eligible to register as DDGM's, 124 brothers will be eligible to register as members of Boards, Committees and Commissions, 18 brothers will be eligible to register as grand lodge officers, and 19 brothers will be eligible to register as past elective grand lodge officers. Amendment Group 3

Group 3 includes two similar but distinct proposals which concern opening the Lodge on a degree other than the Master Masons degree to conduct business.

Amendment Group 3A

Group 3A would return North Carolina to the former practice still common in many Grand Lodges around the world of conducting all business on the Entered Apprentice degree. The proposal as submitted specifically requested "Amend any other regulations required to conform to this amendment." The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence has referred Group 3A to the Code Commission pursuant to that request.

Amend Regulation 45-9 to read as follows:

REG. 45-9 DEGREE ON WHICH LODGE OPENED.

All business shall be transacted in a Master Mason's Lodge an Entered Apprentices Lodge, except proficiency, examinations. and degree work in the first and second and third degrees, or the discipline of Entered Apprentices and Fellow Craft and Master Masons as provided in Chapter 100.

- A subordinate lodge shall be opened and closed on the degree of Entered Apprentice in Form, and on the third degree in Due Form, except when the Grand master opens and presides, then they shall be opened and closed in Ample Form.
- 2. The representatives of the three Lesser Lights shall be lighted at all times when a lodge is opened on the Degree of Entered Apprentice. It shall be optional whether they be lighted at any other time when the lodge is open. Their place shall be in a triangular position near the altar.

Amend any other regulations required to conform to this amendment.

Submitted by: Western Star Lodge No. 91

Amendment Group 3B

Group 3B would allow North Carolina Lodges to conduct business on either the Entered Apprentice, the Fellow Craft, or the Master Mason degree. The proposal as submitted does not address the considerations as to whether an Entered Apprentice and Fellow Craft should pay dues or vote. The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence has referred Group 3B to the Code Commission for this reason.

The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence hopes that the Code Commission and the proposers of Groups 3A and 3B will agree on a common proposal for consideration in 2003.

Amend Section 45-9 to read:

REG. 45-9 DEGREE ON WHICH LODGE OPENED.

The business of the lodge shall be transacted may be conducted in a Master Mason's Lodge except proficiency, examinations. and degree work in the first and second degrees, or the discipline of Fellow Craft and Master Masons as provided in Chapter 100. lodge opened on the First, Second, or Third Degree at the discretion of the Master of the lodge or the Acting Master in the absence of the Master.

- Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts may attend business meetings of the lodge provided the lodge is not opened on a degree higher than that which they have attained.
 - A. An Entered Apprentice or Fellow Craft shall not have a vote on any matter or petition brought before the lodge although he may have a voice on matters proper to be discussed in open lodge.
 - B. An Entered Apprentice or Fellow Craft may fill the place of a vacant appointed officer from time to time but shall not be appointed or installed to any office.
 - C. Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts are not members of the Lodge and therefore do not enjoy the benefits of membership of the lodge except that they may receive Masonic funeral rites pursuant to chapter 82. [74-2; 76-2; 77-2; 82-7].
- 2. Stated communications opened on the first or second degree shall be OPENED FOR THE DISPATCH OF BUSINESS and CLOSED UNTIL THE NEXT STATED COMMUNICATION UNLESS SOONER CONVENED.
- 3. A subordinate lodge shall be opened and closed on the degree of Master Mason in Due Form and on the first and second degrees in Form, except when the Grand Master opens and presides, then they shall be opened and closed in Ample Form.
- 4. The representatives of the three lesser light shall be lighted at all times when a lodge is open on the Degree of Entered Apprentice. It shall be optional whether they be lighted at any other time when the lodge is open. Their places shall be in a triangular position near the altar.

Amend Section 45-18 to read:

REG. 45-18 MASTER MASON'S LODGE CLOSED.

Every Master Mason's Lodge shall be closed until the next stated communication unless sooner convened. Lodges of Entered Apprentice and Fellow Craft Masons shall be closed without date except as specified in 45-9.2.

Amend Section 74-2 to read:

REG. 74-2 STATUS.

Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts are Masons of their respective degrees but shall not be permitted to participate in nor to receive Masonic burial, nor shall they be subject to dues. They are not members of the lodge and as such are entitled to Masonic burial, they are not members of the lodge and are not subject to dues.

Amendment Group 4

The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence has referred the resolution of Bingham Lodge # 272, reported here as Amendment Group 4, to The Code Commission as the "appropriate committee" under the resolution.

We the members of Bingham Lodge #272 in Mebane, North Carolina are concerned that a man can be elected for the degrees of Masonry and be initiated and/or passed and for some reason not be able to advance within six months. Then he may apply for advancement after six months and be denied by one black cube. The problem is then two fold; first, the lodge is stuck with a person who is not a member and cannot become a member but is connected with that lodge until he dies. Second, he cannot go to another lodge to become a Master Mason. Often this man would be a wonderful mason, but is forever stuck in limbo. We believe this to be wronging both the Masonry and the man.

We therefore propose that The Code be changed to allow the man to be released from the lodge he is bound to and to be able to petition another lodge for the degrees of Masonry. This could be done in two possible ways; first to be able to resign from the lodge or second, to be able to transfer to another lodge to continue receiving the degrees.

We leave it up to the appropriate committee to come up with the proper wording to propose as the wording to go into The Code if approved by the Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

Amendment Group 5

Amendment Group 5 as presented is not in proper form for consideration by the Grand Lodge. Among other considerations the proposal calls on the Committee on Masonic Education to develop a "test." The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence is unable to determine either whether such a test can be developed or if such an undertaking is possible, whether the Committee on Masonic Education is willing to undertake the task. The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence does not believe this proposal should be submitted for consideration by the Grand Lodge until the proposed "test" is also available for consideration.

Amend Reg. 53-2 to add the following subsection:

REG. 53-2 QUALIFICATIONS.

The qualifications of the officers of a lodge shall be as follows:

10. One of the most important duties of an officer of a Lodge is to administer and ensure compliance with the Code within his Lodge. Therefore, before being considered for an ELECTIVE office in the Lodge, a candidate must pass a written test that demonstrates that he has sufficient knowledge of the Code to find regulations related to matters that directly impact the business of a lodge. This test will be "open book" since the idea is to make certain that the candidate knows how to use the Code. The test will be developed by the Grand Lodge Education Committee and will be administered in the Lodge by the Master or a knowledgeable Brother appointed by the Master. Upon passing the test, the candidate will have this noted in the minutes of the next Stated Communication of his Lodge and it will be so noted on the Report of Doings of that communication and in his permanent record in the archives of the Lodge. A letter attesting his passing the test will be signed by the Master of the Lodge and attested by the Secretary over the Seal of the Lodge. This will be done on an "honor system" within each lodge as its purpose is to educate, not to eliminate, potential candidates for elective office. Appointed officers should be encouraged in the study of the Code while they are coming up the appointive line.

As with the required third degree catechism, once passed, the result is for life. Former elective officers who go through the line again will not be required to be retested. A test from a former Lodge shall carry over should the brother demit to another lodge.

Should an appointive officer be advanced during the year due to a vacancy, he has until the next Annual Stated Communication to pass profiency to allow him to be lawfully elected to a full term.

Amendment Group 6

The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence was unable to determine that these proposed amendments made any change in the existing Masonic Law or what change the proposers intended to make.

Amend REG. 36-3 to add the following:

REG. 36-3 SOLE OBJECT OF ALL DEBATE.

The sole object of all debate in the Grand Lodge or in subordinate lodges is to elicit decisions which shall be for the good of the Craft. Hence, all questions under discussion must be positively determined at the time, or final action must be postponed to a definitely stated time when the question must again be resumed and finally decided. Master Masons in good standing of Lodges in North Carolina, who are attending the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge, may, with the permission of the Grand Master, take part in debate subject to the same rules as Members. Though they have no vote and may present no motions or seconds to motions, ANY Master Mason shall have the right to be heard, unless debate has been restricted in accordance with other regulations of The Code.

Amend Chapter 3 to add the following:

SECTION 3-6. Master Masons Other than Members Who Attend the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge.

Master Masons in good standing of Lodges in North Carolina, who are attending the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge, may, with the permission of the Grand Master, take part in debate subject to the same rules as Members. Though they have no vote and may present no motions or seconds to motions, ANY Master Mason shall have the right to be heard, unless debate has been restricted in accordance with other regulations of the Code.

Amendment Group 7

In practice the amendments under this Group would impose term limits on the Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer. The proposal does not specify how the incumbents in those offices would be treated in the event of its passage. The Grand Secretary is a full time employee of the Grand Lodge, therefore this amendment might have considerable negative impact on the finances of the Grand Lodge if it is considered and adopted. The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence suggests that the Code Commission review this proposal with the Finance Committee before allowing it to go forward.

Amend Reg. 11-7 to read as follows:

REG. 11-7 TERM OF ELECTIVE OFFICERS.

All elective grand officers shall hold office until the next annual communication or until their successors are elected and installed. No elective grand officer shall hold any single office for more than three years in succession.

Submitted by: P.P. Turner Lodge No. 746

Amendment Group 8

The proposals in this Group are not in proper form for presentation to the Grand Lodge. The proposals seem to combine in one new officer two sets of conflicting duties. One set of duties requires this officer to act as a "court appointed attorney" for any brother accused of a Masonic offense. The other set of duties makes this offices a standing prosecutor to bring charges against "officers/appointees/employees of the Grand Lodge." Without comment on the inherent divisiveness of the later set of duties, the Committee does not believe that the two sets of duties can or should be combined in a single office. The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence is also unable to determine whether the proposed officer or officers are elected or appointed or what his term of office. The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence is also troubled by the inherent conflict between the proposed officers duties to "bring action against officers/appointees/employees of the Grand Lodge" and to "perform such other duties as the Grand Master . . . may prescribe."

Amend 11-1.3 by adding the following subsection:

REG. 11-1 OFFICERS.

The elective and appointive officers of the Grand Lodge, their ranks, designations, and titles shall be as follows:

3. The appointive grand officers who shall not be installed are as follows:

6. Inspector General - Worshipful

Amend Chapter 17 by adding the following regulations:

REG. 17 - 10 DUTIES OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL.

The qualifications, selection, and duties of the Inspector General shall be as follows:

- The Inspector General (IG) shall be a Past Master in good standing, well versed in Masonic jurisprudence. He shall be nominated by the Grand Master and confirmed by the Grand Lodge. He shall not be installed and his term of office shall be two years.
- 2. The Inspector General shall perform such duties as are prescribed by the Trial Code for an Attorney for any Brother Mason accused of a Masonic offense, who requests his assistance. He is to act as the "court appointed Attorney" for that Brother.
- 3. The IG is also specifically charged to assist any Master Mason or group of Master Masons in good standing who requests his assistance to bring action against officers/appointees/employees of the Grand Lodge who are, in the opinion of the Brother(s), in violation of the Code. He is to maintain scrupulous confidentiality of the Brother(s) and to treat all conversations, correspondence, and actions with those Brethren as privileged and secret in accordance with our obligations. He is to give guidance to the Brother(s) requesting his assistance and may, at his own discretion, present charges on behalf of the Brother(s) should he feel such action is justified. He is to work closely with the Judge Advocate in such a case.

- 4. The IG may choose to not participate in an action should he determine that such action is without merit, but will advise the Brother(s) how to properly proceed should they desire to do so after seeking his advice.
- 5. The IG is to be the Advocate for those Brethren who are NOT officers of the Grand Lodge.
- 6. The IG shall also perform other such duties as the Grand Master or the Grand Lodge may prescribe. He shall work closely with the Judge Advocate in matters in which there is no conflict of interests and which do not conflict with the law of the Grand Lodge.

Amendment Group 9

The proposals in this Group are not in proper form for presentation to the Grand Lodge. The proposals add to Regulation 94-11 Rules of Evidence what purport to be Rules of Discovery. Discovery sufficient to protect the rights of any accused and well beyond the dictates of civil law is inherent in Masonic Jurisprudence. The proposal does not specify the manner in which the "discovery" it contemplates is to be accomplished. The proposal violates the most fundamental concepts of Masonic Jurisprudence by attempting to impose on the Judge Advocate an affirmative duty to violate his oath as a Master Mason.

REG. 94-11 RULES OF EVIDENCE

- 6. Discovery: As all accused Brothers are presumed innocent until proven guilty (REG 90-4), ALL documents, notes, correspondence of any kind, depositions, videotapes, audiotapes, investigating commission reports, and/or any other materials used by the Prosecution in developing charges against a Brother shall be made available to that Brother and/or his Attorney upon written request.
 - A. Any and all material that was made available to the Prosecution, whether actually used in the development of charges or not, shall be made available to the Accused Brother and/or his Attorney. A full and complete list of all such material shall be delivered to the Accused Brother at the same time and in the same manner as his charges are delivered.
 - B. The Prosecution and/or Judge Advocate, if not prosecuting the case himself, shall keep scrupulous notes of any and all private conversations and/or correspondence relating to the case from officials and employees of the Grand Lodge. This information shall be provided to the Accused Brother and/or his Attorney, without request, within five business days of receipt of such conversation/correspondence.

- C. The Prosecution and/or Judge Advocate, if not prosecuting the case himself, will notify the Accused Brother and/or his Attorney of any other conversation/correspondence relating to the case from any Mason. Such information from Masons not directly involved in the case is not to be considered privileged and shall be shared with the Accused and his Attorney.
- D. Any other conversation, correspondence, material of any kind, whether formal or informal, received by the Prosecutor and/or Judge Advocate from any source shall be shared with the Accused Brother and/or his Attorney without request within five business days of receipt.

Amendment Group 10

The proposals in this Group are not in proper form for presentation to the Grand Lodge. The proposals as submitted makes the "formation of local chapters of national Masonic clubs" a "Specific Masonic Offense" while arguably allowing the formation of clubs without such a "national" charter in lodges. The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence believes that this is the opposite of the intent of Charles M. Setzer Lodge. The Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence encourages the development and introduction of a proposal to provide for local chapters of the many well established Masonic clubs and societies that operate under national and international charters. In drafting a proposal the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence directs the attention of the Code Commission to Sec. 2-5.

Amend 86-2.26 to read as follows:

REG. 86-2 SPECIFIC MASONIC OFFENSES.

The following are specific Masonic offenses and, in certain instances, the penalty is specified. These shall not be construed as excluding any other Masonic offenses or unmasonic conduct or penalties not specifically described or enumerated in this chapter or in other chapters of THE CODE.

- 26. To participate in forming a club for social or for non Masonic purposes and to adopt the name Masonic Club, or any other name, derivation, phraseology, designation, symbol, or title peculiar to Masonry, or which would identify it with Masonry in the minds of the public or with other Masons, or to participate in forming any club within the membership of a lodge.
- 26. Allow for the formation of local chapters of national Masonic clubs or associations which are legally chartered by a recognized grand lodge and have members residing in North Carolina

AMENDMENT GROUPS ORDERED NOT PUBLISHED WITHOUT FURTHER DISPOSITION

Amendment Group 1

The amendments under this Group conflict with those provisions of The Code providing the manner in which a lodge shall conduct its business. In as much as the subject matter of the amendments under this group is adequately addressed by Amendment Group 12 ordered published for consideration at the 2002 Annual Communication, no further disposition is required.

Add SECTION 10-1, l.C. to read as follows:

C. All proposed Amendments to The Code shall be submitted by a subordinate Lodge, after unanimous vote of the Lodge, and under the seal of the Lodge, certifying approval and the date of the vote, or by a standing Committee of the Grand Lodge.

OPENING REMARKS

Clifton W. Everett Jr., Grand Treasurer, Grand Lodge of North Carolina

At the outset, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all of you to the 41st Annual Meeting of the Southeastern Masonic Conference. All of us in North Carolina are glad you were able to join us here in the Queen City of Charlotte which is not only North Carolina's largest municipality, but also one of the nation's largest banking centers. We have a full agenda planned for the day so I am not going to take up unnecessary time speaking to you this morning because I intend for us to move through this agenda in order that I can catch a flight this afternoon to join my wife in Chicago for the American Bar Association Convention.

As many of you know, in my real life I am a North Carolina Superior Court Judge. The Superior Court in North Carolina is the main state trial court where all criminal defendants are afforded their right to trial by jury. All felonies are disposed of by either pleas of guilty or trial by jury, and all misdemeanors on appeal from the lower court, which is the District Court, are afforded their chance for a jury trial. It is also the court where all large civil actions are tried and appeals from the Superior Court go directly to our North Carolina Court of Appeals or to the North Carolina Supreme Court. Therefore, I am accustomed to a busy workday. Moving through this agenda today reminds me of a situation I was presented with last December the week before Christmas recess. I was assigned to my home district in Greenville, North Carolina, for a criminal administrative session of court. An administrative session of court, for your information, is a non-jury session where criminal defendants intend to enter pleas of guilty and it usually involves a high volume of cases. I jokingly refer to it as "Monty Hall Court." That is, "Let's Make a Deal."

As I was saying, it was the last week of criminal court before Christmas and I entered the courtroom on Monday morning to a packed audience. There was not a vacant seat in the whole courtroom and all around the walls criminal defendants were standing. I assumed the bench and while still standing directed the Sheriff to open court. After this was done, I very solemnly looked around the courtroom and surveyed all of the defendants and their counsel who were then present. After a few seconds, I made the following announcement. "Ladies and gentleman, this is the last session of criminal Superior Court in Pitt County before Christmas. We have an extremely heavy calendar this week (I then held up the calendar which resembled a mini Sears and Roebuck catalog), and we are going to make every effort to get through it. If all of you defendants and all of the attorneys will be present in the courtroom when your case is called, we can move right on through this calendar and finish our business. Now, I want all of you to know that we are only going to be playing two songs here this week - you will either be hearing Burle Ives sing his version of "It's a Holly Jolly Christmas" or you will hear Elvis sing his version of "It'll be a Blue Christmas Without You." I then looked over at the District Attorney and directed that he call the morning calendar.

After calling the calendar, I asked the District Attorney what was the first order of business. He informed me it was a probation matter. He called the case and the probationer and his attorney came to the counsel table. I was informed by the probationer's attorney that he and the probation officer had reached an agreement as to the disposition of the case, was informed of the agreement, and directed that the probation officer prepare an order modifying the probation. I then asked the District Attorney to call the second matter. He did, and a middle-aged African-American woman wearing an orange jumpsuit from the detention center arose from her seat on the right side of the courtroom and moved towards the counsel table. I was informed that her name was Sudie Smith. I turned and asked, "Ms. Smith, do you have a lawyer?" "No sir," she replied. I then asked the District Attorney what her exposure was if her probation was revoked. Ninety days, I was informed. I said "Ms. Smith you have a ninety day sentence to serve if your probation is revoked, do you want a lawyer to represent you at this hearing?" "No sir," she replied. I said, "Now does that mean you do not want to hire a lawyer and you do not want me to appoint you a lawyer?" "Yes sir," she replied. "In other words," I said, "you wish to proceed to a hearing without the services of a lawyer, is that correct?" "Yes sir," she replied again. "Alright," I said, "come around to the clerk's desk and sign this paper waiving your right to have counsel." She did so, and returned to counsel table. I then turned to the District Attorney and asked, "What are her alleged violations?" He said, "Well, Judge, number one, she is behind on her money; number two, she has failed to complete her community service as directed in the court's judgment; number three, she has failed to make her office visits to the probation officer; number four, she moved from her address and failed to report this to the probation officer; and number five, she failed to obtain her assessment at the local mental health office. In other words, Judge, she has done absolutely nothing." I turned to the probationer, Ms. Smith, and asked her, "Ms. Smith, did you hear what the probation officer just said?" "Yes, sir," she replied. I then asked, "Do you admit or deny these allegations?" Without hesitation, she replied, to my utter amazement, "Oh I admit all of them Judge, go ahead and play that second song." Laughter erupted in the courtroom. I could hardly contain my own laughter. As a matter of fact, I was so impressed with the quickness of her response and her obvious understanding of my illustration that I replied, "Ms. Smith, that is absolutely the best response I have ever heard. I am going to cut thirty days right off your sentence." I did so and received a very polite "Thank you, Judge."

Now, Brethren, we are certainly not going to be playing those songs here today, but we do need to move through this agenda. I hope all of the speakers will help me do this.

WELCOME

William G. Mathis, Grand Master, Grand Lodge of North Carolina

Brethren, I would like, as Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina, to offer my most hardy welcome to you from all the Tar Heel Masons. As I am sure you already know the idea of revolution is not new to North Carolinians. We were deeply involved in both the Revolutionary War and War Between the States consequently making us familiar with revolution first hand. Therefore the theme, "The Revolutionary Brotherhood" seemed only fitting to us, as host of this conference.

Article I of the By-Laws of Governance of our Conference admonishes us to avoid making innovations into the body of Free Masonry, as I believe it should. With that in mind I offer my concern that this is already happening and has been happening for quite sometime, and for the most part we, as a conference, have chosen to sit idly by and do nothing. Such action is, in my opinion, contrary to our very existence as a viable and functioning body. The culprit, in my opinion, is ignorance on the part of the craft and disassociation on the part of its leadership as evidenced in the fact that the average Mason is paralyzed when faced with questions concerning Anchorberg and the like. While the leadership has, for the most part, just beat the air being preoccupied with one year programs that mean little and affect nothing and appearing satisfied with the exchange of personal pins and trinkets, which are little more than souvenirs. If my observation is incorrect, tell me what the Grand Masters program in your jurisdiction was ten years ago or eight or five or even three. To wit I offer the following in support of my beliefs and observations.

But first, from C. S. Lewis' The Screwtape Letters. "Screwtape points out that a person who insists that she only wants a properly made cup of tea and a small piece of crisp toast is as much a glutton as one who over indulges. She is focused on herself and on getting exactly what she wants. In addition, she takes pride in how little she eats and how much better she is than someone who eats a lot." An alarming comparison, perhaps.

"Nothing is so firmly believed as what is least known." These words come to us from the 16th century through the pen of de Montaigne. By this, foremost I believe that the writer is telling us that the mastery of basics is essential to any task if one is to stay focused. If this is true, and I believe it is, then I ask you basically and fundamentally, what is Freemasonry? We have spent lots of money and time and used reams of paper and barrels of ink telling the world "what we ain't;" to the point that in many cases many master Masons do not know what Freemasonry is. We have told the world that we are not a religion, yet we are religious in that we require a belief in God. Nor are we a charity, yet we are charitable. Nor a philanthropy, yet we are philanthropic. Nor are we a civic club or political party, yet we expect our members to be civic minded and be involved with civic and political affairs. Then, what are we?

We all know that no one can speak for Freemasonry. Freemasonry only can speak for itself. Consequently, what does it say that it is? If we look to our ritual and catechism we find a very clear and simple answer. Perhaps so clear and simple that it becomes too obvious and is therefore easily over looked. Free Masonry says of itself in some places that it is "a beautiful system of morality." In others it says that it is "a peculiar system of morality." Regardless of which adjective one chooses to use, beautiful or peculiar, Free Masonry defines itself as a "system of morality" — PERIOD. To reinforce this it tells candidates in the first degree that they are here for three reasons. First "to learn," second to "subdue their passions," and third to "improve themselves".

First, to learn: Tell me what a candidate learns when, in his travels for "light, more light and further light" he is met with laughter and frivolity and the lodge room is turned into a carnival or worse a shrine ceremonial. When he becomes the center and object of entertainment for the side line and is no longer deemed the pupil and student of deep philosophy and timeless truths. Brethren, there is nothing funny nor entertaining about the three blue lodge degrees, especially the Master's Degree. These degrees were never intended to be entertainment for the brethren on the side line or the degree cast. We are not playing a farce, this is in earnest. We are dealing with the issue of life and death and life after death. Our own supplemental information cautions us to the fact that we may be, for the first time, introducing the candidate to the deeper realization of death, burial, and resurrection. What happened to the "beautiful system of morality?"

Second, subdue his passions: I hear from secretaries on occasion of men submitting petitions for the degrees. These petitioners recommended by Master Masons knowing full well that the petitioner is living in adultery. What happened to the "beautiful system of morality" and "subduing one's passions?" As you know adultery is the product of only one of the many passions that plague mankind. If we condone and accept this, then what and then what and then what will we be willing to accept? Have we become so paralyzed by loss of membership and the myopic notion that "bigger is better at all cost" that is sweeping the business world that we are willing to sacrifice the very heart and soul of our gentle Craft? Brethren, I tell you no, I proclaim here and now that I do not give a flip about membership. Numbers have never been our objective. What we are is the product of communication from "mouth to ear" and not that of mass production. I had rather be the grand master of ten thousand practicing Masons than that of a hundred thousand members. God knows that we have members. How many Masons do we have? Again, what happened to the "beautiful system of morality?"

Third, improve himself: How does he do this? By craftiness and cunning, by expedencincy and contrivance, by gimmick and hype? No. By doing as the Galilean carpenter told us over two thousand years ago. By writing these great truths on his heart. In the vernacular of the twenty first century, by internalizing them. By making them a part of himself and even more making himself a part of them. By living out of the lodge what is professed with in it.

As humans, being subject to error as we are especially in our Masonic journey, let us learn to separate heritage from history and encourage profession and practice to be the same as we try to separate myth from fact in our search for truth.

Our heritage as well as our profession is that any God fearing good man is welcomed as a brother in our lodges. However, our history and practice have not always born this out. Bigotry in many forms, not just racial but religious, political, ethnic and even professional have been accepted at times for enlightenment. The Jew as well as the Arab, the Negro as well as the American Indian, the democrat or republican and a myriad of professionals have all felt the sting of bigotry as have many others.

Brethren, Freemasonry is a house divided! Brother against brother and in some cases lodge against lodge. When one brother finds it acceptable conduct and reasonable practice to refer to another brother as a "son of a bitch" or worse, we are divided. Yet again, what happened to the "beautiful system of morality?"

Hear what Mona Charen; a syndicated columnist, offers about the secularization of religion in America and judge if it has application to our gentle Craft. I quote:

"Americans are the most religious people in the world. More than ninety percent tell pollsters that they believe in God, forty three percent say they attend religious services at least once a week, and fifty eight percent report that religion is very important in their lives.

"But what does it really mean? When everyone from Hilary Clinton to Ralph Reed professes to be motivated by religious values, can those values have any identifiable content?

"And when society at large enshrines "tolerance" and reluctance to make moral judgments as the highest virtues, what can they be hearing at those weekly services?

"James Davidson Hunter answers that question in the spring edition of The Public Interest, and he concludes that at this moment in history the secular world view is influencing the churches far more than the churches are influencing the surrounding society.

"In particular, Mr. Hunter examines the moral education curricula at churches and synagogues around the nation, and finds that the old categories of sin, repentance and redemption are out and the therapeutic language of self-esteem and self love are in.

"There is no question that low self-esteem is associated with much pathology. But that insight has been ridden into the ground in modern America, to the point where building strong self-esteem has become a substitute for serious moral reasoning and selfexamination.

"Religion used to teach introspection in order to instill humility.

In our fear of low self-esteem, we seem to have tossed humility aside altogether. The triumph of the therapeutic has left millions of Americans without the mental equipment to make moral choices."

We say that our objective is to "improve the general condition of society by making good men better." What a noble cause. But, is this happening? Is Freemasonry improving the general condition of society or is Freemasonry being influenced like the churches by the secular world. Is it no wonder that Freemasonry is struggling to remain focused. The same men that are on the church rolls of this country are on our lodge rolls.

Several months ago I received an anonymous letter from a member from some where in eastern North Carolina. I know that because of the post mark being Kinston which is one of the several postal centers for the state. From my area all mail goes through Fayetteville.

The following three sentences are from that letter. "You ask why we are not attracting new brethren, how can you do this, when we are not suppose to ask anyone to become a Mason. They have to know about us before they want to be a part of us. I have brought 4 brethren in, DUE TO THE FACT THAT I ASKED EACH TO BECOME A MASON..."

Yet another example of Freemasonry being influenced by the secular world. This man found no shame in violating his obligation by lying to us, to himself and to God. The end in his thinking justified the means, a fact that is contemptible to men of high morals. And in so doing also made liars of the four candidates. How did this man completely miss one of the critical lesson in the Hiramic legend, constancy? Did we perhaps fail him in his journey? What happened to the "beautiful system of morality?"

Recently, I was holding a district meeting where I had touched on these same issues. At the end of every district meeting that I have held, I have left time for Q and A with the craft. A brother offered the following: "What if a man is a good man, but he is living with a woman out of wed lock, why does that disqualify him from being a Mason?" What is your answer? Is that OK? Are we being influenced by the secular world or are we improving the general condition of society?

Now do not miss understand what I am saying. I am in no way advocating "witch hunts" and the invasion of an individuals privacy. However, think not that we have no say in the public morality. When one chooses to make such public statements as living openly in adultery then it most assuredly is no longer private and becomes public business and we do have a say.

Where did this brother miss the mark or where did we fail him? In the charge of the Master's Degree we admonish the candidate "to preserve the reputation of the fraternity unsullied" and further on we say "if in the circle of your acquaintances, you find a person desirous of being initiated into Masonry, be particularly attentive not to recommend him unless you are convinced he will conform to our rules; that the honor, glory and reputation of the institution may be firmly established, and the world at large convinced of its good effects." Or are we like the woman that Screwtape described, comfortable in our own self-centered world and oblivious of our own selfishness?

Brethren, this is not a message of defeat and despair but rather one of challenge and hope. One truly fitting for a Revolutionary Brotherhood. Hardly a day goes by that we are not faced with an outcry for a return of high morals to society. The very thing that we say we are, the world is begging for. Now don't misunderstand what I am advocating. I am in no way suggesting that we throw our doors open to the world. In fact quite the opposite. What I am saying is let us resolve to cease to make that which is uncommon, common. That we become more discriminating and exclusive, more selective and there by more appealing. Making our selections and exclusions truly on the premise that good is the only factor to be considered. That it truly "is the internal and not the external qualifications of a man that recommend him to be made a Mason." Qualifications that are not tainted by race, politics, profession, culture or religion. That we live and demonstrate in our homes, churches, workplaces and communities that which we have been taught in the blue degrees. That we practice the "beautiful system of morality." That we be BROTHER MASONS.

If we will but do this, then our lodges will once again become asylums where friends and brothers can meet, where boorish conduct and bully pulpits will not exist. Where knowledge and enlightenment will abound and where we will know WHERE GOES MASONRY for the future and not have to resort to craftiness and cunning and lying as our anonymous member did, without shame, or that of accepting immorality as goodness as in the other case in point. And foremost the "beautiful system of morality" will have become reality. All the more fitting at this time in history for a Revolutionary Brotherhood. Thank you, I hope you have a very enriching conference and may God bless you all, my brethren.

(2 Chronicles 7:14)

WORLD CONFERENCE OF GRAND MASTERS REPORT

Charles A. Lewis Jr., Senior Grand Warden, Grand Lodge of North Carolina

Imagine! The month was May. The location was the Eurobuilding Hotel in Madrid, Spain. The agenda was clear — an international forum for grand masters, grand secretaries, or designees. The format was typical of such gatherings. Invitations were extended for the presentation of prepared papers. The topics included a central theme — Freemasonry, Necessary In the 21st Century. Spin-offs addressed the following issues: Have we been victims of our own success? Shall we be able to develop a procedure for universal recognition between regular grand lodges? How can we intensify dialogue between the grand lodges? And finally, does it help to open the doors of the grand lodges to the world in order to integrate society? All sessions were presented through Spanish and English translations and the proceedings will be distributed at a later date.

Grand masters and delegates from 71 countries assembled from May 24-27. Men of many faiths, many ethnic and racial backgrounds, many political backgrounds, and many histories found themselves enjoying the fellowship of universal Freemasonry. It was evident that the brethren from European constitutions were interested in the philosophical aspects of the craft. Our counterparts from Central and Latin America were captivated by the role of Freemasonry in advancing the cause of universal human rights and developing Masonic leadership typical of those who contributed to the colonial revolutionary history in the United States. The majority of the non-North American delegates perceived the delegates from Canada and the United States as promoting the charitable works of the fraternity. Nevertheless, the bonding spirit of Masonic Brotherhood came through as the central uniting focus.

The social amenities were superb and the Grand Lodge of Spain and its 2,000 members pulled out all "the stops." The amply provisioned "tapas" luncheons were greatly enjoyed. Two excellent banquets promoted the exuberant fellowship reminiscent of traditional festive boards. The delegates, ladies, and guests observed excellent cultural demonstrations of Spanish dance and music. A book and jewelry display made available a variety of scholarly works and gifts. But by far the most enlightening aspect was the interchange through informal discussion and materials brought for sharing, e.g. the Grand Oriente of Brazil publication on Masonry and the Internet.

Then there was Madrid. With its wide boulevards, its old quarter, its cafes, restaurants, Plaza Mayor, museums, parks, and people, this city was an ideal location for the Fifth World Congress. For the first time since Franco rule in Spain, the municipal authorities opened its doors in Retiro Park for a reception of grand masters and the City Council received a representative at its chambers.

Indeed, new friendships were forged. And how interesting it was to observe that the challenges of Masonry in North Carolina are shared by brethren round the globe. The next step: the Sixth World Conference in Delhi, India, in November 2002. When Anybody's Rights Are Threatened, Everybody's Rights Are Threatened

William L. Mills III, Past Deputy Grand Master, Grand Lodge of North Carolina

On January 5, 2001, I received an e-mail message from Joseph A. Walkes Jr., President of the Phylaxis Society, inviting me to present a workshop at the Society's 28th Annual Session. The Phylaxis Society is "a Society of Prince Hall Freemasons Who Seek More Light and Who Have Light To Impart." Brother Walkes invited me "to present a workshop (or talk) about the events in North Carolina."

The "events" Brother Walkes referred to occurred at the second year 2000 Annual Communication of the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina held September 16, 2000. At that communication the first ballot for Grand Master fell 26 votes short of the two-thirds majority required to elect. As Deputy Grand Master at the time, I requested the delegates not to vote for me on subsequent ballots and, having no particular function to perform as Deputy Grand Master for the remainder of the Annual Communication, retired from the dais.

Only one other time in modern history had the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina failed to advance a Deputy Grand Master. The question is fairly asked, why on this occasion, was the Deputy Grand Master not advanced?

Not surprisingly, the answer seems fairly obvious. For several years I have freely made known my opinion that the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina should recognize the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of North Carolina without qualification.

After accepting Brother Walkes' invitation and agreeing to present the same workshop at the Southeastern Masonic Conference I found myself confronted with an enormous problem. How was a white bread lawyer from a small town in North Carolina going to explain to the leaders of the Phylaxis Society the "events in North Carolina." Assuming that I managed to find the right language to communicate with the Phylaxis Society, would that language be persuasive or even palatable to members of the Southeastern Masonic Conference? After all, the Southeastern Masonic Conference is made up of the leaders of 11 of the 18 United States mainstream Grand Lodges that have not recognized the Prince Hall Grand Lodge in their respective states and represent 10 of the 11 states that made up the Confederate States of America.

Sir Winston Churchill described the American and British as "two peoples divided by a common language." The two nations at least have the excuse that they are separated by two thousand miles of ocean. Black and white Americans have no such excuse but are at least as badly divided by their common language. As Brother Walkes has pointed out, the title of Andrew Hacker's book, Two Nations: Black and White, Separate, Hostile, Unequal pretty much says it all. It is sort of like the title of the book, $Men\ are\ from\ Mars,$ $Women\ are\ from\ Venus.$

In an interview I gave The North Carolina Mason I responded to the question "What are your views on race," by saying in part, "I refuse to discuss my views on race. They are not relevant." I stand by that statement but I also will not ignore the elephant in the living room of Freemasonry. Brethren, race is the elephant in the living room of North American Masonry. We have all heard the story of the blind men describing the elephant. So long as we insist on isolating ourselves into Two Nations: Black and White, Separate, Hostile, Unequal our world views and descriptions of the elephant will remain as disjointed, contradictory, and confusing as the blind men's description of the elephant.

Race and gender are not the only factors that may dramatically alter a person's world view. In view of the chasm of life experiences that separate us I believe that I may appropriately share a bit of personal history in an attempt to give you a dim glimpse of my world view.

I was born in 1954 in Concord, North Carolina. In those days Concord, like the rest of the South, was segregated. The city schools I attended were segregated until I was in the eighth grade. The classes I later took in nominally integrated schools were segregated as a practical matter. School did not get out for Lincoln's birthday but we did get out for Confederate Memorial Day until I was in about the sixth grade.

My father had an 11th grade education and was an assistant overseer in the number one sheet department of Cannon Mills. In 1942 he joined the Army as a private, became an officer, and a highly decorated combat veteran in the European Theater. After the war he went to both college and law school. He represented two local school boards. In the early 60's he told both that Brown vs. The Board of Education was the law of the land. One school board took his advice and fully integrated, the other fired him. Some years later after racial unrest had torn our town, he obtained cross injunctions barring simultaneous marches by the KKK and the NAACP. During these tumultuous years, I believe I heard just about every excuse the white community had to offer for preserving segregation and had above average cause and opportunity to consider the legal and social implications of racism and the civil rights movement.

Until I was a freshman at the University of North Carolina in 1972 however, I'd never had a close black acquaintance near to my own age. That fall one of my suite mates was a senior and the head varsity cheerleader. His name was David Belton. I'm afraid David considered me a racist.

You see, I tried to explain to David that it just was not possible to grow up white, in the segregated South the way I had, and not have some preconceived notions that amounted to prejudices. Further, I told David that any white person born in the early nineteen fifties in the segregated South who claimed not to have any prejudices was either a liar or a fool, and since I was neither, I would acknowledge my prejudices and do my best to deal with them.

But David was not buying what I was selling, not at all. To David, if I admitted that I was prejudiced, then I was admitting that I was a racist and that was all there was to it. No matter how much we argued, David never seemed to see my point of view and I never saw his.

Although I can never fully appreciate David's point of view, through many subsequent learning experiences, I think I now understand that to grow up black in America is to know that being a little prejudiced is like being a little bit pregnant. Sister, you either is or you ain't.

Over 25 years following my conversations with David, as my views changed, I forgot that in the sixties "I am not a racist, but I am a little prejudiced" was a perfectly respectable point of view for a white man, and was even the view I had tried to sell David. Then four years ago something happened.

On June 20, 1997 the Board of General Purposes of my Grand Lodge adopted a resolution. At the time I was Senior Grand Deacon so I did not have a vote on the Board. After a discussion concerning the refusal of the master of one of our lodges to allow a black member of a recognized Grand Lodge to visit, then Grand Master Gerry T. Smith asked me to draft a resolution for consideration by the Board. With considerable help from Past Grand Master and S. G. I. G. William B. Brunk and Brother Ric Carter, I did.

The resolution begins, "Whereas, racial discrimination is abhorrent and unacceptable" and later "resolves that racial discrimination is abhorrent, unacceptable, and un-Masonic." Even though the resolution received the unanimous support of the Board of General Purposes, it was not as well received by the Craft at large as the Board might have hoped.

Not too long after the resolution was adopted that phrase I'd almost forgotten started popping up in conversations: "I'm not a racist but ... " Here is the semantic point I wish to make. When a white American and a black American describe a person as racist they don't mean the same thing, not even close. The black American means, sister you is a little bit pregnant. The white American means "gun totin, skinned head, swastika wearing, card carrying KKK member."

This difference is important. The "little bit pregnant" sort of racist resents being called a racist. Them's fight'n words.

The fact of the matter is, I've yet to meet a Mason who would look me in the eye and say, "I'm a racist and I'm proud of it, and I ain't gonna sit in no lodge with no ..." - well you know the rest. Oh, don't get me wrong, I'm sure they exist but they are so few and far between that they are not a problem. The problem is the "I'm not a racist but I ain't gonna sit in no lodge with no ..." - crowd. Brethren, at least in North Carolina, that crowd in the mainstream lodges is not as big as it would like for the leadership of the mainstream Grand Lodges to believe that it is.

This is good news. In the essay "The Anatomy of Compromise," published in Capitalism: The Unknown Ideal, Ayn Rand, set out three of the rules governing the mechanics of compromise. Listen carefully and you will understand why the remaining mainstream Grand Lodges will inevitably recognize their Prince Hall counterparts.

- 1. In any conflict between two men (or two groups) who hold the same basic principles, it is the more consistent one who wins.
- 2. In any collaboration between two men (or two groups) who hold different basic principles, it is the more evil or irrational one who wins.
- 3. When opposite basic principles are clearly and openly defined, it works to the advantage of the rational side; when they are not clearly defined, but are hidden or evaded, it works to the advantage of the irrational side.

Brethren, Masonry is rational, racism is not. When the principles of Masonry are clearly and openly defined, the racist Mason of whatever type will have to choose between Masonry and his irrational belief. If that man is a Mason, Masonry will prevail. If he is not, Masonry will lose nothing when he departs.

Brother Walkes' invitation asked me to speak "about the events" in North Carolina." As it happens there were some "events in North Carolina" that I'd like to mention that are not the events Brother Walkes had in mind. But before I do and even though it may seem a bit tardy, I think I should mention the title of these remarks. Titles are important. I've already used the titles of two books in trying to make points in these remarks.

The title of these remarks is: "When Anybody's Rights Are Threatened, Everybody's Rights Are Threatened." Now you may think that I support recognition of Prince Hall because it the right thing to do and to some extent that is true.

The truth is I'm too selfish to support Prince Hall recognition just because it's the right thing to do. I have a selfish motive, I enjoy freedom, and I understand that, "When Anybody's Rights Are Threatened, Everybody's Rights Are Threatened."

Now let me get to those events in North Carolina that Brother Walkes did not have in mind. The year is 1861. The month is May. Every state bordering on North Carolina, beginning with the high and mighty gang in South Carolina and ending with the equally self inflated bunch in Virginia, have one by one left the Union. The cadets at the Citadel, endowed as they are by the GAOTU with more courage than sense and judgment combined, have fired on Fort Sumter. President Lincoln has sent a request - no a demand - to Raleigh that North Carolina raise 50,000 troops to support the Union cause. We're surrounded and Lincoln expects us to raise a 50,000 man army to fight for his cause?! The sentiment that has prevailed in the General Assembly in the past — "we're not going to leave the Union just because we lost an election" — will not carry this day. A reluctant combatant, North Carolina sent 400,000 of her sons, more than any other state, to fight in the ensuing conflict.

The year is now 1865. The war has ended. Sherman and Sheridan have ravished the south. The Confederacy is a conquered nation under the heel of an occupying army. Wars and the way they are fought have forever changed.

The Grand Lodge of North Carolina meets and is distressed to learn that the Grand Lodge of New York is apparently setting up lodges in North Carolina, not just any lodges but, horror of horrors, lodges among the newly freed men. A committee is appointed and a report is prepared.

Brother Walkes maintains a web page titled "Bogus Black Groups." On that page Brother Walkes has a quote from that 1865 committee's report. Neither the quote Brother Walkes choose nor anything else in the report is very pretty. Had I not found the reference on Brother Walkes' page I would not have attempted to deal with it, but there it is. What's a poor boy to do?

Well, let me begin by quoting from Brother Walkes' page:

The white Grand Lodge of North Carolina who recently laughed at recognizing their Prince Hall Counterpart wrote in 1865: ... we know that the (Blacks) of the South are wholly incompetent to embrace it (Masonry). They are ignorant, uneducated, immoral, untruthful, and, intellectually they are more impotent than minority or dotage - both of which we exclude. It would be rare if any locality could furnish the requisite number of sufficient capacity to open a lodge.

Perhaps, like most of the white southern Grand Lodges, they probably called off their meetings, to go lynch some innocent Black men.

However, while the white Southern Masons were sprouting off [these] insults, there were in full operation hundreds and thousands of Prince Hall Lodges... in the South.

I will not insult either of my audiences by attempting to defend the language Brother Walkes quotes from the report. Nor have I chosen to touch on this subject to berate Brother Walkes for what might be taken as an implication that the Grand Lodge of North Carolina actually "called off [its] meetings, to go lynch some innocent black men."

I've brought up this unpleasant report, to quote what may seem to be equally offensive language from a different part, attempt to place it in proper context, and explain why I think it is relevant to the present discussion. Let me quote further from the 1865 report:

And we do allow ourselves to rest in the conviction, that we are more devoted to the best interests of the Negroes of the South, than [our Northern brethren] can possibly be. They were born in our families; we have nursed them in sickness; labored with them in the field and in the shop. We have rejoiced with them when we had much, and suffered with them when we had little ...

Near it's end the report asks rhetorically:

If they are not yet equal to the requirements of our Order, may not we be entrusted with their further development?

In no way will I attempt to defend the racism that obviously underlies the paternalistic sentiment that is expressed in these passages. That the attitude of most white Americans — whether from the north or from the south — toward African Americans in 1865 was one of racial superiority that is today considered among the grossest forms of racism, is simply an historic fact. Only a liar or fool would either deny or defend it and as indicated earlier, I consider myself neither.

Instead, I have brought up this passage to plumb the sincerity of the paternalistic sentiment by considering briefly the history of one of the report's authors, Daniel Coleman, who was a member and Master of Stokes Lodge No. 32 in Concord, North Carolina, my lodge. Now Daniel was an interesting fellow with an interesting family and some interesting ties.

On Highway 601 By-Pass on the west side of Concord there is one of those metal signs that the Daughters of the American Revolution, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and similar groups are so fond of putting on the sides of roads to mark every spot where George Washington or some other notable spent the night. This sign is a little different. It states that 350 yards north of this spot in 1897, Warren Coleman founded the first cotton mill in the nation intended to employ only black men. If you stop to read the sign and look down the hill you may be prompted to wonder if the old red brick building you observe is the mill Warren Coleman founded. It is, though following Warren Coleman's death in 1904 it became Plant Nine of Cannon Mills, which by the end of WWII was the largest producer of towels and sheets in the world, but I digress.

When I noticed the similarity of Warren and Daniel Coleman's names I was prompted to inquire if by chance Daniel was Warren's father. The answer was no. Warren's mother Roxanna, was a household slave belonging to Daniel's sister. Warren's father was however, a white man, one Rufus Barringer, General CSA. Before Warren established the mill he operated one of three General Dry Goods Stores in the central business district of Concord that was patronized by both the white and black communities. The investors in Coleman Manufacturing Company included many whites, notably Washington Duke the founder of the American Tobacco Company. A local press account noted that on February 8, 1898 the cornerstone of Warren's Mill was laid with full Masonic honors, and that James H. Young, Grand Master of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of North Carolina was in attendance. On March 28, 2001, the 152nd anniversary of his birth, Highway 601 By-pass on the west side of Concord was renamed Warren C. Coleman Boulevard.

The point of this story is that, notwithstanding the offensiveness of the language in the report, we may safely conclude that its authors did not consider themselves racists. We may further concluded that their paternalistic attitude, regardless of how inappropriate or misguided, was sincere.

There is one further more important point I wish to draw from the report. The report carries an express promise to see to the promulgation of Masonry among black men when:

any locality could furnish the requisite number of sufficient capacity to open a lodge.

The mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina did not keep this promise. Instead, like every other mainstream Grand Lodge in the United States, it abandoned the task solely to Grand Lodges of Prince Hall affiliation.

In the case of North Carolina, the reliance on and unofficial recognition of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge by the mainstream Grand Lodge is easily demonstrated. On May 23, 1973 the North Carolina General Assembly, in the process of revising the state's property tax, repealed the exemption applicable to Masonic lodges. Over the ensuing months the Grand Lodge officers worked to correct this unfortunate error. The mainstream grand master contacted the Prince Hall grand master and they jointly petitioned the General Assembly for relief. On April 11, 1974 the General Assembly corrected its earlier error by adopting an amendment to the list of property tax exemptions that reads in part:

Real and personal property belonging to the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, the Prince Hall Masonic Grand Lodge of North Carolina, their subordinate lodges and appendant bodies...

The time has long since passed for the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina to redeem its promise to extend the benefits of Masonry, in the only meaningful way it now can, by extending full Masonic recognition to its Prince Hall counterpart.

A history of broken promises however, is not the only reason that the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina, and not incidentally every other mainstream Grand Lodge in the United States that wants to maintain its claim to be a legitimate Masonic body, needs to get on with the business of recognizing the now indisputable claim of Prince Hall grand lodges to full Masonic fellowship. Recognition is central to the purpose of both Masonry and Freemasonry.

There are two topics, discussion of which is forbidden in all regular and well-governed Masonic bodies, politics and religion. From this simple observation only a modicum of insight is required to discern that these two subjects, politics and religion, are central to the art.

The politics of Masonry is the politics of consensus, those terms of governance on which all men of good conscience can agree. The religion of Masonry is true religion. Not that religion that any group, faith, or priesthood may claim to be exclusively true, but the core values, beliefs, and morality that all religions founded on belief in a Supreme Being share. Masonry recognizes no name for the Supreme Being but allows every man to seek the divine light by invoking the blessing of the Supreme Being by whatever name he may hold sacred. In place of any divine name, Masonry offers a description that invokes all and the greatest of the Supreme Being's creations, GAOTU.

As scintillating as the discussion of true religion is, in my opinion it is not primary in the discussion of mutual recognition among Masonic lodges. The subject of mutual recognition among Masonic lodges primarily involves the more mundane topic of politics.

Three centuries ago, when Freemasonry began to emerge from whatever dark recesses it theretofore occupied to hide itself from public view, all wealth and all property of value was tied to the land. Geography and its control therefore, was the chief concern of politics and government. One hundred and forty years ago the American Industrial War of 1861, more commonly known as the American Civil War, was occasioned by the shift of the wealth of the Nation away from the fabulously rich agrarian lands of the south to the industrial centers of the north. Although the abolition of slavery became the moral justification of the aggressors, that purpose was no more the cause of war in North America in 1861 than ending the Holocaust was the cause of the United States' entry into the war in Europe in 1942. Allow me to digress to offer the speculation that the worldwide abolition of slavery, a status that had existed and been accepted for all the thousands of years of recorded history, could not have been accomplished in the relative eye blink of one hundred and twenty years had it not been for two factors: (1) the shift in the basis of wealth from land to industry, and (2) the related and uniquely offensive institution of race based slavery in the United States.

The shift in the source of wealth away from the land to industry loosens the ties of politics and governance to geography. The Constitution of the United States in its design of a Federal Government as a consensual government of independent states rather than a direct government of the citizens of those states, represented an experiment in shared sovereignty anticipating the loosening of the ties of politics and governance to geography by the industrial revolution.

The process is not complete. It not only continues, it is accelerating. The acceleration is not arithmetic — it is geometric. Ray Kurzwell, in his book The Age of the Spiritual Machines, forecasts that no later than 2050 we will be confronted by machines with both transferred and totally artificial personalities that claim to be "human."

Freemasonry in its design is a perfect government, government by the expressed consent of the governed. Mutual recognition among such governments is essential to peace but nothing in the design requires or even argues for such a government to tie itself to geography, let alone claim "exclusive territorial jurisdiction."

Masonry universal does not suppose a monolithic system of belief that would premise a universal government. Instead it supposes any number of belief systems bounded only by the minimum set of common beliefs necessary to allow the several governments so promulgated to exist in harmony.

The excuse, once attributed to the mainstream Grand Lodge of New York for not extending recognition to its Prince Hall counterpart, that Masonry should have one universal Grand Lodge to which all Masons should bear allegiance, is a megalomaniacal fantasy that belongs in the dust bin of history with all other such dreams of world domination and control. No freeman of conscience would ever voluntarily subjugate himself to a government so distant and remote from his daily functions and concerns.

The principals of Freemasonry are not tied to geography. As the model of perfect government based on the expressed consent of the governed, it affords no rationale for several governments so constituted to refuse to recognize each other. If the several governments of Freemasonry refuse to recognize each other because of minor differences in the level of pigment in the skin of their subjects, what hope is there that the human race can successfully confront the racial challenges of The Age of the Spiritual Machines?

To conclude these remarks I wish to share with both of my audiences comments addressed separately to each. To the members of Prince Hall Masonry in general and of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of North Carolina in particular let me express my sincere appreciation for the truly Masonic virtues you have displayed in patiently pressing your case for recognition. With patience, perseverance, and time all things are accomplished. Yours is the right. Victory is at hand.

Though you might have sought to invoke the violent powers of the civil government to forcibly press your claim, you have displayed forbearance well beyond the literal constraints of the obligation you took to become Master Masons. Your past behavior and regular deportment point you out as the proper objects of the favor and esteem of all regular Masons.

To the leadership of the several grand lodges that are members of the Southeastern Masonic Conference, let me issue a challenge and a charge. The time to wait for the grass roots to call for recognition is past. Now is the time for leaders to lead. Harmony in the lodge is much to be desired and is a great Masonic virtue. Harmony purchased with the coin of Masonic principles is an abominable evil. A brother who would willing destroy the harmony of a lodge rather than park his prejudices before he clears the tyler's station is not a Mason. He is a cowen and eavesdropper and should be dealt with as such.

In North Carolina in April 2000, in contrast to the behavior of our Prince Hall Brothers that I have just praised, certain members of certain of mainstream lodges invoked the power of the civil magistrate to attempt to strike down a portion of their Masonic Trial Code, to avoid a Masonic trial. They were aided and abetted in this wicked cause by a member of the North Carolina State Bar who also claims membership in a mainstream lodge. Apart from any censure that may eventually be meted out to these brothers and any of their accomplices that may be exposed, counsel for the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina announced its intention to pursue dismissal of the civil action on the absence of jurisdiction until all appeals were exhausted.

Even though these members accomplished every goal stated in their complaint by somehow securing a temporary restraining order that avoided the summary trial they feared, they refused for over ten months to accept a dismissal of their case. During these months they held the Grand Lodge which they of their own free will and accord swore on the Volume of Sacred Law to support, hostage to the civil magistrate demanding that no Masonic charges be brought against them for their crimes against Masonry.

Having achieved their victory, were these members suddenly confronted by a crime, the enormity of which deprived them of the good sense and grace to appeal to those they would call Brother to display Masonic mercy? Could they so totally have missed the lessons in the second section of the master Masons degree? The answer to both questions seems to be yes.

Inasmuch as their unbridled passion over informal contacts between the officers of the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina and the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of North Carolina lie at the root of their problem, I choose these remarks as a forum to offer them and any other Mason facing similar frustration and temptation unsolicited advice. Return to the lessons of the Entered Apprentice.

Subdue your passions in order that you may learn and improve yourselves in Masonry. Having done so, discover that it is the right of every just and upright Mason to enjoy the fruits of full fraternal recognition. Seek counsel from well informed Brethren and discover that Masonic Law fully justifies the claim of Prince Hall Masons in every jurisdiction to recognition. Join me and the leaders of your grand lodge in supporting your Brothers' claim. Whether you wish to admit it or not, the Prince Hall Masons of North Carolina and every other jurisdiction are your Masonic Brothers.

The right of every Mason in every lodge in the United States to cast his ballot as his conscious dictates, without fear or intimidation, depends on such mutual recognition. If you cannot accept this, consider exercising your right to leave the Masonic fellowship the same way you entered, of your own free will and accord.

To conclude on a pleasant note, let me offer my opinion on the prospects for full fraternal recognition between the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of North Carolina and the mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina. The prospects are excellent. Recognition will come and it will come soon. Perhaps within the year. Because I hold the Commonwealth of Virginia accountable for dragging the State of North Carolina into seccession and the resulting conflict, my greatest hope is that mainstream Grand Lodge of North Carolina will gain a practical of vengeance by beating the mainstream Grand Lodge of Virginia to it.

CLOSING REMARKS

Brethren, we have had a full day. I hope all of you have enjoyed the program and will take something positive away with you as you return to your various jurisdictions. It has been an honor and privilege for me to have been asked by Grand Master to preside over this conference. As I said this morning at the outset, I am preparing to leave for Chicago immediately after we adjourn and will not have the opportunity to be with you at the social and banquet later this evening. However, I want you to know that being with you today has been a real joy. Some of you I have seen over the years as I have attended these conferences on my way up the Grand Lodge ladder and since my service as Grand Master over these last several years. Attending Masonic gatherings with fellow masons and making long-lasting friends has been one of the great pleasures in my life.

I am reminded of a story I like to tell, and which I did tell, on numerous occasions during my year as grand master as I traveled about North Carolina to various Masonic districts. It involves a former district attorney in my home district named Eli Bloom. As you might suspect, Eli was Jewish. Years ago in Eastern North Carolina, being a Jew was a rarity. Eli was a Brother Mason, Past Master of Greenville Lodge No. 284 AF & AM, and very active in the Greenville Masonic community. Eli, and his wife Etta, operated a ladies ready-to-wear clothing store in downtown Greenville, North Carolina, for many years.

In the early 1930s, Eli decided he wanted to pursue a career in law and attended a night law school in Rocky Mount, North Carolina, being operated by a retired Superior Court judge. After studying law for a number of years, Eli sat for and successfully passed the North Carolina Bar Exam and was duly licensed as an attorney. He practiced law sporadically and continued to run the ladies clothing store.

In 1941, Eli decided he wanted to seek the position of City Court prosecutor and filed for election. His opponent in the race was a very prominent Greenville lawyer named Harry Brown. Harry Brown had a well-connected family. Two of his brothers were local physicians and another brother ran the largest drug store in Greenville.

Eli knew he had his hands full. He decided the only way he could be successful in the campaign was to mount a door-to-door campaign throughout the city. He did so and campaigned vigorously. One day, while walking down the street in Greenville, Eli encountered Haywood Dail, a local merchant. As they met Eli said, "Haywood, you know I am running for City Court prosecutor, and I would very much like to have your vote and support."

Mr. Dail gave Eli a somewhat startled look and replied, "Aren't you running against Harry Brown?" Eli replied that he was.

Haywood Dail then said, "Well, Eli, you know I like you and have known you for many years, but Harry Brown is some of my folks."

"Oh!" said Eli, "I certainly did not know that you and Harry Brown were related and if I had known so, I would not have put you on the spot and asked you to vote for me over your own kin."

Mr. Dail then replied, "Well, Eli, me and Harry Brown aren't really kin, but he and I are gentile and you are, you are, err..., you are, err..., you are, Jewish."

A slight smile came over Eli's face and he said, "Well, Haywood, I see where you are coming from and I think I understand. But let me ask you this, Haywood, have you ever heard of a man named Jesus Christ?"

"Sure, Eli," Haywood responded.

"Well, I'll bet you think a whole lot of him, don't you Haywood?" "I sure do, Eli," Haywood Dail said.

"Well, Haywood, he is some of my folks," Eli replied.

That exchange impressed Haywood Dail so much that he went all over the town of Greenville telling the story of his conversation with Eli Bloom and you know what, Eli Bloom defeated Harry Brown by 41 votes.

Well, Brethren, I just wanted you to know that I consider you to be some of my folks and it has been a joy and pleasure to be with you today.
